TRAVELLING EXPENSES.

When I left Southern Minnesota, where from 1852 to 1858 I had divided my time between the care of individual churches and itinerating, and from 1858 to 1862 gave my whole time to itinerating in Western Iowa, Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Alaska, with occasional missionary trips into other regions, the question of travelling expenses became serious. Railways were infrequent and their passenger rates from 5 to 10 ¢ a mile. Stage Companies charged from 15 to 25 cents per mile, and travelling by horseback was expensive.

In the prosecution of my work as a Missionary and Pastor, I travelled between the years 1862 and 1883 over seven hundred thousand miles.

During the period that I was Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in the Rocky Mountain Territories (A. D. 1869 to 1882) my missionary journeys aggregated over miles as follows:

| | | |
|------------------------|------------------|-----------------|
| In 1869, 22,635 miles, | in 1870, 22,512, | in 1871, 22,000 |
| In 1872, 23,302, | in 1873, 23,017, | in 1874, 20,742 |
| In 1875, 17,430, | in 1876, 22,000, | in 1877, 23,245 |
| In 1878, 24,667, | in 1879, 22,000, | in 1880, 24,318 |
| In 1881, -----, | | |

If all these miles had been by railway and horseback, the travelling expenses would have approximated $21,000. If by stage $63,000.

Distributed as it was between railways, stages and horses, it would have cost approximately between $20,000 and $30,000 or $3000 a year. This amount of money for travelling expenses would have practically been prohibitive and prevented the work being done.

But in the good providence of God I was able first to secure the ordinary half fare rate (at that time extended to clergymen) and afterwards as I progressed in the work to secure free transportation over railway and stage lines from the Mississippi River to the Pacific Ocean, from Mexico to Canada, and over the Steamship lines to Alaska.

The larger number of the passes which were received, were returned to the Companies issuing them. Some of those that were, for one cause or another, not returned are here with recorded as specimens.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson

Dear Sir:

I would like to know which you would rather have me do. Send you $10.00 for the boys at Mitha, or send a box with articles, which you shall designate? My husband thinks he can send a box to Galatzburg free of expense if you can send it the rest of the way. I wish still to send a small package to a minister, and will address Reverend Taylor, Signal Agency.

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE.

Navajo Indian Agency,
January 2, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.
P.O. Box 1238 New York City.

Dear Brother:

Your letter of the 20th ultimo referring to our School here: Employe etc, is received. I have forwarded what you said and also what Mr. Kendall wrote to Mrs. and Miss Maximen at Grand Haven, Michigan, where they now reside also Mrs. Perkins letter and request to them to come - as well as the Honorable Commissioner of Indian Affairs advice to me of - under date of December 14, 1881, viz, "Replying to your communication of the 23rd ult requesting the continuance of the Navajo School for the balance of the fiscal year, I have to say that on January 1st, the contract with Mr. Kendall for carrying on the school will be renewed for six months, with a proviso allowing this office to close the school at the end of three months viz, March 31st unless a special appropriation is obtained the fund for the support of the school will be wholly exhausted by that time, but if Congress makes the appropriation, in accordance with the earnest appeal of this office, the school can be maintained throughout the year, effort will be made to obtain the appropriation etc. but at this writing I am not informed whether either for total will come or not, having left the matter with them to decide -- I have sent herewith copy of my appeal to Congress through the Indian Office for those Indians' rights under treaty in regard to schools which it seems to me are not in rightful force. But my superiors hold a different view, and while in response to my appeal they do ask Congress for $4000. for balance of this fiscal year and $10,000 next year more than they intended to do for supplies they say nothing about the unfulfilled treaty rights as regards schools, except under date of December 15, in reply to my "estimates" to wit: "In reply I have to state that the treaty with the Navajos expired with the fiscal year 1881 and if any of the stipulations contained therein were not fulfilled, it is too late to attempt to carry them out now. The present appropriation of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000) is all that Congress is disposed to give them." Another Jackson, I feel that Congress if understanding the matter are not doing right and I appeal to your influence to aid me in obtaining a proper hearing before that body. - and I can use no stronger argument than I have made through the Indian Office under date of December 15, 1881 and a copy enclosed hereto "a", and not leaving the President's office to authorize the policy of the Indian Office yet I feel reluctant to fold my hands and acquiesce in the fearful condition of these poor men.

As I understand it, the Apaches and other Indians in Arizona and New Mexico have no treaty rights - and yet under the head of "nomadic settlement and industry and support of Indians" in the act making appropriations for the year ending June 30, 1882, there was given for collecting and subsisting Apaches and other Indians of Arizona and New Mexico $300,000 and because $25,000 was given in the same act "for support and civilization of Navajo Indians including pay of employees they do not receive any benefit of the $300,000 therefore it seems a disadvantage to the Navajos that they have had an unfulfilled treaty and have been lost Indians. You having kindly said in your letter to wit: "If I can be of any assistance to you at Washington in the hastening through the Department applications of School supplies please let me know" Therefore I have thought best to endeavor to interest you in the whole subject of Navajo claims and wants, believing that by assisting all the school interests will be also best subserved and through that means, and a practical Missionary effort alluded to heretofore, the civilization of this people will - or can be reached. Merit should be rewarded - the Navajos should have at least as much as the restless, underserving Apaches and not 100 times less.

difference to any of us when we went, if we were doing right. The Great Spirit knew best and when he called we ought to be glad to go etc., to all of which he separately assented, and said that what he believed, taking this in connection with the fact that early in 1879 just about the time I came to this agency first, this same Chief killed two "Doctors" who as they often do - carried their "craft" too far and were daily using their power for selfish and unfriendly purposes - and the Indians often rose in rebellion against too strong a pressure and evince considerable resentments at times against the "Doctor's grip" - which is a reason for action in my judgment on the part of Christians - there are also at the present time 24 "whites" including the employees teachers and their families, etc. As an added reason why a man of God should be placed here - not a "Feminine" man of sectarian proclivities - only such a man as can fight the Devil and his angels in the rough will win his way to success in this field - striping theories and as also stationing certain out of the work "book".

Mr. and Mrs. Perkins moved into the new school building last week. They occupy the six lower story rooms and hall and are at work on the two upper stories - 50 and 70 is the size of new building - store with fireproof (the above and metal shingles on second story) roof, -

I have requested permission to add an addition onto the rear of the building to accommodate the wants of a kitchen and dining room etc, which will add if allowed - largely to the capacity of the school.

I have not met your Baptist Bible teacher since my return have only known of his course through the teachers here - The doctrine expounded by the Great Teacher - Matthew 13 - of seed sown in the field - appears consistent to me - and while I remain here do not wish to mingle in with the difficulties of 1874 - but do all I can for the improvement of this people which is the object of this letter.

Very respectfully,

Walter Eastman,
U.S. Indian Agent.

Salem, Oregon,
January 3, 1880.

Dear Brother Jackson:

Many thanks for your letter of December 18th, which I found awaiting my return from Southern Oregon. I found also a letter from the Board in relation to your paper, and tomorrow I shall write an answer. I shall do all in my power to advance its interests - although I am not gifted as a correspondent.

I send to your address today two(2) copies of the synod minutes as you request, and a separate copy of the "Alaska

Yours saying you had requested the Post Office Department to establish a Post Office at Klawock at hand. I have seen the postal agent here in regard to the matter and he thinks that 'tis no use to apply to anyone but the contractors if they are willing to go out of their way to leave the mail at Klawock; we can get the office without trouble. I am very anxious to get an office at Klawock and have the mail left there once a month, and anything I can do to help out it am willing to do. I will apply to the Steamship Company and see what they are willing to do in the matter. The contract to carry the mail to Alaska this year has been advertised or might include the distance to Klawock in this season.

Please advise me what you have done in the matter. Captain Sprague of Chicago says he applied to the Department at Washington to have an office at Klawock and they referred him to the contractor for carrying the mail.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I was so busy on the arrival of the last steamer getting the lumber, etc., into the church, that I could only write you a line. Have done nothing towards repairing the church yet, as the past two months have been very stormy and the roof covered with snow. The lumber is wet and green. The days are so short, we have to light up the house about 3 P.M.

We had a very severe storm on the 18th of December, our house shook so, that we could not sleep all night, and I regret to say that it levelled our bell tower with the ground. The bell is safe, but the iron frame is broken beyond repair. It landed in the rear of our home, and while we are very, very sorry that our nice bell is partially broken, we think it was very fortunate that it fell at night, otherwise it might have crushed some of our boys. It even blew part of our garden fence down. Lieutenant Murphy came up with some of the Indians and a carpenter and blocked it up, so that we used it to call the Indians to our Christmas festival, which began at 11 A.M. and ended at 1 P.M. We had a Merry Christmas indeed. Reverend J.C. Brady made an address, referring to the first meeting he held in the castle when one of the Indians was drunk and all were filthy, and most of them wore blankets. When he told them what he wished to do, start a school and a church for them, these Chiefs replied that would be very good, but white men had made them many promises before, and never kept them, and they had very little faith in what he said. In comparing their present condition with what it was then, he said, that he never expected to see so much improvement in his life-time. Our room was crowded, seats filled, floor covered and aisle blocked. Major Morris and quite a number of the citizens were present. Our only regret was that Captain Glass was absent on a cruise and was detained by the storm. The boys had been looking every day for a week to see the smoke of the Tachussetts. We were much alarmed for her safety. The children sang Christmas carols, chants, etc. to the delight of the audience, and performed part of the 84 Chapter of Hallel. All of the children were much happy with a gift of some kind. We also gave presents to the chiefs and their wives.

I received a letter from the Russian Priest a few days since, in which he stated that some of our boys were "consecrated in his church," and immediately he set to work to get them away from their "Mother's milk." If I live you his words. These boys have been baptized in that church and I let them attend it Saturday nights, on condition that they should always make me, so that I should know where they were. I delayed family worship until their return. When a boy went out evening without making, and on their return I told them, if they ever repeated the offense, I would send them away from the home. They were so frightened, they did not ask to go again and of course I said nothing to them about it. This was the cause of the letter. Last Sunday night I found out that one of the boys had stolen away and that the Priest had baptized him. I sent him away from the home at once. I told the other boys I should write you about the matter and that perhaps you would not keep any of them, unless they gave up going to that church. One of them said the other day, that he would have nothing more to do with it. I told the Priest that they might come Saturday nights, but must attend our Services on the Sabbath, also that I should not allow them to attend their holidays, etc. Please advise me in your next about the matter. Captain Glass informed me that Mr. Taylor was working about nicely with his work. Has some sixty or seventy scholars in school, and the room is filled on the Sabbath. Reverend Mr. Willard writes me that they are getting along nicely in their work and are very well encouraged. January 10th, 1852 Pioneer came in yesterday. It has quite a number of blankets, procured by Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and they say that they will send us a small quantity of best stamper. Received several blankets also, from Mr. Wheeler of Tridene. port; a nice donation from Mr. Wells, merchant, packages from various places. Have all been written all sort, letters, postals etc, acknowledging the receipt of the same. Expresses off some so that we cannot tell where they are from. Expresses leaves tomorrow for San Francisco, girls are calling.

All unite

Grand confusion, very tired but happy with me in sending love to you all. In haste,
 Most sincerely yours,
 A. A. Austin.

 you can come tomorrow evening (Friday) let me know when you

Dear Brother Jackson:

Your letter of January 2, received. I enclose five particulars to exact date as the records of church at Mesilla I left at that place.

I arrived at New Mexico during the month of June,
 A.D. 1880, and remained on my way by the Indians who were creating much trouble and killing many. We arrived however safely and travelling one hundred and fifty miles through the arid country in a stage we purchased property at Mesilla for church and school, September 1st, 1880 and opened school in a few weeks after. We organized church - with 15 members at Mesilla, had a regular service at Los Cruces until we could procure building when for two months we had no service - we were ordered building free by a Catholic in which we had service until we left about middle of September, 1881 - for this place, I visited Silver City Shakespere - Denison Tex. or three times. We organized church at Shakespere with six members, about April 1, 1881. We kept a week and advised with the people of El Paso, Texas and Mexico. Mr. Austin visited twice and at many other places.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

Our Women's Missionary Association in Mr. Elmore's church in East 20th St. will hold the closing meeting of the first year of its work for Alaska, next Wednesday evening (January 13th.)

We set out to raise $200. towards Mrs. McFarland's cupola, and we expect to make up that amount. Can you be with us that evening and give us a fresh impulse so that when we organize in February for the second year, we shall begin with a good degree of zeal. We meet at a quarter of eight o'clock and like to leave at nine o'clock as some of us come from a long distance. If your address would not be a long one, let me know please to-morrow, and if you can come, I will have the notice given on Sunday so that our gentlemen can come and hear you too.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

My sister Mrs. F. A. Huntington, with whom I am boarding, desires me to invite you to take lunch with her on Monday, January 8, at one o'clock P.M. We know it is the plan of the "Women's Home and Foreign Mission Society of the Town of Long Island" to ask you to address them in Dr. Caylor's church upon that afternoon.

Since my husband's return to Colorado from his sad journey to Cedar Rapids, I have been waiting for some word from him in regard to obituary notices of Father's death in our different religious papers. His friends are so widely scattered I desire it to reach all or as many as is possible. I think there is some misunderstanding or notice will have appeared in the Evangelist and one or two other papers or in this. Mr. Caylor's kindly written words I have seen. As soon as Mr. Walker has seen Dr. Kirkwood, Mr. Cager or Mr. Reesford I shall learn what has been done. In the meantime feeling it most fitting that some recognition of Father's life and work should be made in your paper, the Home Mission paper. When he gave so much of his life, and in the harness, allowed as to the Home Mission work and died in the harness, working bravely, loving it to the end, I come with a request to you - As one of Father's oldest friends in Colorado, can and will you prepare and publish in the Presbyterian Home Missions a suitable notice of my Father's death? Of course

I am willing to pay for such an article. I do not know your rates of publication. Am I asking too much, Dr. Jackson? I know yours is a busy life. If too hurried to grant my request please write to me at once and I will find some other friend to prepare such an article. Am I too late for the January number of the paper? Father introduced your paper into his Sunday School at Irwin, raised enough to pay for twenty copies, I think, for a year. They will look for some word of him in the paper. Father left me the day after Thanksgiving for his little mountain church - so well - so happy. By request he spent the Sabbath following in Pittsburg - also remaining there, contrary to his previous plan until Wednesday night of that week. He reached Pueblo on the A.E. & Santa Fe midnight train Saturday night - retained his berth until Sunday morning between seven and eight - starting then for the Depot, in passing between the cars on one track to that close beside it, he could see no distance either way so he stepped upon the next track he was instantly struck down by a yard engine running at a high rate of speed and giving no signal. He lay a long time unconscious the surgeons doing all they could for him; then realized enough to tell them he knew Mr. Cope who was at once summoned and who telegraphed my husband. He was partially conscious during the day Mr. Cope told us, but had become unconscious when Mr. Walker reached him the same night and he remained till the last, still passing away Tuesday at 4.30 P.M. As soon as the word came to me I started for his bedside but was stopped at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, by the friends there, who told me God had taken him home.

Mr. Walker came to me there bringing the poor afflicted body with him - and on Saturday, December 10 at 4 P.M. we laid him to rest beside mother and our little ones. I shall await your reply most anxiously.

Yours faithfully,
Mrs. Charles W. Walker.

Dear Brother:

If memory serves correctly, I landed in Silver City the latter part of February 1873 and came away a little over a year later, or about March 1, 1874.

Happy New Year to you all.

Yours fraternally,

J. W. Curtis.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Brother:

Your letters, one December 22 and the other 28th are just received and they have encouraged me greatly. I feel with you that great success - humanly speaking - depends upon my acquiring the language, and this is one reason why I wished my brother for an assistant, in that the contract requires a male teacher, and if I must be in the school I could make but little progress learning the language and brother was willing to remain - in case both he and his wife were commissioned - an salary of $500. (the two being $1000) which of course is less than I could secure any other male assistant for. Besides they have the advantage of the acquaintance and confidence of the Navajo for most part. For these reasons and not because I think them in all respects the most competent, but under the circumstances the most suitable, available assistants did I request their appointment. I wish as soon as possible to give my whole time to studying the language and preaching to the clear ones in their villages, of course superintending the school. Something of the kind must be done to counteract the base influence of unscrupulous whites. You know something of the mongrel Zuni (Cushing) and his influence and we are likely to have a worse one here in the M.D. (Sullivan's son) who was appointed physician here under his father. He lives in one of the villages and on their feast days and other occasions dresses after their customs etc. He is already a sub-chief. All who know the Navajo say that nothing can be done with those who have arrived at manhood; but "With God all things are possible" said one who knoweth all things and the very hope that this is not only one of the possibilities but even now one of the things willed by Him, is sufficient to inspire the effort. My last letter to Dr. Kendall and one to yourself in the last mail, were a final and earnest appeal for an answer concerning my brother's appointment, and would not have been written had I received these of yours before. Now I leave the matter with you, and whatever you and the Board decide upon will be accepted as all right.

I assure, however, that Brother Willie will not remain unless he is paid from last April, as he feels that he has not been treated right in the matter after being encouraged to remain, not having received a word in reply to our numerous letters. I understand somewhat of the situation from your letter and I think that when I see my brother, the explanation will modify his view of what is deemed proper treatment, and yet if our letters were seen by any other member of the Board - as they would have been in case of Dr. Kendall's inability to act - there remained something inexcusable and unbusinesslike in this 4 or 5 months silence. I write plainly to you, as to a brother, and you need not and you need not present it to the Board or to Mr. Randall unless you think best. I will not feel any differently and I think that if William is commissioned he will overlook the past. At all events, they are both doing all they can now, and will probably continue to work until spring whether they succeed or not as they cannot leave here before that. I think that if William's commission dated from April they would be entitled for Marie's share with it to date from Oct. At least they ought to be for my own wife asked for the laborers on the Avenue more than half the time not exceeding any remuneration and this was all that Marie had to do up to December. If they are commissioned I suppose that my quarterly reports to the Board will cover all that is necessary and they will need to make no report to receive their quarterly wages. Is this the case? If they are commissioned, I hope that you will have the Board not only to cover their work pay, but this quarter's also (from April 1st) as the whole affair has embraced my brother's property, and it will bring him out all right, and get him in good position and in a more charitable frame of mind towards the Board. You speak of my studying the language and my spare time. I would gladly spend five times as many hours at it if I had the opportunity and there are but few hours when during the winter and I have no one to leave with my wife while I go to the village, so that we can do but little. As soon as Mr. Wheeler arrives, we hope for a very different state of affairs, and I shall try to spend a great deal of time in the village. As soon as he comes I will also attend to the reports mentioned in your letter. We shall continue the school in the village as you suggest and as we had contemplated, until all things are in readiness for the school here. I hope that the books etc. for which I sent to the Board will be sent without delay. We are again working upon the house and hope to complete it within 6 or 8 weeks. I tried to let the finishing party contract but could not do so for less than $2500, so I have employed two Americans for $400, and have to complete it through out for about $2000. I pay the Americans about $3. each per day and they are good workers. I will send to this an itemized account of expenses incurred thus far, and you will see that with the estimated $1000 it will run up to about $1200. The Ladies Society gave me $500, and now if they will send me $600, then I will have the balance of $1000. I have not even pocket. Outside of the house I have made some necessary improvements, fencing the yard etc., at about $100. or $150. which of course is not included in this account.

paid for his bought at Wingate and delivered here. We got lowest wholesale rates at Kansas City and 1/2 rates on freight by our load to Wingate.

Now if the ladies can send the $1.00, at once please have them do so; and if not, please request the Board to advance my quarterly due for quarter from January to April as I shall have to meet the bills as soon as the work is completed. We are very anxious to furnish the house, as soon as possible after it is completed, but the furniture could not more than arrive in time if ordered now, and we cannot order it until we receive something from the ladies as I have paid out a good deal on the building, and in short - of cash.

And now as to what you say of Colonel Stephenson and Major Powell, before Stephenson left, I made up my mind that he knew but little of the operations of the Indian department and was glad to have this confirmation by you. You may be assured that we treated them kindly, as I trust I usually do everyone. They were very kind to us and both he and his wife took tea with us one evening. Major Powell I have never met, but have had pleasant correspondence with him and he has aided us greatly by sending us some of his publications as are of assistance here in acquiring the language. And now good night, and do not forget us when presenting the great work of Home Missions to the Father of all Graces.

Wife joins me in kindest regards.

Charles A. Taylor.

You speak of Harriot; we shall want to be rid of him as soon as possible. Do you know whether he is recognized as clerk here by the Department.

Alamosa, Colorado,
January 7, 1882.

Dear Sir:

Your postal received this morning. When? how can I answer all those these questions? But I will try, and immediately as I may not have time next week.

1st. We arrived in Alamosa June 20th having left Cincinnati on the 4th and visited some by the way.

2d. I was assisted by Miss Conway in translating three sermons, and I delivered my first sermon in Spanish September 13th. Organized by order of Presbytery a Mexican church at Colorado, October 19, 1881 - with 5 members

7 of whom I baptized the elder, an American, had been a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. I baptized 7 children, 17 in all, my first baptizing.

Since then, I have baptized 9 more - all Mexicans - five adult, two of them over 35 years old.

One of these, living where we had no church organization rode 64 miles (128 for the round trip) in order to be received into the church. He passed the most satisfactory examination I have heard. He had been studying the Bible for five years and was subject to taunts and sneers because he was abandoning Romanism. In fact, they told him that I would not receive him into the Church if he came. But he picked the long ride, to see what I would do, and so, if received into the Church, he would be freed to a great extent from persecution.

I admit Presbyterianism in receiving members. To be sure and safe in the examinations, I have the elders of the particular church in question as thoroughly as they wish. Then, as I have three evangelists, who are also elders of some of our churches, and one or more of these men are always with me at such times, I have them to question the candidate and all the questions are translated for me. Then I ask whatever questions I think important.

It surprises me - the clear, prompt answers given by most of the candidates. These two men especially understood the Bible.

We have now 4 churches and 50 preaching points in this valley. Several of these points have been opened by the evangelists since Presbyterian October 10th. They are working by a program which I arranged and are doing almost all the work as I have a hands full of American work, having three American churches - one of which I organized - by order of Presbytery, October 30th, this with 2 members - all by letter. In a farming community, the most prominent in appearance of all the American churches in this valley. I have received into this church at Alamosa ten members, 9 by letter and one by profession of faith. Lost one elder by death, dismissed two elders and six members to other churches.

Have held two convocation services here (Alamosa) and one at (American) church. Have performed 3 marriage ceremonies, my first attempt being a double wedding. My sixth will be next Tuesday night.

I enjoy my work very much; especially as I go on horseback from place to place - rode over 1200 miles the first four months I was here. Have preached three times and rode 40 miles within eleven hours - several different times.

My congregations in each place are increasing. This is a synopsis of work done in churches. As to schools -

We have four, with five salaried teachers; my sister is here in Colorado for her health and is staying at Miss Ross the teacher at San Luis Castilla Co., and is assisting in the school and teaching music.

We have three of the schools in connection with our Mexican church organizations. One at Conchos, teacher, Miss Effie J. Miller. One at San Rafael, teachers Misses Mary F. Higgins and Linolea Young. These three ladies Post Office address is Conchos, Conchos Co., Colorado. Another school is at La Jara, Mexico church - Miss Susie D. Grimstead, teacher, P.O. Cockerell P.O. Conchos Co.

The 4th is at San Luis, Castilla Co., Miss Anna M. Ross teacher, Libbie M. Gilchrist, assistant. This is in a Catholic town - no Protestants at all. We hope it will be the entering wedge for a church. We have the offer of a private house for preaching whenever we can send a man. In this school are five Mormon scholars with a prospect for more. The priests have just started an opposition school but charge double our prices and do not teach English, I think. The schools are all full at present. But the great trouble is that the children do not stay long enough. The schools run ten months in the year. But the parent not being very industrious nor willing to work much, take the children to the ranches, or to attend to the sheep and cattle whenever there is any work to be done and consequently the children run the schools early in the spring, and are late getting back in the fall.

Yours truly,
F.J. Gilchrist.

Doctor Jackson:
Dear Sir:

During the previous last year, my "Home Mission" papers were almost all lost, I shall be very glad to pay for any back copies you may be able to furnish me. I send thirty cents, all the postage stamps on hand at present. I have May, June and December.

I will send a year's subscription, shortly. The new principal has not arrived: we hope so, and try to do the best we can under the difficulties. Pray for me, that I may have grace and strength to do the Master's will.

Yours truly,

Dear Doctor Jackson:

You wrote me a card, that you would be here the 2nd Monday of January. Our Examining Committee decided that it would not be possible for us to have a meeting on that day as it came too early in the month. The meetings of the first Monday on account of the holidays having been postponed to the second, made it every way inconvenient to change the regular day of meeting. Should you intend being here on the 10th, I shall be much pleased to have you give us half-an-hour at 3 P.M. and would like to know it by the

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

If you are to be in the city a few days, could you make it convenient to spend an evening and night with us? I would like to invite some of our Sunday School workers and friends to meet you socially and so become better acquainted with the Home Mission work as I feel that there is a great lack of intelligence in regard to the work in the Northwest and Mexico. I am sure if we could once get their ear they would be awakened to the need of more laborers and means and we might enlist their hearty co-operation. For some reason the notice of the meeting this evening was not given in church, so very few of those who would have been glad to have heard from you will be present. I am very sorry to be absent myself but illness prevents my going to-day. I have a deep interest in the work in Alaska Mrs. Fanny Well-lege Young being a personal friend, her father being once my pastor and my acquaintance with her has been from my childhood. Hoping you will be able to give us an evening this week, I am

Very sincerely yours,

Mrs. J.M. Wm.

Fort Wrangle, Alaska.

January 9, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Your very short letter of November 23, is just at hand. The welcome news it contains makes partial amends for its brevity though there were many things I wished to hear about from you. I thank you most heartily for the part you have taken in getting the debt burden lifted from my shoulders. The draft for the $500.00 came by this mail and the promise of more by the next. The Board also made me happy by increasing my salary as you wrote. I thank God, you and the Board.

The commissions granted give me great satisfaction, especially that of my dear friend, Professor Gould and the one of which you did not tell me, that of J.W. McFarland to this place. We were all astounded at the intelligence communicated a few days ago. Miss Dunbar has kept her secret well. I am entirely heartily pleased. Of course if the Board had commissioned anyone else without consulting me as the head of the school as well as of the Mission, and sent him here as evangelist and teacher, I should have felt hurt and indignant. But as it is we enjoy the surprise and rejoice in the happiness of Miss Dunbar and in the prospect of an earnest and faithful helper. Perhaps Providence is preparing the way for a larger field of usefulness for myself without my beloved flock being left without a pastor. But be assured that my first desire is to advance their interests and after that those of Southeast Alaska. I am glad that Mr. McFarland has some knowledge of medicine and so can take the place of Doctor Carlier who will probably leave by the May steamer for Harrisburg. I received no letter from Brother Gould by this steamer but heard from my sister that he was ordained.

She also told me of the pleasant visit she had with you at Parkersburg and the interesting meeting there.

I shall write by this mail again to the different members of the Synod of the Columbia urging them to take immediate steps toward the organization of the Presbytery of Alaska. If there is any indisposition on the part of any to take such steps we will petition the General Assembly and get it through at once. For the sake of harmony on this coast it would be better for Synod to do the organizing but we want it done at once. Mr. Willard, Mr. Brady, Mr. Gould, Mr. McFarland and myself constitute the requisite five. But as Mr. Brady is such a very uncertain factor morally, locally and ecclesiastically I do hope we can find a minister for Sitka before General Assembly and if possible one also for Kooniah.

So far as I can learn the Synod took no steps towards locating our missions in any Presbytery. I have not been able to hear definitely.

Colonel Bell writes encouragingly of the prospects of the Alaska Bill. But I see little mention of the education movement. Immediate efforts on the part of the Board and all other friends of the movement are needed. If the education clause is not incorporated in the bill it needs a more special and vigorous effort to insure its passage. Please let me know by documents and pen what has been done and what the future prospects are.

Please think of what I said in my last about getting steam cutter - one can be purchased in every way adapted to our purpose for a very small sum at Santa Fe, to wait upon the Missions and carry supplies through the archipelago. Get the mail contract from Wrangel to Kvichak, Klawock, Sukkhan, Killisnoo Kooniah, Chiloat and and that will pay expenses or more. I think the plan practicable if there is anyone to look after it in Washington. The little boat if under our control will of course save the Mission all freight from this point and all canoe expenses; will facilitate meetings, conventions, the transportation of children to the industrial homes; the transportation of materials for

For the erection of buildings etc. Such a boat as I contemplate would need only three men or at best four - a captain who would also be pilot, an engineer and one or two hands, natives. Some such craft has become a necessity to these missions and the sum of the saving to the Mission and Missionaries would almost equal the sum of expense while the moral and religious advantage of such a craft would be incalculable. If these post-offices can be established and the mail contract obtained it would be a profitable investment. The cutter should have a condensing engine to use salt water and should be able to use wood. I think the Missionaries could command and pilot this craft and thus save the expense of a captain's salary. I would not be afraid to take a boat like that to any of the points mentioned or of the tribes and towns of the Archipelago. Please present this matter to the Board and write me fully your views. Something ought to be done in this direction soon. How is Presbytery going to meet? I wish thus to confer with you rather than to at once lay the matter before the church. Of course, Wages as having more frequent steamboat communication should be the starting-point of such a craft. I am ready to agitate this subject and send the appeal far and wide if it is thought best.

This Mission is prospering as never before. Before the holidays I did a great deal of work personally in the town, getting our original educational system established, looking after the church members and professing Christians, holding councils, etc. We all united in this effort and Mr. Oakford aided us by keeping down his drinking. We had some good feasts during the holidays, the largest being by Klagits - an old sub-chief who has lately declared his faith and Christian purpose and has got married; Matthew who has been given Timothy's name and place and Shakes who accomplished anything I have before seen in that line. Shakes especially accomplished great good by his Christian feast making a very noble and impressive speech in which he renounces forever the old ways and declared his Christian intention. It was very affecting when he pointed to one of the carved pillars in his house brought from the house of his ancestors in the old town and said that it was formerly an object of worship and that the people too believed that it spoke to the old foretelling the future and directing him in the best measures for the good of his tribe. Then he spoke to me asking if I thought the image would answer him. I was doubtful. Then he asked the chiefs present the same thing. They were silent. Then raising his right hand he advanced to the foot of the image; he raised his voice and addressed it thus: "Speak to me, thou image of my Father. You guided my ancestors by your counsels; teach me also. Tell me what the destiny of my people is and how I can help them. Once you looked upon a large and powerful tribe. Now you are few. The people are foolish and wicked. Teach me how to save them. Speak to me, speak to me!"

The silence that followed while passed for an answer was breathless. Then he recounted the inner as blind, senseless, dead and contrasting it with the living all-powerful loving God of the Christian declared his belief and called earnestly upon his people to believe in, love and obey the one true God. Many of the others spoke in like strain. This was only one of the cheering signs of this gracious time.

We observed the week of prayer by meeting every night. They were well attended and from the first a deep interest was manifested. Some fifteen persons mostly men and women of influence have professed their faith in Christ and their resolve to live in newness of life. The interest is not transient. It pervades the whole town. We hope for a still greater blessing. All the signs are hopeful. The place was never so orderly and peaceful.

I enclose a marriage notice which with whatever you find of public interest in this or any of my letters you may insert in your paper. I presume that the omission of my name and work alone of all the Alaska missionaries in the December number of the P.B.M. was not an intentional slight. I have written you a long letter each week since I saw you and purposely inserted whatever I thought would interest you. I know the difficulties of the Editorial staff and my friends are seeing these omissions and inquiring about them.

Would it not be better to have the general supplies for this Mission directed to me while the other supplies are sent to Mrs. McFarland. It would give me the work which properly belongs to me and relieve her. While there is and always will be perfect harmony between us, I and not she am head of the Mission and of the school. I insert the slip indicating the needed changes. As it stands it is an invitation to me and a mortification to my friends.

As regards Louis and Tillie Paul, both Mrs. McFarland and I are very earnest in asking the Board to commission them to Shikhan and not to Upper Chilcat. Captain Sprague will build the house he intends giving us very early in the spring. They will be under his eye and he and his wife will do all they can to assist them. They will reach eventually a greater number of people and he is much more likely to succeed at Shikhan.

There is a beautiful situation on the west side of the harbor for a new town and the Indians are already building there. The young couple have friends and influence there and are very anxious to locate their school at that place being averse to going to Chilcat. Louis is a good carpenter and can do all the work there he wants outside of school hours. Captain Sprague will furnish the Indians all the lumber they want at six dollars per cord to be paid for in furs, skins, oil labor or money, and Louis can show them how to build their houses. I can go over there frequently and furnish them supplies constantly. Captain Sprague will give goods to them almost at San Francisco prices. I applied to the Board for their commission recommending Chilcat but we have all since decided that Shikhan is altogether more needy, hope-put back together as far as possible. I am writing to the Guard on the subject. On 10 Nov. 1944.

Now I have another important matter to bring before you. Since the Proclamation of West Point, I am maintaining so many evangelists for Alaska, I have another for you. My youngest brother is the son of our family. He had not his mind in the ministry but was devoted from entering college and receiving a liberal education of taking care of father and mother on the farm. He obtained a good academic education and has gained a wide general knowledge, giving an invaluable reader. He went to the all regions in 1908. He started for while taking care of his old folks he was admitted to the bar. He was elected clerk and Sunday School Superintendent in the same year. He has never left the all regions, his

The Fort Wrangel church received a Christmas present of a handsome pulpit, cushion and carpet and chairs for the platform from Mrs. McFarland. The beautiful gifts were put in order late Saturday night and surprised the pastor and people as they entered the church to service Christmas morning. Miss Barber, assisted by the young people decorated the church with evergreen in a very tasteful manner. Warmest thanks are given to these ladies.

----- Jackson, Alaska.
 About mail route: We may be able to get the carrying done for a little less than your present contract, tho' I doubt if there is any danger of anyone underbidding your present figures. I am sorry the Roberts office is discontinued.

If buildings are to be erected at Wrangel, the probabilities now are that a Co. will be erected there which can give lumber more cheaply and at an earlier date than Mr. Young's projected one, saying nothing to discourage the enterprise.

The books received and a notice that you had paid for the "Educational." Many thanks.

I do not know as there is any immediate organization of Alaska Presbytery. My experience of last March and that of recent date decides me as to summer trips in winter unless I see a necessity.

The Wrangle misfortune, as it seems to us, while it will certainly be overruled for good in the end, brings much pain, suffering, inconvenience and disappointment to individuals and a reproach to Missions and missionaries in Alaska, and may seriously affect legislation in regard to educational matters. Mr. Oakford, late Deputy Collector of Customs at Wrangel told me he was summoned to Washington to give evidence in regard to the situation of things in the territory, and the result of Dr. McFarland's course at Wrangle has not had a very salutary influence on the mind of Mr. Oakford, especially in regard to giving authority, by legislation to missionaries, ministers or teachers.

The people of Kayahukles, Klinkwan and Sahgan are all here. Town is certainly as quiet and orderly as we have any right to expect, and the attendance at school and all religious services, especially considering the accommodations, good.

The extreme irregularity of school attendance is to be regretted, but under existing circumstances not remedied nor easily reported. The attendance ranges from 120 down to 30. We cannot induce or compel attendance as we would if they could have any reasonable school accommodations. "Alki." The most interest they have in school now is the novelty, which even if oft renewed soon wears out.

Our proposed school book is where it was, for want of time to give it.

George Smith and Mary Emily were married last night - quite an important imposing and at least semi-civilized affair. Could you have seen the eight well draped, respectable married natives who spent a happy social hour at our rooms later in the evening you would certainly have thought it an encouraging feature of Mission work.

Our roll of married people:

Edwin and Mary Tamaris

Barial and Mary Maht-lan

Thomas and Kittie Skowel

James and Mary Smith.

The first five live in a new "American" house, the others are making preparations to do so.

In many cases the young people change men and discontinue often; there is of course, a separability and soon a reconciliation or an often a new relation assumed. In the case of those married there have been some strange occurrences, but no separations and as time passes less danger that there will be.

My half-brother has grown to the age of a half and as there is no other place I will stop. Mr. Toland has been a great help as Doctor, and missionary worker generally.

All join in most kindly remembrance to you and we will all be glad if it is as ordered that you can come to Sitka.

I believe I neglected to say that Mr. Young was aboard the December steamer; only saw him the family sleeping and Mrs. Young sick. They will find employment of an unenviable kind at Wrangell.

Yours in the Gospel,
J. Lewis Gould.

Christmas at Ft. Wrangell.
Men and boys were dressed up as soldiers and escorted the missionaries to and from the houses and sat on the tables, doing themselves great credit. After the dinner was over three of the men came out dressed as they used to do in masks etc. One appeared as a bear. Another made a speech telling how they used to believe in such things. Said that when the bear appeared they always got a slave to death. He very touchingly said "But now God has sent the Missionary my eyes are opened, I believe the way and want to save Mr. Young bring all this people to see the Father." After this the Indians had some plays. We all came home in good season but were awakened up at midnight by the church bell tolling out the old year and ringing in the new. This was done by the Indians too; Dr. Corliss having received from his friends in the West a fine magic lantern, gave us an exhibition during the holidays, which was a pleasure to us and gave the Indians not only pleasure but a fine surprise but the Doctor gave them valuable instruction. We are observing the week of prayer; services every evening. The people seem interested and we hope for good results. We all felt tonight that the Lord was present with us. We feel that we have entered upon the Items concerning work in Santa Fe.

Arrived in Santa Fe the twenty-fifth of September, 1879. Found Mrs. M.E. Griffith making an effort to conduct a Mission school under very discouraging circumstances, which were beyond her control. Commenced teaching the first Tuesday of October. Mrs. Griffith remained in the school until after the first of January, 1880; her place was filled by Mr. Edward Ward of Santa Fe, who aided very much in building up the school and in gathering in a class of children who had never attended any school. The school rapidly gained in interest and numbers until it was necessary to employ a third teacher. The services of Mrs. Guyer of Santa Fe were secured, and to her were due much of the success of the school. The enrollment reached one hundred pupils. The services of these two teachers terminated with the school year. The vacation during the month of August was spent in visiting among the children and their parents. The school opened the first Monday of September after one month's vacation. The larger girls Nellie Cary, an Apache Indian girl and Miss Abeytia assisted in the school until the arrival on October 1st, of Mrs. J.L. McMahon, a sister of Mrs. Sharen. The school steadily increased in interest during the entire year. On the twelfth of November, Mrs. J.M. Sharen was married to J.D. Perkins of Santa Fe. After a visit of seven weeks down the Rio Grande as far South as El Paso, Mr. Perkins' entire attention was turned to the school and the interest of the school, and numbers of pupils steadily increased until vacation, July 1st. School re-opened September 13th, 1881, soon after which time, plans were made for our being transferred to the Navajo Boarding school at Fort Defiance. The children had become very dear to me and I now look back with much pleasure to the many very happy days spent with the children.

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

School opened here February 5, 1881. There were obstacles in the way of a boarding school beyond the control of teachers and a day school was kept open during the school year with good attendance and much interest among the Navajo Indians. The Industrial Boarding School was opened, September 18, 1881. The average for the first quarter, ending December 31, 1881 was 18. The average for the last quarter 44 1/3. The present enrollment is 60. The work is very promising.

Shakespeare, New Mexico was organized, April 10, 1881.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Brother:

Yours of the 16 inst. at hand. I arrived here first November 6th, 1880, and preached on trial, November 7th and 14th following.

Arrived in this place with my family December 10, 1880, and preached on the following Sabbath, December 17th taking charge of the church from that time. Took charge of the church, January 3, 1881.

Mr. M.D. Elliott began work as teacher January 4, 1881 and left February 14, 1881.

Mr. V.A. Ward taught from February 15, 1881, until April 9th, 1881, inclusive. Miss H.A. Everett taught from April 17, 1881 until April 22, 1881 inclusive.

Miss Nettie Mills taught from May 3, 1881 until June 1, 1881, inclusive.

Miss M.L. Allison of Coveado, Pennsylvania, commissioned by the Board arrived in Santa Fe, May 23, 1881. She entered on her work as teacher, June 3, 1881 and continues yet in charge giving the most entire satisfaction.

A pay department was added last June. Miss Bell Everett of Kansas was engaged to take charge of it and entered on her work June 3, 1881. She continues yet in charge.

Work was commenced on our new church June 9, 1881. It is not yet completed but probably will be about the last of February next.

We have some excitement about small-pox. If they have not done so, I hope the Board will send us our salaries etc, soon.

We all write in kindest wishes.

Trusting,

J.H. McCaskey.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir & Brother:

Yours of the 2nd from New York but mailed at Washington is at hand in reply say:

We arrived here July 15, 1880. Had no church nor a member. My wife, Mrs. A.A. Fuller received commission as Mission teacher and opened school September 14 and taught until the following May 20th and we have seen much good fruit from her labors.

We organized a church October 15, 1880 with 14 members and have received in all 33 members several more having signified their intention of coming in at next communion. We purchased an old building and refitted and sealed it for a church having a good room 19 by 45 in the but now too small. We have a parsonage of five rooms built by the pastor, at a cost of $490.00 and turned over to the Board at $350.00, and now with at least $1,000 owing to rise in property.

We were specially helped in this work by kind advance of $300.00 by yourself - by $175.00 from H.G. Ludlow of Troy, N.Y. - $25.00 from ladies of 8th St. Presbyterian Church, Albany, N.Y. - $50.00 from John E. Perry, Chicago. By aid from Board of church erection and women's Board of Missions, and ladies of several churches in Westchester Presbytery, by Mrs. J.L. Graham, Mrs. Thomas Paton, N.Y. City, Mrs. Margaret R. Bond of New York, N.Y., W.J. Vanoverman of Newark, N.J., T.Y. Wurts, Atlantic City, N.J. and D.J. Lake, of Lake Forest, Ill. A communion set from ladies of Watford, Conn., and another from Des Moines, Iowa (one of which we had for a church in our vicinity as soon as organized and one is now needed at Black House, in Magdalena and at White Oaks.

We received a Bell from the Lake Forest Church, Ill. A small organ from John E. Perry, Chicago, singing books from John R. Strong, Sarasota, N.Y. Cash donation from Mr. C. Carter, Hannibal, Mo.

We have received religious literature from many parts of the United States and Canada and scattered it through our Mining camp.

We cannot recount all to whom we are under obligation. We have great cause to rejoice and be thankful.

One cloud of sorrow shadowed us in the sad death of our first Elder, Mr. A.M. Conklin, on Christmas Eve, 1880. In preserving order at the Christmas tree gathering, he unintentionally offended some Mexicans, three of whom attacked him as he was leaving the church, one of them shot him through the heart. Two of them have since suffered death for their crime. The sad occurrence was universally regretted by the Mexican population, and the murderers were from a Protestant family.

It was done in a heat of passion.

Our relations with the Mexican population have been of the most friendly nature, and we live their polite and hospitable ways. They lack in energy, but not in many noble and generous traits of character. I think God has given us at least two genuine conversions among them, it may be more. If I had been faithful, I realize it certainly would have been more. Three serious spells of illness have crippled my work somewhat.

Owing to the rapid influx of Americans we have had our time and labor nearly entirely absorbed by them lately.

We have however Mexican children in our Sunday school and otherwise under instruction, and we hope to do more in the educational way soon, it being our intention to erect school buildings this season. In fact we contemplate a Presbyterian College at Socorro in the near future. We have distributed many Spanish Bibles and tracts.

Yours fraternally,

Dear Doctor Jackson:

The steamer came in early on the morning of the 8th. We were glad to get our letters and oh, so glad to hear what you had done for us. We will be so rejoiced when our friends arrive. Miss Dunbar is jubilant. She tries to put an indifference, but I tell her that will not do with me. Mr. and Mrs. Young have very happy two-ounce hearts. The hospital is getting along swimmingly. You will no doubt be surprised to hear of Louis and Tillie being married so soon. I did not intend to let them get married until spring but I thought I might as well give up for they were of no earthly account. I tell Miss Dunbar I suppose she will be the same way when J.V. comes. I want her to get married right away as soon as he gets here. I think there will not be the least doubt which side of the question these brethren will be on. I wish you would write me just your opinion as to the men confidentially, of their fitness for the work, etc. You need not be afraid of hurting my feelings. I want you to tell me honestly. I wish you could visit my sister. We do not know when to look for any of them. I delivered your message to Miss Dunbar. She said "Highly commendable"; she echoed the same wish about your being here.

With love to you all, I am

Most truly yours,

A.R. McFarland.

Many thanks to Daisy for the pretty card. A.R.M.F.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT.

Office of the Second Assistant Postmaster General.
Washington, D.C.

January 10, 1892.

Sir:

Referring to your recommendation that the proposed office of Klawock (on Prince of Wales Island) be embraced on route No. 43096, Port Townsend to Sitka, I have the honor to inform you that Captain James Carroll of the steamship Eureka carrying the mail on said route reports that to do so would involve an increase of distance amounting to 200 miles per trip. Captain Carroll states that the proposed office of Chikox (Fountain Harbor) may be embraced on said route, increasing distance only 70 miles, and that the Klawock mail may be conveyed from Chikox by means of a steam launch.

The Postmaster at Port Townsend has not reported whether he has conferred with Mr. James S. Swan or Doctor Minor.

The expense of embracing Klawock on route 43096, if Captain Carroll's statement of increase of distance be correct, would be about $2,500. per annum.

Cannot you suggest a more economical means of supplying that place with mail?

Yours respectfully,
M.A. Elmer.

Second Assistant Postmaster General.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
Editor of the Presbyterian Home Missions,

Dear Brother Jackson:

The dates of the churches I helped to organize are as follows:

James, September 8, 1878.

Laguna, September 15, 1878.

Las Vegas, March, 1870.

The Agua Negra church is the result of R.F. Gallagros and my work under Mr. Annin, 1876, 1877 and part of 1878. Another church could have been organized at Canon Largo on the Canadian River of from 12 to 15 members, but was neglected. We had congregations of from 30 to 40 many coming on foot 5 or 6 miles to hear us.

My work is going on with the same routine. Those who do not come to the service are reached by going to them. I have feared the Jesuits would have wrought some change among the people but I find some circumstances that reveal a change favorable. The people feel that their condition is not bettered by their labours. The organization here, however, has to be postponed, but I think it far better to have it so. Providence has by this means the nature of the conversion of those who had urged me to organize with them.

The work is going on quietly and unnoticed; but for the same reason the more general and in due time the seed of the word will bring forth the Heavenly fruition.

I was appointed Commissioner to the General Assembly. Mrs. P. wants to avail herself of such an opportunity to visit her mother. Could you secure us a half-fare ticket to Springfield, Illinois? I can do nothing here. It may be best for me to write to the Committee of arrangements. Mrs. P. wants to stay at home a few months and we would like to secure a ticket to go and to return if it is good for the year. We have a little daughter, 2 months and 6 days old. Her name is Laura Emily. Healthy and growing.

We join in kindest regards to Mrs. Jackson and Miss Daisy. Please let me know about the half fare ticket to send you the money next quarterly.

Wishing you happiness, I am yours

Jose Ynes Perea.

January 10, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
Dear Sir:

Yours of the 2d came to hand this morning. We could hardly believe it was from you. We are still "holding the fort" at James, and working away, sometimes encouraged, sometimes discouraged. I wish so much that you could come to see us and see our "Indians." You might be able to say whether we are accomplishing anything or not. We have a nice school this winter and the school at the Springs has surpassed already, my most sanguine expectations. One side of the Catholic Church fell down last year, letting a greater part of the roof fall in. Last fall the Priest who used to oppose us so died also. After a lot of our trouble he came to be right friendly and would always call on us if he needed medicine. In his last illness I attended him and he got much better and then he went down into Valencia Co., to his son's and very soon we heard that he had taken venereal and died.

The whole country is open for the preaching of the Gospel and for schools but it seems as hard as ever to get teachers or help of any kind. Indeed it very often seems to me to be impossible to get an answer to a letter, however important it may be.

We have a dear little boy at our house, now over 9 years old. I will now give you some dates. We reached James on the 6th of August, 1879. Opened school on the 15th with 14 scholars. I think we opened Catholic school in May and I began the first year to preach a little as I could in Spanish. September 8, 1879, church organized. Building commenced a few days afterward and occupied on December 7th. Chapel opened for public services, December 8, 1879. Mrs. Shields took sick October 12th when we were in the of the building and died March 8th. June 12, 1879. Miss Lora P. Shields and Miss Nellie K. Leach came. November 10th I was married to Miss Leach. In August 1879, Rosalvo Pintayo was licensed to preach. December 15th, 1880, Miss Lora P. Shields went to Pueblo Boarding School. April 5, 1881 Miss Mary K. Harris came to the James Mission; June 9, 1881 Miss Clara Shurtleff came and left on the 28th being in very delicate health.

July 4th, I took Miss Harris to the Springs to occupy the new building which we had commenced in the latter part of April. The Board had a description and plan of this building. July 11, 1881, school opened at the Springs. There were present at the opening 19 scholars and 19 parents. This school has grown to near 40 scholars. A grand hotel is nearing completion there and it will be an important point. Services and Sunday School are well attended at the Springs. Day school is doing well at James and church and Sunday School are tolerably well attended by Indians. A few Mexicans and Americans attend at James also, but not regularly. That is a very few attend regularly and more occasionally. Being such a horrible country as it was at first, I suppose we should thank God and take courage.

Mrs. Shields joins in sending regards.

Yours in Christ,

J.W. Shields.

Dear Brother:

Your postal card 26th ult. The rule now is, that the Alaska boat with arrival of the steamer from San Francisco the 1st of each month ~~are~~ are here about the 4th inst - should any alterations occur I will write you to that effect.

Who are going out? Should they have any time to wait here I have no doubt Collector Bush will entertain the Missionaries here. Both himself and wife are thoroughly good workers - the latter is our Bible class teacher and Mr. B. is carpeting our neat little church also providing material to cushion it also in addition to this we have just collected $145. toward our new bell from Hensely Co., West Troy, now ordered at a cost of $185. This involves us in a new belfry or tower, but as the latter will be donated and also the wood for the work, we have no anxiety on that score. Our attendance still keeps excellent although our roads are very bad. The Episcopalians are trying very hard to get a settled pastor here once again; more especially as our Lumber mill is going ahead and the ship yard will soon follow - but it is questionable as they are few and disorganized.

I shall be glad to hear from you as to the Missionaries soon so as to arrange for their comfort if need be -

My wife joins me in kindest Christian love and the best of wishes for the glad New Year.

Yours faithfully,

John Reid.

CUSTOM HOUSE, ALASKA?
Collector's Office.

Fort Wrangle, January 11, 1882.

Dear Brother Jackson:

Many thanks for the "North Americans" you so kindly and thoughtfully sent me, they are very welcome on these long, dark evenings when one is in this isolated place and doubly isolated just now by the icy treacherous way - is thrown upon books and memories as the only safeguard against ennui. This as you are aware is our dullest season; arrivals are limited to the monthly mail steamer and life at Wrangle has become very monotonous. The holy days passed pleasantly enough. Mrs. McFarland kindly invited me to see the exercises of her pupils on Christmas eve when they had a famous Christmas tree on which numberless presents were displayed, every child received something and all were delighted and satisfied. On Christmas Monday I dined at the "Home" with Mr. Young and Dr. Carline and their families and the two ladies of the "Home."

My three arrested smugglers, Lynch, Price and Hoochince Frank are still in hiding in the woods. Stephens is still here and talks of going down to Victoria by this steamer if he attempts it he will walk into a trap as there is a United States Marshall on the steamer with a warrant for his arrest and conveyance to Portland. The town is very quiet; no drunkenness or rioting. The Indians are quiet and orderly but the whites are sullen probably because of the dull times. But few prospectors are wintering here and those have little money to spend in the saloons. I had hoped to receive a copy of Senator Miller's Alaska bill but cannot hear that a copy has reached here. I hope that he will not lose all by asking too much. Southeast Alaska really only needs a very simple government for the suppression of petty crimes and the collection of debts, magistrates, a few police officers and houses of detention are needed here and at Sitka? Capital crimes can be sent below for trial or a United States Judge from Washington Territory can come up for a month or two in summer. The collector might be made ex-officio Governor, and a gunboat carrying two heavy guns with a good supply of Gatlings and small arms should cruise about visiting all the towns and Indian villages between Tongass and Chilkoot two or three times a year. Too much time has hitherto been wasted at Sitka by the war ships at least it was so until Captain Glass took command of the Wachusett, he has been more active than his predecessors. Believe me

Very truly yours,
I.E. Oakford.

January 12, 1882.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

We left Colorado Springs September 12, 1877 and reached the reservation October 12. We left the village May 1, 1878 and reached the confines of civilization May 28th. I have not time to mention many things of interest. One of the most important was the Indians refusing to allow the Mormons to come over the reservation in accordance with my advice; another was Pedro Pino's following me in Albuquerque and going thence to Santa Fe to urge that another couple be sent to take the place of his son and daughter.

My dear Doctor:

I wrote the letter as you desired to Senator Blair. I send two enclosures which you will understand.

You will imagine my surprise when Colonel Ball called this evening and informed me that Senator Blair thought there had better be no educational clause in the territorial bill, but that it better be offered separately. There may be some mistake about this, of course.

Could you not let your board take formal action upon it as a board? They having done so much why should they not state that they have as a "Whereas," and then state that they have found the people docile, self-supporting, and mainly in need of law and education, for the benefit of Congress?

Very truly yours,

John Eaton, Commissioner.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

It is nearly time for our Presbyterial Annual meeting which you have attended for the past two years. I would like very much to have a letter from you to read at the coming meeting in February, mentioning the reception of "our bell" at Fort Wrangell, and something special in regard to the boys school at Sitka. After your appeal here for the school two ladies gave a scholarship and I think they would be especially pleased to have something written concerning it by you. Of course, anything else of interest in regard to Indians and Mormons would be acceptable. If you have any special object which just now is on your heart for which you wish contributions, or rather anything that by united effort we might do, mention it, it may be taken up as others have been. If you choose to mention the success of the Garfield memorial, if you consider it so, it would be received well from outside, I think.

You know you promised me a letter about the bell, so if I've asked more than you can give just write me about the bell.

Very sincerely,

Frances B. Hamlin.

Buckhannon, West Virginia.
January 16, 1882.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

Thanks for your "postal" of the 3rd instant, which I have delayed answering in the hope I might know what to write. In this slow country I find it impossible to make any speedy and satisfactory settlement of my secular affairs, especially in making collections. Now we want to trouble you for advice, the "do not hurry off to Alaska before you are ready," is some encouragement to us under what seems to us an unavoidable, and we feared might seem to others, a protracted delay, but the settling of a twelve years business and "pulling up" for life and getting a family ready for transportation 4,000 or 5,000 miles is more than a "days work".

We can by some self-denial get off immediately on the union route, make Port Townsend for the 3rd of March steamer; to this I am inclined. Wife feels, as we are giving up everything in the States, she should visit a brother in Washington D.C. and another on the Ohio river, go to the Southern route, see a sister at Sterling, Kansas and another at San Diego, California on which route too I have some business and very greatly desire Mrs. Gould make these visits, time and money being the arguments con.

Treasurer Eaton says the Board expects to make some advance on account of salary and expenses; also that time on Southern route is limited to 15 days and expense $10. on a ticket more. I wish the time could be longer to give time for calls by the way.

1. Would you advise trying to make 3rd of March steamer at Port Townsend if we can?

2. Would it seem to you advisable, in view of all the surroundings, to make our arrangements more complete, and to the family more satisfactory, even if we must delay to April 3rd at Port Townsend?

I am not very patient under delays and this seems long, and yet I am all the time so very busy. Will leaving San Francisco on the 20th of the month insure the being on time at Port Townsend for the 3d of the next month?

I have not heard from Treasurer Eaton since December 17th. He said he would consult you.

Please let us hear from you immediately. Sorry to trouble you with so much.

Mrs. Gould and little ones join in kindest regards.

Yours in the Master's work,
J. Loomis Gould.

NAVAJO INDUSTRIAL BOARDING SCHOOL

Navajo Agency.

Navajo Agency, Arizona.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

January 16, 1882.

Dear Sir:

I received a letter from "Mellie" from Carlisle in which she said "Doctor Jackson is here." We had not heard of your being here and are very glad to hear the news. We hope you had a pleasant and profitable journey. How glad we would have been to have had a visit from you during our stay here. We think we have a fine school and would rejoice to have had you see it. We have aimed to and think we have carried out your idea of having much accomplished by the Navajos. We have two cooks, two sewing and mending women, one assistant waitress; one well woman and one wood hauler. These are all assisted by others who do not receive pay for their services. We have one assistant teacher, a Mr. Long from Albuquerque and for the past week a teacher, a Mrs. Pestawa from Denver. But we are pressed for time yet to perform all the duties belonging to the school. Our school will not average over seventy-eight. We sent out the occupants of two rooms to make room for Mr. Taylor, not knowing at the time that they did not intend to do anything in the school. They have now been here sixteen days. Do you know where we are to be sent or how soon. We would be glad to know. If we had any way of transportation, I would go to Nagai and see what the prospect of a school is there. They seem to want a school there and I seem destined to give up here. There was a time when I thought I could not accomplish anything here; that time has passed as the time and condition of the school will show. We will remain here in the school until February 1st and then if the Board has no further use for us we will quit teaching for awhile. Mr. Perkins and I have worked very hard here but we have had much reward also. We were very much surprised and hurt to learn that a new Superintendent had been appointed here and we know nothing of it. Mr. Eastman told us first, then we heard it from Albuquerque and finally, Mr. Kendall wrote us that he had put Mr. Taylor in charge of the school. I happened to have Dr. Kendall's last letter to us in Santa Fe, saying we "should not be removed to make place for younger teachers* but it was all of no avail, the doom seemed inevitable and we accept the situation wearily but not painlessly. We are packing up and will be off by the first week in February, where we do not know. We will hope to hear from you at an early day. Billie will write you soon; Mr. Perkins is sending Mrs. Jackson some photographs in about ten days.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

My dear Brother:

I am closing up my business connections with the Sunday School Union and my private matters preparatory to a departure Saturday of this week. I expect to spend the Sabbath at Albia, my former home and then on Monday night or Tuesday morning leave for Arizona.

Have informed the department and Mr. Taylor the time of my departure.

When I arrive at the Marine Agency, I will write you.

Fort Defiance, Arizona Territory
January 18, 1902.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir and Brother:

We are getting on much the same as usual. Two days ago, the 16th, Mr. Eastman gave us the use of a mule team, and we hope our severe annoyance for want of wood is past. One by one, the annoyances will give way I presume. We employ a man at fifteen dollars per month to drive the team and send one of the boys along to help load. This will make the wood cost $15. per month for two or three months and then we shall have enough stored to last some time. Mr. Perkins is very closely confined to the duties of the school and care of the children. We have a nice lot of children. They promise well for the future. Our daily crosses are small I presume in your eyes, and we try to look over them. To-day Mr. Eastman comes to tell us to take in the wire clothes line at night, it will be a real thing. We have always kept it out without loss, and do not see any use in taking it in, but we must obey his orders for they are severe and he never stops until he makes us do his bidding. I want him to get some kind of cloth for the boys pants; have been asking now for three and a half months. He orders me to make pants of ticking on hand, which I need for bedding. I tell him it takes us so much washing and does not wear well for pants; "Well" he says, "it is better than they have ever had." I know that but it keeps me pressed with sewing all the time and washing too. Now we are not bad friends with Mr. Eastman, he is kind to us in many things, brings us his daily papers and in other respects shows an interest at times, but it is clear to us that he has no use for us. This his employees have told us from the beginning. We had sincerely hoped to have seen you face to face and to have given you some light that we cannot trust to paper. We are not tired of our work only weary in the manner of its manipulation. We have a nice school and this is our delight, but we are not enabled to do in it and for it as it deserves. "We hew the wood and draw the water" but our Captain does not succeed in getting here to examine our work and we are too proud to allow ourselves to be snubbed into teaching children not half clad in mid-winter, and in saying half clad, I mean with calico pants and without stockings, and with a poor supply of shoes, hats etc. I have no hats now and but few shoes. I have done complaining from this time forth, I send you the papers or statements your last letter speaks of. I receive good letters and good reports from "Nellie", the Indian girl from this place, sent East by Mrs. Crane of Bacon Springs, is at Carlisle now. Her brother attends school here, and is writing to her to-night. Mrs. Crane made us a pleasant visit.

Yours truly,

Mrs. J. D. Perkins.

Ocate, Mora Co., N.M.

January 18, 1882.

Reverend and dear Brother:

Have just arrived at the Post Office and find a postal here from you which I shall answer before leaving the office, as the mail goes out in a short time, and I shall not have another opportunity of sending you a response until one week from to-day. With reference to your inquiry as to the date of our arrival at Ocate; permit me to say that to the best of my recollection, we arrived on the 20th of October 1878, and opened school in one week after we got here. The second year, I think we opened school on the 7th of November. The third year we were ready to open school if I remember correctly, on the 15th of November, but the weather was very cold, and the school room not being finished and no arrangements having been made for warming it, it was wholly unfit to occupy and we could not get a room elsewhere; so we had to wait until the middle of December, I think it was, before we could open school; but we taught until the 22d of August, other school having closed about the 1st of July. This year we opened school on the 7th of November.

My wife is teaching four miles north of this place this winter and I am teaching here and keeping house alone. We feel that though laboring under very great inconvenience and hardship, by the blessing of God upon our labors, we have been enabled to accomplish a good work among these people. We are highly pleased with our present Superintendent, Reverend Phillips; we feel assured that he will encourage us in our labors and do everything in his power for the good of the church here. He purposes remodelling the work on our chapel and school rooms and furnishing them with suitable stoves for warming as soon as he can possibly do so. He thinks Reverend Roberts has failed to do his duty by the people here, and we think so too. Now my Brother, if the Board as has been intimated by the Ex-Superintendent of this field, is dissatisfied with our labors as teachers here, however painful it may be for us to do so, we are willing to discontinue our labors as Missionary teachers and give place to more competent and efficient workers, at any time the Board wishes us to do so.

Hoping to hear from you as soon as convenient, I remain
Your Brother in Christ,
R.W.Hall.

My dear Miss Dyer:

I am advised by Mrs. Mitchell that arrangements are being made to hold a meeting at Duncannon for the purpose of effecting the organization of the Presbyterian Society. I wish to ask whether it would be feasible for Doctor Jackson to return with us to Williamsport and hold a meeting for the benefit of churches in this section. If such an arrangement can be made, please reply and we will make the arrangements accordingly.

Affectionately,

Dear Doctor:

I am only now back from Washington and send you new mem. by this mail. I had 500 printed and left them with Major Smith, Clerk to the House Committee. Mr. Daves said he would have the mem. printed in last Monday's proceedings and our idea was to keep the Memorials we had printed and at the time our Bill came up have every member served with one. This method gives us two shots.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

Yours of the 2d ult is before me and the following answers your questions:

I first arrived at Mogie on July 15th, 1880

Arrived with my family, October 26, 1880

My brother, William E. Taylor arrived October 25, 1880

Commenced work on our stockade house, November 1, 1880

Moved into stockade house, December 1, 1880

Miss Mary M. Holbrook arrived April 7, 1881.

Miss Mary M. Holbrook was married to Wm. E. Taylor

(the wedding being the first legal one in this community as far as we can learn) April 13, 1881.

Hattie E. Taylor died August 3, 1881 and was buried at sunset of the same day. Here is the only grave in the canon, and I suppose that she is the only American whose last breath was breathed out here.

Alfred DeForrest Taylor was born September 9, 1881 - the first American birth here. We hope to record his baptism as soon as you can visit us. The school at the village was opened November 11, 1881. These are all the dates you ask for and those relating to our children in addition.

I suppose that by "commencement and occupation of house" you refer to our permanent dwelling. That was begun last spring, but we shall not move into it until April or May, I presume as it is not yet completed.

Sincerely yours,

Charles A. Taylor.

We have heard nothing from Mr. Fleming since he had his bonds filled and went on to Washington, which was done promptly. Hope to see him in here shortly. No news to report. The school continues about as when I reported. One or two questions I have asked you are not yet answered; perhaps letters not yet received. In one I spoke of your trying to get us a girl. If you cannot attend to it or do not think it best, please let us know soon, that we may look elsewhere. I trust that the Board will have sent my last quarter's appropriation before you receive this, otherwise please send it early. We are having a good many and heavy bills to meet now, almost all at once. Some $400. on house, groceries just arrived at Railroad and freights due and furniture to pay for soon. As soon as Mr. Fleming arrives I will report, and in any important news or change will keep you posted.

For the present, with kind regards from my wife and myself

I remain as ever your brother,
Charles A. Taylor.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear brother:

Your postal card giving your address in N.Y. is just at hand - I did desire to ask you several questions about outfit, route etc - but it is too late for that now as I expect to be on the road before an answer to this could reach me here.

So I will ask you to answer this at Tucson. It will be a great help to me in making a start there if I find a letter in the office there on my arrival from Brother Jackson.; giving me the names of any persons you know there or know of, who are Presbyterians, or who are likely to take an interest in our work.

If you can enclose me a note of introduction to anyone there so much the better. Then if you will tell me something about the situation there. I understand from what you said and from Doctor Roberts that our church has been sold out to the Congregationalists and that there has been a sort of alternative effort there that has failed. Tell me what you know about it, and if there are any roads in the way, let me know so I may not run against them.

And what is there then to start with now. Also the same with Tombstone, Phoenix, Prescott, etc. Send me the names of any reliable Presbyterian people in any of those places, or any whom else in Arizona that I can put myself in communication with as soon as I get out there. Any other information you may think will be of service to me will be gladly received. Please write me so it will reach Tucson by the last of this month as I hope to be there by that time. I see by the Minutes we have a church organization at Tucson. What do you know about it? Has it any elders and who are they?

But you know what kind of information I need.

With many thanks for kind wishes and favors,

Fraternally yours,

M. Robertson.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

I have in hand $3.50 sent me for this year's subscription to Presbyterian Home Missions. Ought it to go to Cincinnati?

Cannot you stop here on your way to Washington or else send word if any names are to be written or accounts kept for Presbyterian Home Missions - say for March number. Have you written to Miss Potter to send in the books.

Is there no hope of getting a door through Dr. Randall's office into next building?

Now about yourself and Mrs. Jackson. Please just come here to this house - and make a visit, which all of us will enjoy. This will give an opportunity for further plans. I am a little afraid about what we were speaking of but if that falls through - there will be good chance to inquire in neighborhood. Miss Howe is ready, whenever there is anything to do for Presbyterian Home Missions.

Yours respectfully,

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE

SAN Carlos Indian Agency, A.T.
January 24, 1882.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

I am truly sorry to write you there is still no school opened, no Principal here and hear nothing from since some time in December. Colonel Tiffany is still absent and if here would not have the school opened until the Principal opened it and I have at last made up my mind it is best for me to go back home and will do so as soon as the Board sends me my salary. I wish to leave as soon as the first of March, if there is opportunity to do so. I feel badly about it but the work is not going on at all as it should, and at the same time we are doing what we can which is not half what one should do. Yet I know we are doing all in our power. Miss Stewart says she shall stay the year out; that is until May, a year from the time we came. I very much regret not doing more and shall ever do so. I shall never think of the poor Indians of San Carlos without a heart pang. I did hope the work would have been going on as it should before I left, for I have felt since last summer I must go in the spring. Should not think it safe to remain through the hot season, it affected me so badly last season. This winter I have been quite well and could have done something if there had been a chance. The boys and girls come to my room and plead for a school: say "school mucho" and when I tell them by and by they are disappointed and are losing confidence if I am not mistaken. We have told them that so long. The buildings are good and there is material for a good school, all that is wanted is Teachers, some one to take interest in the work. I feel the money and time spent so far by our Board is almost lost. I say this with sorrow and humiliation but cannot help the matter. I have already said too much for my own good and yet have not meant to complain of anyone in the least. There is hope of a school if it ever gets started which I almost doubt. I would not write so plainly to the Societies as it would discourage them and do no good but I think you ought to know about it. Please consider this confidential. I have as I said before, incurred displeasure by speaking my honest convictions. Every day the women and children come to my room and I show them what I can about their work often cutting and fitting their garments and helping them make them and have gained their confidence in this way. I can see, as the mothers now talk of letting the girls come when the school opens and they would not hear anything of it last season, as they like to keep their daughters to help carry the burdens. I have a chart in my room and when they come in, get them to count and read, and I sing with the school boys who have learned "I am so glad that Jesus loves me." .. and it may tell in eternity, oh that it may spring up and bring some fruit. I do so wish you could have come down to San Carlos yourself this winter, it looks to me as if things would have gone differently. I thank you much for those papers you so kindly sent us. Please remember this is only for yourself. I shall be glad to hear from you soon and be assured of my warm interest and sympathy in your noble work. May the Lord bless you. Do not forget us in your prayers.

Very truly yours,

W.F. Chandler.

P.S. Should the principal come and it be thought best for me to stay on through next quarter ending May, I will try to do so.

Dear Brother:

In reply to your inquiries, my husband organized the Presbyterian church of Santa Fe in the spring of 1867 (January 13th) with twelve members and had communion in the parlor of the Governor's palace. The building where we usually held services, belonging to the Catholics, was found locked that morning. We reached there November 22, 1866 and he preached the following Sabbath in the Senate Chamber and organized a Sabbath School of seven scholars and three teachers.

On December 7th, 1866, we commenced a parochial school. Miss Mary Mallory teacher came in 1869 and left in 1871. Miss Davis came in 1869 and Miss Crothers taught in 1872-3.

We left Santa Fe in 1873 on account of my husband's health.

Very truly yours,
Mrs. E.F. McFarland.

2000-

I take this method of expressing the thanks of myself and family to Major William Souverneur Morris and the citizens of Sitka, who labored so heroically, exposing their lives, in rescue of our furniture from the fire at the "Industrial Home" on the morning of January 24, 1882. Also, for the many expressions of sympathy of the good parties at the time and since. With many, many thanks, I shall ever remain

Most gratefully yours,

I did not receive your note until 2 this morning too late to send Miss Howe over. My son Harry goes to Centre Street to day to inquire what word you left. Miss Howe will probably go over herself to-morrow as I do not see where she can stay. I brought some of the work can be brought home. We will see about it. I had sent to Mrs. D.E. F. ps but she wrote of needing articles. Will do as you say about Mrs. F.B.G.

F.B.E. Haines

San Luis, Colorado,
January 26, 1882.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

In reply to your card of enquiry as to date of opening and closing school at San Luis and Mesilla though I have no exact record of dates, I can come within a few days of the time.

The summer I went to Mesilla, I did not take much over a month's vacation, as I feared some time might elapse before another teacher should reach here.

I opened school in Mesilla about the middle of September 1880 and closed about the middle of June, 1881. It is too warm to teach there during the summer weather.

The present school year I opened school September 5. As this is the only Protestant school in this country, I have had my commission made out for Castilla Co., instead of for San Luis, that I may do some vacation work in some of the little towns in the vicinity, should the way be open.

I think no one could ask for a more enthusiastic welcome than the people of this place gave me upon my return from Mesilla.

There were nearly thirty in school previous to Christmas but by that time the "Powers that be" took the alarm and started an opposition school. They have enticed away seven of my little Mexicans, but only one of the number had been my pupil for any length of time.

There are 17 in school now; four of them being Germans from Mannassa, Conejos Co.

The padres have started an opposition Sabbath School also. That has brought the Sabbath School down from 35 to 15.

In regard to this opposition school, I can say with Job, "That which I greatly feared has come upon me," yet I believe our work here is not men's but God's, and if it is His the gates of Hell even shall not prevail against it.

The asthmatic trouble for which I went to Mesilla has not returned, and I am able to keep house and teach without feeling much the worse for it.

Reverend J.J. Gilchrist, who took Reverend Morton's place, is doing extremely well, both in Mexican and American work. Miss Crinstead, who, as you will doubtless remember, came to San Luis in my place, is in a Mexican school in Conejas Co., near where Father Gomez lives. She is well pleased and is succeeding finely. The schools at Ciniceros and San Rafael are prospering. Mr. Jacobs told me a few weeks since of quite a Protestant awakening at San Acacio, a little town three miles south of this place, but I have heard nothing of it from any source. A Mexican from Conejos, N.M. went up to Alamosa just before the holidays and united with the Presbyterian church but I know of no other tokens for good in this vicinity.

Thanks for your paper.

Yours truly,
Anna M. Ross.

Dear Brother Jackson:

I wish you would ask Hon. Mr. Pierce if we cannot have rations added to the contract for such teachers as desire it. The Utah Valley Agency and one other complain of the increased labor of keeping up a separate table and prefer to take their meals with the pupils. See if he will grant the rations in such cases to them.

If he will grant it without our sending back the contracts to be changed can he give us a general order?

Please ask him if we cannot have a contract filled out that we may send to the principal teacher at any agency. Now some or all of them have none and have to go to the agent to find out what we have contracted to do. Should the teachers have a copy to go by? Will you see to these points?

I hope you will see Doctor Thomas and Professor and help them.

Let us hear from you.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

I want to ask a little information for our Sabbath School again. We usually need thirty dollars each year to run "Home Mission" field. This year our minds have been directed towards girls schools in New Mexico. We think we would like to take a scholarship in some of these schools or devote about this sum annually towards the education of some girl. Please give us some information in regard to these schools. How many and where are they. Which is the most needy and the amount required for this purpose. And an immediate reply will greatly oblige us as our money should have been sent before.

I have never before had the opportunity of thanking you for your kindness in directing us to a field for our box two years ago. We corresponded with the Reverend Alexander Darley, and sent to his care a very beautiful box, mainly the work of our Sabbath School pupils.

Yours very truly,

(Mrs.) Mary L. Bracken.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

It is my pleasant duty, as Secretary of our Society, to write you to make inquiry as to whether you will consent to be present at our annual meeting in February, and make an address at an evening meeting. If it is convenient to you we would have Thursday, February 16th, but we can have our meeting on Tuesday 14, if it would be more agreeable to you.

We have here in Harrisburg a "Union Woman's Home Mission Society" made up of members of our four Presbyterian churches and in February we will be just one year old. Our meeting will be held in the Pine Street church and we would be very glad to hear from you at your earliest convenience whether you can be present and when. We very much hope for a favorable answer. We expect to have an all-day meeting for women and girls, with a general meeting in the audience room of the church in the evening.

With feelings of highest regard,

very truly yours,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,

Dear Sir:

You will recall with pleasure your visit to our 7th Avenue Mission as we do, and your talk about Alaska. The Mission wish us to put in your hand for that object, you having excited in us all a very deep interest in that locality, the sum of $30. and I hereby enclose my check to your order, for that amount. You suggested that the money should be sent to "Reverend Walker B. Hedges, Hoonah Tribe" and I have written him that we have placed in your hands, the enclosed amount to be expended as he shall deem wise and requesting that he write us regarding it and such points of interest as will be most welcome to our scholars.

Kindly acknowledge receipt of this and oblige
yours truly,
D. Edwin Newley.

Reverend Dr. Ward:

Dear Brother:

Allow me to introduce to you, Reverend William Jackson, he preached for me this morning, holding the congregation in intense interest as he depicted the great needs of the Gospel in this Alaska, etc. Dr. Jackson has no desire to take up collections, his great desire being to sustain the interest of the people in this centre of influence, in spreading the Gospel through their own denominations and arresting the evils of immorality and such like curses. He was in the pulpit of Seattle two years ago, also in the Metro-politan W.C., and is always welcome to the pulpit of our own denomination. If you could give him a hearing I think both you and your people would be delighted with him.

Yours sincerely,
John Chester.

Dear Doctor J. A. Ann:

The loss of the Hospital Building by fire on the evening of the 11th inst. will be unwelcome news to the many friends of this Mission. We are thankful that no lives were lost and that all such property was saved. However, the organ and all the school furniture and what goods were in the store room were lost; among the rest the chest of carpenter tools. The fire broke out in the school room and was through the roof before it was discovered. Mr. Austin thinks it was some defect about the chimney. He had prayers in that room with the boys before they went to bed.

The loss of this building may change your ideas and plans for work here. It appears to me you should make arrangements at once to rebuild upon an enlarged scale.

I think it would be well for the Mission to locate the land back of the Russian graveyard as far back as they pleased. Nearly all of this land can be made to produce abundantly. It is now one thick mass of salmonberry bushes. Indian dead houses stand back of the ranch but I believe that they could be easily persuaded to remove them to a more suitable place.

The gift of this property would in my opinion be far preferable to the Hospitable. I hope that matters have not advanced so far but that you will make the change.

We have sold five cooking stoves with complete furniture to these Indians within the past 15 months. We have also sold several heating stoves and many windows to them. They buy jack planes, chisels and other tools. Tom, the policeman last week bought a grindstone and fixtures and $8.50 worth of 3 in line. He was preparing to get in a raft of logs. He wants to build a frame house. Another Indian who worked upon the Jamestown and Washwell and who saved his money, has been inquiring of me how much lumber it would require to build a house 16 by 30. He looked at our windows and doors. Several others contemplate building small houses. Dick the young chief told me a few days ago, that when he got up he went over to his brother's house to work for him - it was warm. To be in his own house is very little better than to be out of doors. We have sold more shoes and pants this last year and fewer blankets than the previous year. There is a stronger desire for better things. They want to live more comfortably. The younger families are anxious to get out of the communal houses into small ones of their own. The frog carver is in his own little house with his wife and child. They have taken pains to even and ornament to this tiny place. Last week they bought a large side lamp with reflector. He wanted a better light to work by at night. He will soon have ready about 20 frogs, upon which he and his wife have spent over a month's labor. These people are prepared to abandon their old superstitions as they find the truth shining in on them stronger. This they get at the Mission from week to week. Many of them now take a genuine interest in all the services. A few of the women were moved to tears as they saw the building in flames. It was a matter of great concern to the boys to know whether they should be obliged to return to the Indian ranch. When assured that they would not their faces lighted up with a smile of relief.

The soil I may say has been broken up and it is high time to begin planting in earnest. The consciences of some of the natives seem now to be at work excusing and accusing some of their daily acts. They look forward to the coming of the Sabbath with interest. All have been created alike at the Mission and there is no division known among themselves as Christian and heathen Indians. The younger ones speak lightly of many of their old customs.

Sincerely yours,
J. G. Brady.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
My dear Brother:

Your letter of last Saturday came last night. I have written to Will Shallenberger. He is one of my boys. I gave him as good and as handsome a wife as I ever gave to any man. He was a trustee, Sabbath School teacher, supervisor, etc., in my Bridgewater church for several years. I do not believe that a more honest man sits in Congress to-day. Besides, he is able. He will lift this matter at Sitka, I can assure you and if right to all concerned, it will go through, if his influence can make it go. Surely nothing better could be done with an abandoned government building up there where I never expect to be, than to make it over to the Home Missions, where the children of what a friend of mine calls "these yellow devils," may be educated. Even Lora says our only hope for the poor Indian is to educate his children. She is now off as a sort of police officer I reckon, to bring back some Indians who boarded a freight train and went home. I am coming to have strong faith in our efforts with the children. Mrs. Shields says Lora is getting some stronger since she returned. I am afraid her health will not justify her remaining long in the work. Thanks to you for all your kindness and interest in her. She has some brains and some grace, but too much ambition for her physical strength. She works too hard.

Hoping that God may long use you for His glory I am as ever
Yours truly and fraternally,
James W. Shields.

Fort Defiance, A.T.,
January 31, 1882.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Sir and Brother:

Having an opportunity to send a letter to the _____ to be mailed to you, I hasten to speak of our last few days experience. On Saturday last Mr. Perkins went to Mr. Eastman for leather to repair shoes for the children. Three large boys having agreed to make an effort to mend their shoes; there being no large shoes here. Mr. Eastman refused with a very impolite "No sir! The leather is not intended for the school." And yet Dr. Sutherland showed us not long since how neatly he had tapped his families shoes. Are we to furnish the leather? is so how, and when and where are we to get our money back, for we are in immediate need of money.

The candles also Mr. Eastman says must be charged to Mr. Perkins who furnishes the lights. If we are to do it we should at least be notified of the fact and some funds be sent us for that purpose. We have had no material yet for boys pants, are using ticking which we dislike very much. The school increases in interest. Our help is all Navajo with the exception of one American lady a part of the time. The sewing machines are operated by women and boys. The cooking, washing, wood helling, chopping and much general household work is performed by them. We are quite well although very tired, not tired of our work but tired in it. We hope to hear from you. You can help us as much by going to Washington, hence we will not ask you to come to make us a visit during the cold season. We are in need of dried fruit tea, baking powder and coffee. Is there no way of regulating these things. I write to the Honorable Commissioner making some statement in regard to our quarterly report of Garments manufactured. You will get the ideas as set forth. We are compelled to do some things that are absolutely wrong, but we are worried into it by promises which are never kept. I told you in my last that I was ~~some~~ complaining. I trust I am, but we never know what a day will bring forth. We are in need of shoes and stockings; the weather is severe. Our terms with Mr. Eastman are kindly enough but he is no school man. What are we to do about these poor people. We know that Mr. Keene is in Washington, but we know also that he said only one year ago that if he was agent here he would not have an American family on the Reservation. These Indians are a fine people and deserve not only the prayers of God's people but some wise legislation in regard to their management. Mr. Eastman is the first man except Captain Bennett, that I ever heard talk school and yet fight school all the time. If the children could only live on air while he lived on their supplies, and wear their blankets while he, his son, clerk, issue clerk etc, wear their nice red flannels, the school would be all right, but Mr. Eastman wants no school in my opinion, and will not have more of one than he had when you were here if they are to be clothed and fed.

Very sincerely,

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

We both send kind regards to you and Mrs. Jackson with congratulations that you have a home again.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

My dear sir:

Last evening, a member of Dr. Hall's church, I listened with profound interest to your lecture on Alaska. Mr. Paton and myself are associated in our 7th Ave. Mission, connected with our church and we have thought to-day that if it were possible, on next Sabbath afternoon, for you to give our scholars a little talk on the same subject, we should greatly appreciate it.

It would increase the interest in Missionary work, and last Sabbath, in my Missionary Report, I specially alluded to and recommended Alaska. Our session is at 2 - 4 P.M. and we could appropriate 20 minutes to this object. The Mission is in 7th Ave. between 17 and 18th Streets and is our oldest station. Kindly reply by return of mail - sending us, please, the paper which was in the pews last evening.

Sincerely yours,
D. Edwin Hawley.

Thursday.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

Can you let me know something more about the Hospital at Fort Wrangle, Alaska. The children in a little Sunday School I am interested in, some fifteen miles from here and a Mission of our school are raising money for the cause of home Missions and are anxious to have it go to a definite object so they may hear in no time what their money is doing. Could they take a bed in the Hospital. That is, pay so much a year to support one person in the Hospital and let them bear two or three times a year who occupied their bed and any incidents connected with the patients. I think they would like it even better than educating a child. Surely in every Mission enterprise, there should be a hospital, for all hearts are softened by sickness and sorrow and hospitals always have been the accompaniment of the Gospel of the Great Physician.

I feel sure the people of the land will take up this matter and before long a well appointed hospital with a good physician and well trained nurse at the head will be provided and soon also from that will grow a home for the aged and infirm. Whatever we can do to help these objects we will cheerfully do and if you will kindly let us know something on the subject we will be obliged. I hope you will let us know whenever you come East for we would like to have you speak at one of our Missionary meetings which occur the beginning of every month. Our school is educating a child in Indian Territory and one in Alaska and would like to know from word of mouth about these schools.

Truly yours,

Mrs. Horace Brock, school? or did he sign and leave it at the "Department?"

Reverend W.J. Bridges, 77 Reid Ave., Brooklyn, wants you some Sabbath A.M. Write him. His is a small Mission church. Doctor Roberts will likely preach for him February 13.

Young has asked that Tillie and Louie be sent to Shikan Mountain Farber - where the Spragues are and the Secretaries have decided to do it. J.W. McFarland starts the 8th of this month for Fort Wrangel.

Hope you are well.

Yours truly,

O.E. Ecyd.

Annie has to give up school for the rest of the school year and is with us. Oscar is very sick with cold but was this morning some better.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Brother:

I am glad you can give us Sunday mornings as well as evenings through February, I hope.

I will write you of appointments soon.

Can you address the members of Memorial Church Friday February 10 at their "Concert for prayers and Missions." Also, the Women's Missionary Society of the Westminster Church Monday afternoon, February 13?

Please drop me a card informing me if this will be agreeable to you.

I dislike to ask you to speak before small gatherings of ladies but it seems necessary to keep up the interest in home missions in this way, but please write me frankly if you think your time too precious for such efforts.

I would like to hear from you by telegraph in time to have your coming announced from the pulpit Sunday Morning.

Always my house, 972 Myrtle Ave., your hotel in Brooklyn, when it is more convenient for you to remain over night here, or at any other time.

Very truly yours,

Mary E. Jones.

James, New Mexico.

February 3, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear sir:

Would you please inform me if you are still Superintendent of Missions for New Mexico. I sometimes feel as if I would like to give up this work to other hands. Some new arrangement will have to be made at least, and I hardly know how to get at the matter. We wanted to go home in March for a short vacation, but Doctor T. is off to Washington and I fear I can get nothing done. Mrs. Shields is an excellent teacher and can manage Indians splendidly, but by fall coming she will have to quit teaching entirely. If some good arrangement cannot be made for help here, I would like to quit next fall. I cannot bear to think of leaving the dear children of James, but others could teach them now in school and it seems that the Government don't really want religion taught them. What do you think the Board would do for me if I were to resign the Mission proper at James? Would they allow me to work among Mexicans and Americans anywhere in this Country or would they just let me go? It is just impossible for one man to attend to the Indian work under the Government and attend to the Mexicans also. Then I think you know there was great objection made even to my ordination and it seems that the Government has never been willing to recognize the religious part of the business at James. Among all our difficulties here, this has discouraged me most. Were I just a Missionary of the Board here, I would never think of quitting yet. This is a grand field here and promises well some time. Please let me know if you still have a say in matters in New Mexico.

Your Brother in Christ,
J.M. Shields.

Reverend Doctor Jackson:

Dear Brother:

The Rocky Mountain Presbyterian, 1880 and the Presbyterian Home Missions, 1881 have been received through Messrs. Monfort and Co., of Cincinnati. They are very neatly bound in 1 vol. It has been placed upon the Library shelves and will be highly prized. Please accept our sincere thanks for your thoughtful courtesy.

Very Respectfully,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Brother:

I have been writing for two weeks, trying to catch up with my correspondence. Yesterday, the Revenue Cutter "Valcott" came in. Colonel Oakford entered from below on the "Valcott". He got his papers at Port Townsend. Among other papers he had had "Presbyterian Home Missions." It is a very nice paper. But I feel a little distressed about it. It will not take the place of the dear old "Rocky Mountain Presbyterian" and will not be satisfactory to the women's societies and Mission bands. Because I think from the present number it is going to be too high toned to publish the commonplace letters and little items sent on by Missionaries in the different fields. I presume my Christmas letter will not be published. If not, I will be much obliged if you will return it to me. I care nothing for it only a great many ladies had written to me asking for a description of our Christmas festivities and as it was impossible for me to write to them all I referred them to my letter which would be published in your paper. We are all unusually anxious for the steamer. Especially Miss Dunbar I feel anxious to hear from you; to know what you are going to do and where you are going to be. Mr. Chapman is here. He came over a few days ago and will remain until the steamer comes in. No doubt he will write to you. If he has not already done so, I think he has made a very creditable beginning at Hydah. He is stopping at Mr. Young's. There is a young man here sent up by the Northwest Trading Company to go to Hydah to establish a fishery and make oil. From what I have seen of him I do not think he will advance the spiritual interests of the Indians. But he says his wife who is in New York is a Christian and a Presbyterian. February 9th. Your short note of January 12th was received day before yesterday. Glad to know we are not forgotten. Hope you will find time before long to write us a long letter. One of your family at least was disappointed that we had no arrivals this steamer. Where are going to have your family live? Miss Dunbar unites in kind regards.

Very sincerely,
A.R. McFarland.

February 10, 1862.

Dear Doctor:

Since closing the other letter Mr. Young has been here. He had received money from the Board for the Home debts. Said among the first he wanted to pay me, I told him you had let me have $45.00 on that bill. But he said as he had included that in his account he had sent to the Board that he would much prefer to pay me and then I could write on to you and have it deducted from my salary for next Quarter. The next quarter will not be due until May 1st. I will write to Doctor Kendall when I send my report about the matter. I trust it will be satisfactory to you to arrange it in this manner. It takes the form of a loan from you for which I am much obliged and as I am very short of money, it helps me to get this from Mr. Young.

Very truly your friend,
A.R. McFarland.

I had my picture taken in San Francisco. But they are miserable. I will send you one of the small ones I had taken in Portland when I was down before. I do not know whether I sent you one or not. My friends all like this one.

The other side of this was written to go last mail to explain why I sent the small picture. But it failed to get into the envelope.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Bureau of education.

Washington, D.C.,

February 4, 1882.

The Honorable

The Secretary of the Interior.

Sir:

My attention is called to the provisions of the law determining the purpose and duties of this office, which provides that it shall "collect statistics and facts showing the condition and progress of education in the several States and Territories, and to diffuse such information respecting the organization and management of schools and school-systems and methods of teaching, as shall aid the people of the United States in the establishing and maintenance of efficient school-systems and otherwise promote the cause of education throughout the country," and it is affirmed that I have not yet made any specific recommendations with regard to education in Alaska. I cannot claim to be ignorant of the fact that there is no law either for the protection of life or property or for the establishment of schools in that Territory, nor would I be among those who are indifferent to facts reflecting so unfavorably upon us as a people. I have sought diligently to gather all information in regard to the education of children of Alaskans, as will be seen by reference to the several reports of this office. Prior to the purchase of Alaska, the Russian government had schools in portions of that country. When it was transferred to the United States those schools were generally discontinued, and the entire Territory, with few exceptions, has been left without any means of education. From the Census of 1880, we learn that there are about thirty thousand people in Alaska, and of these it is observed that (1) they are docile, peaceful, and have here and there some knowledge of useful industries; are apt in the mechanical arts, and anxious for instruction. (2) They are a self-supporting people, needing no annuities, clothing or rations from the government, but do need teachers that they cannot procure for themselves. These teachers should instruct them not only in their letters, but in the arts of civilized life and the duties of American citizenship. (3) If given an opportunity for this kind of instruction for a few years, they would, it is believed, make good progress in throwing off tribal relations, and in preparation to become an integral part of the American people, thus contributing to the common wealth and prosperity of the country.

(4) It is well known that civilization in approaching an untutored people may be their destruction by sending its vices before its virtues. It is equally well known that noxious weeds spring up spontaneously where useful plants must be cultivated, and not neglect but painstaking care is necessary to the improvement of the human. The people of Alaska having received some measure of aid from Russian government, have expected the same from the United States. The natives, already to a certain extent demoralized by the introduction of intemperance and disease, it is thought would, by the introduction of schools, be prepared better to resist these evils and stand a far better chance to be a permanent and prosperous race.

(5) The development of the fishing interests, the discovery of gold, and the increase of commerce in that region, are now calling public attention to it, and the time seems to have arrived when school privileges should be immediately provided. In 1870, Congress appropriated fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) for educational purposes in Alaska which, on account of difficulties of administration at that time, was not expended there. This amount could now be expended there, I am sure, with satisfactory results.

In accordance, therefore, with these considerations, and in order not to come short of any duty required of me by law, I have the honor to recommend that Congress be requested to appropriate fifty thousand dollars ($50,000.) for the establishment and maintenance of school for instruction in letters and industry at such points in Alaska as shall be designated by the Honorable Secretary of the Interior.

I have the honor to be,

Very respectfully,

Yours obedient servant,

John Eaton, Commissioner.

Fort Wrangel, Arizona Territory.

February 4, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

This is my first opportunity of writing you since Chief Skulka came over last fall. I went over Kluwuck with the Indians and got a part of the things and when we return I want to take more. I used one window and three rolls of tarred paper. We made and gathered up around the place material to fix up the house, make benches etc., instead of going up to the mill. Some of this material (a few planks) I promise to return when we get lumber. I sold them nails to the amount of $2.00 which can be charged to me. We have made the Mission self-supporting so far, but I have received no credit for doing so, except from him whose ways are mysterious. The Chief's wife has done my washing free of charge, and done it well, but it has been rather discouraging trying to wear a stand up collar without being starched, and if we had not made up our mind to get along without begging we would ask for some. Our Syrian friends send you many thanks and eye and eye we will try and send you something more to remind you that we do not forget the bridge that carries us safe over.

J.E. Chapman.

Dear Sir:

I have now arrived at the stage in my report where I should desire to incorporate the educational statistics of Southeastern Alaska. Can you tell me how soon your report to the Senate on the subject will be given to the public? If there be no immediate prospect of this I would ask you to furnish me a brief abstract for the purpose mentioned. Any material thus furnished will of course be duly credited.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

The volume of the Rocky Mountain Presbyterian is at hand, for which accept our warmest thanks.

You can arrange for a meeting to present "Woman's work in Home Missions" to the students any time between February 27th and March 10th. It would to come later on account of the "Review". I shall be pleased to have you abide with me when you come.

Mrs. Darwin R. James:

Dear Madam:

I am greatly obliged for your note and am desirous of obtaining the presence of the Reverend Dr. Jackson at our monthly concert of prayer next Friday Eve, at 7.45. The subject of the meeting will be Home Mission work and if you can secure his attendance, I will send special notice, through my congregation. I will also drop a line to Reverend Doctor Kendall on the subject.

Very truly yours,
Charles Cuthbert Hall.

I wrote Reverend C. Cuthbert Hall asking if he desired to secure you for next Sunday. As you could not gratify the Memorial Church at their "concert for Missions," I suppose you will not be able to favor the 1st Church in this way. But I leave the decision with you, I will expect you to supply the pulpits in two churches next Sunday, morning and evening.

Yours truly,

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE.

Moquis Pueblos Indian Agency, A.T.
February 6, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Brother:

Mr. Fleming is here, and busy invoicing, and I am very busy helping him to get matters in running order and can write but little now. As soon as Mr. Fleming is in charge, we shall hasten school matters forward, as rapidly as possible, though of necessity it will require some time to get buildings in condition and supplies for school. I am sorry to have to report that my brother has resigned and has accepted a position at the Agency.

I do not know that he can be blamed for this step as he has been here nine months suppositively in employ of the Board without receiving any pay, notwithstanding it places us in an unfortunate position, compelling the discontinuing of school until it can be opened down here. As early as possible we must have a maison, whom I leave for you to select.

I trust that you may yet visit us, and by the time you come it may be convenient for the team to meet you at Winslow on the A. & P. R.R.

Our mail is to come that way hereafter. You will therefore please address us here via Winslow instead of via Fort Wingate.

Faternally,

Charles A. Taylor.

Thanks for Presbyterian Home Missions received. I wish to have my numbers bound and so desired them complete.

Our efficient Secretary of C.F.M.S. is getting subscribers for your excellent paper. I prize it very much indeed.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

I received with gratitude (by this January steamer) the pleasing intelligence that Mr. McF. had been appointed as Missionary to this place. And better still that you expected to have him come as an Evangelist. Will you accept my sincere thanks. I know that to you (in God's hands) I owe it all. The consideration and sympathy which prompted your taking such an active part in the matter is doubly precious to me. It was with feelings of anxious expectancy, I awaited the decision and I can now see Providence clear as noon-day in many events of my life. When I now look back to that day in Pittsburgh when we were both introduced to you, as candidate for Alaska, I now know that the good Lord brought us face to face with the right man in the right place. We anticipated the coming of the whole party by this ship but were disappointed. Tidings, however, reached us, that there had been a dispatch, sent to Reverend Reed at Port Townsend from you stating that three Missionaries would be aboard the Isaho, en route for Alaska, which of course we concluded were our friends. I regret exceedingly that they were so unfortunate as to miss the connection. "A bird in the hand is worth two in the bush." So when my ship comes in, you will hear from me again. I received a nice letter from you this mail from Mrs. Voorhees, they are well. With much love to Mrs. Jackson and the girls, I am

Most thankfully your

Sister in Christ,

Maggie J. Dunbar.

P.S. When we heard of his appointment, we told Mr. Youngs - You never saw such an astonished set as they were. Apparently they tried to express such joy, but I could see Mr. Young was chagrined, from the remark he made that he did not understand why the Board would appoint a Missionary to Wrangel without consulting him. Strange, isn't it? Tell Bessie she should see her husband, who is so sweet, and has crept right into Mrs. McFarland's heart.

Dear Doctor:

I suppose you will have seen, by this time, Petroff's article in the Int. Review for February and if so will be justly indignant at its statements. I happen to know (I think) the "true inwardness" of Mr. Petroff, on the Alaska question, and if you desire it, I will write a kind of answer to his abuse, for publication in any paper or periodical you may select. I would not care to do so for a week or two yet, under my own name, as the crisis of both the Alaska case here (Delegates and Civil Government) will be reached within that time. - Still I would do so, irrespective of consequences, if you think it necessary or especially desire it. But I would

Dear Sir:

I regret exceedingly not being able to find any of our prominent churches disengaged for Sunday evening. Doctor Van Dyls had just brought before his people the project of a new lecture-room; Doctor Cuyler had promised Professor Liebert of Bloomfield Theological Seminary his pulpit for the morning; Doctor Wells wants you for the 16th (I have informed him of your engagement upon the morning of that day at Doctor Vincents).

I am much pleased with Reverend J. Loomis Gould, and my desire that the saw-mill be obtained. I am looking for opportunities to aid in the work. In the meantime, it seems to me he needs a better library.

Shall I not endeavor to secure him the library or money to buy it?

Truly yours,

Mary E. James.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Friend:

I open the letter I had finished before going to our devotional meeting this afternoon, to say that we have organized a plan to procure the saw-mill. Please state how much has already been promised and I think we can assure you of the rest. Doctor Ladlow's people are, I think, roused to interest in Home Missions and will, I think, do more for us hereafter. And now will you fix the dates when you can address the Greenpoint Church (Reverend W. Taylor's); the Gates ave (Reverend W. Bridges) and the Fort Green church (Reverend Doctor McClelland's.)

They are all asking to hear from you, Mr. McCullough and Doctor Cuyler also but they will fix their own time.

if it were done before the bills were safely through, an insidious but more determined effort to defeat them than this condemning by faint praise has been. By the way, the proverb of glass houses would apply here. He knows as well that the area of Southeast Alaska is three times what he states it at, as he does that the Western part, (the "bulk" as he calls it) is all that the revenue cutters have, as a general thing, ever been regularly sent to. But I have no time to write about it here. I have let the Members of the Sub-Committee on Alaska (Territorial Committee) one of whom I found with P's article, know the secret of his assertions, I shall take care of your reputation before them, at least. Think of what I offer and call on me, if you think it advisable and not calculated to hurt me here for I must not make any new enemies, unless necessary - and then I can not.

Time slipped faster than I knew, and Mrs. Ball and myself were both sick - besides horrible weather. So we called on you and Mrs. Jackson the very morning after you left.

Hastily but truly,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

My dear Sir:

I am going to Toronto this evening, and will not return to my home from Canada until the morning of the 23d inst. So it is impossible for me to be in Washington on the 20th. Of course, my heart is with the brethren in this movement, but as to the best means of meeting and removing the evil I am still in doubt. One marriage for the Republic which shall do away with the different state laws on this subject, shall make polygamy a crime, and shall render divorce impossible except for unfaithfulness to the marriage vow in which case remarriage of the innocent party may be admissible; and for cruelty or desertion, in which case no remarriage shall be possible, but only a judicial separation recognized - seems to me the wisest way to begin and then if the law be broken, let it take its course. This would however be only prospective. When we think of compelling a polygamist to put away his wives difficulty begins; and something must be done for the poor women who would thus be cast off. But an earnest nation will meet everything and overcome everything. And the nation is becoming earnest. When Congress sees that, it will begin to move.

William M. Taylor.

THE LADIES BOARD OF MISSIONS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

23 W. 19th St. New York.
February 14, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Dear Sir:

This note which I enclose has just been handed to me, as Mrs. Graham is unable to attend to it. It does not seem to come within our domain, so I send it to you to lay before the Woman's Executive Committee if the statements in it are correct, and will send them a trifle myself. Letters have just arrived from the Goulds and Fort Wangle. I presume you have also heard, but will repeat what Mr. Gould says, as it seems important. His stock of medicine and surgical appliances has been largely drawn upon, and nearly exhausted. Mrs. and Miss Gould have been dangerously ill, and the natives appeal to them in cases of sickness. How can they get a reinforcement of such things? Are any express boxes going out from the Board, or does it fall to the share of the ladies to supply these wants? As I cannot refer these questions to Mrs. Graham I am obliged to trouble you. A note from Mrs. Young says that an application has been made to increase Mr. McFarland's salary. How is this proposition received by the Board? Mrs. Graham fails daily.

Yours respectfully,

Emily M. Wheeler,

Our plans for a meeting on the evening of the 20th have failed. The brethren have fixed upon the Memorial church and at 4 P.M. next Friday, the 19th inst. Mr. Frelinghuysen declined to preside for Monday. We will get the best presiding officer we can and will rely upon you for the chief speech, upon Mormonism. Brother Ramsdell and myself to go tomorrow a.m. to see Commissioner Price D.V. to ask him also to make a short speech; each of you about 25 or 30 minutes.

You are to be with Brother Greene in the morning.

The question as to a future meeting is an open question. Doctor Storrs declined and Bishop Simpson has not yet been heard from.

We feel that they have been very successful in numbers at least, and I've no doubt a great deal of good will be accomplished. I feel you have the sympathy of your whole audience every time. The ladies who remained almost unanimously voted for a central organization. I should say there were more than fifty ladies, representing all the churches in the vicinity. Our officers are to be a President Secretary and Executive committee, consisting of two ladies from each church entering the organization, and pledging to work through the Executive Board. Dear Doctor:

I am suffering with rheumatism which admonishes me to stay in today, or should have come to your meeting this P.M. If you can be at the room of House Committee on Enrolled Bills - next to Stationary Room - at 11 A.M. tomorrow you would gratify the Sub-Committee of Territories on the Alaska subject, and possibly do good service to the cause. The meeting is specially in hope of having you present. I could not find you yesterday, or should surely have done so. Tried at General Eaton's and Dall's and Harris!

I wrote you to N.Y. about Petroff's article. Hope you got the letter. He is sending it (the article) I think to the Committee members, but I can assure you it has not availed with them to destroy your credit as an author.

Mrs. Ball and I called on you and Mrs. Jackson, at 43 Gage St., but you had left the evening before. I did not feel the time slipping away and we were both unwell and the weather was very bad you will remember. I hope I may see you before you leave this time, and at the Committee Room tomorrow.

Very truly yours,
W.D.Ball.

My dear Brother:

I am engaged for a meeting in Staten Island in the evening of the 20th and cannot change.

Besides I was too lately in Washington to return to it for another public meeting. I went for the Y.N.C.A. a fortnight after we were there.

Yours ever truly,
John. Ball.

My dear Mr. Harris:

Allow me to introduce to you Reverend Doctor Sheldon Jackson, Superintendent of the Home Missionary work of our church in the North West.

Doctor Jackson is cognizant as perhaps no other man is, of the condition and needs of Alaska, Utah and the other important territories of the United States in that region. You will find him able and willing to give you any information you may desire with regard to them, and an acquaintance with you will doubtless aid him in the important work he has in contemplation for that whole section.

Very truly yours,

Joseph T. Kelly.

Dear Brother Jackson:

After such a long experience at "the front" I am glad to know that you are about to go into "garrison" for a change.

It will be well for you to humor your roving habits for awhile however in making short trips, otherwise you may become discontented and run off to Alaska or Mexico before you are fairly established.

Last week I understand you made a trip to Harrisburg. That was well and now I have another excursion for you.

You have never visited Danville and we want you to be present with us at our Missionary Anniversary, March 8th.

On Saturday preceding we are to have a little exercise in connection with the opening of the mile boxes in the Sabbath School and as the children all know you through "Alaska" which is in the Library and through other sources they are anxious to see your face. On Sabbath evening you can talk to the Ladies and for the morning services you can choose whatever theme you prefer.

Aside from the cause itself which needs your presence here we want to see you and Mrs. Jackson in our home and renew the very pleasant acquaintance and friendship of former days. If you have a pass over whole or part of the way, use it. If not, we will pay your way. We do hope you can come and bring Mrs. Jackson with you. Mrs. S. is quite well and has set her heart on having you both at this time. Please answer if convenient by return mail. We had some very interesting services last month as a result of which 28 united with our church, 24 on profession of faith (18 from Sabbath School.)

Anniversaries of the Home and Foreign Societies come together with us. It is only a little over a year since our Home Missionary Society was organized. Since that time one of our numbers, Miss Kate East has gone to Utah as Missionary Teacher and we are doing all we can to assist in her support. If you come by via Harrisburg and prefer a night ride you can leave New York in evening of Friday and reach Danville for breakfast at 7 A.M. Saturday. This will give you all day with us; or you can start Friday morning and get here at 6.30 P.M. or you can leave (if not sooner) Saturday morning and come via Reading road reaching Danville at 4 P.M. (or by Harrisburg at 6.30)

I suppose Daisy and Bessie are young ladies now. We hope to have a visit from them before long. They could easily run up here on their way to and from Carlisle.

Mrs. S. joins me in love and best wishes.

Cordially yours,
R.L. Stewart.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Brother:

I am glad to be able to report Mr. Fleming in full charge; and that we expect Mr. Merritt to leave here day after tomorrow. Mr. Sullivan requested that he be allowed to remain a few days to complete his accounts and papers and Merritt expects to have them completed tomorrow. Mr. Fleming has made a candid report of the condition of the buildings here, and requested permission to make the necessary improvements but it will require two months or more at the very closest calculations. Mr. Fleming will do everything he can to hasten matters, but he can do nothing without authority, and the lumber has to be drawn from Defiance after receiving authority. I have scolded myself, however, to write you upon another subject in particular. This morning one of the Moquis came to my brother and asked him to take his son aged 8 or 9 years, on East to school, the little boy also asking to go. This is the first favorable expression we have ever had from any of them, and my brother thinks that several boys and perhaps two or three girls could be secured if the effort is made soon. Have you still permission to take some of these children to Carlisle? If not could you secure an order soon? I thought that if you were coming out here anywhere soon, you might hasten your trip. We feel it very important to get some of our children East, as soon as it can be accomplished, as this will be a bond to civilization. Of course, there is a possibility that they would back out when it came to going with a stranger, and if you have no other duties to call you here, it might be better for me to take them East. I only suggest this, as an excellent not that I desire to go, for although I would be glad of such a chance a year or two after our school is in a flourishing condition, at present it would give me but little pleasure, as I should have to return immediately, not even stopping to visit my relatives, as the condition of affairs here require my constant attention. I think however, that they would be more likely to go with me, and for the sake of getting them there, I would go. Possibly they might back out anyhow when the time comes, but we are very hopeful that they will go if given an early opportunity before planting time. Should it be thought best for me to go you must give me all necessary instructions, and if possible I would like to take one or two of the older people with me. If the way cannot be opened for taking them to Carlyle, can they be taken to Albuquerque and if so, could I be instructed to take them out there; and would my expenses be paid? We much prefer that they go East, but it is wise to get them away from here, as fast as they will go, if no further than Albuquerque. If you come yourself, let us know as soon as possible when we shall expect you and come by Winslow, as we now have communication with that point. If I am to go be sure to give explicit instructions and say also what is the smallest number, that I would be permitted to accompany.

The boy who desires especially to go, is the brightest that has been in school and has attended very regularly. Either here or there, I shall hope to see you without long delay, and there is much to talk of. I am anxious every mail to hear from the Board, and also from the Ladies Society. How soon can I expect the other $400.00 on the Mission Home.

Please write without unnecessary delay. Wife joins me in kind regards to yourself and family.

Remember me also kindly to Mr. Kendall and other members of the Board.

Fort Wrangel, Alaska.

February 23, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

We are beginning to get anxious again for the steamer to come. We think our people will surely be here when she does come. I hope they are not at Port Townsend all this month. I would much rather be at Wrangel than there. Miss Dunbar says it always takes people forever to get to Alaska. There is two or three things I want to write to you about. I do not see how J.W. McFarland can get out of practicing medicine when Dr. Corlies goes away. But I don't know what will be done about medicines. I know he cannot afford to buy drugs. How do you suppose they can be sent to us in any way? I think I will get Dr. Corlies to make out a list of the principal drugs needed here and send you in this letter. Perhaps you can secure them in some way for us. Then another thing I think we will have to have is a set of carpenter's tools. When Dr. Corlies takes his away there will not be a tool in town. We have all been borrowing his when we wanted any and we are continually wanting something fixed about the Home. The tools seem a real necessity. Don't you think so? March 14th will do. The steamer came the 11th brought J.W. McFarland. He and Miss Dunbar were married last night in the church. I had a wedding supper for them, after the marriage. I wish you and Mrs. Jackson could have been here. The bride and groom are a very fine-looking couple and I think will be useful and happy together. I was much disappointed that my people did not come. Where is the lumber to come from to build the house for the Goulds. There will not be any at Captain Sprague's mill for some time. Perhaps not until the middle of summer. If the mill is built at Hydah will Mr. Chapman be discharged? I will be very sorry if he is, he has done so well there and the people think so much of him that I think he ought to be retained in some position. What is this about Louie and Tillie. We all wrote urging the Board to send them to Shakan. We answer to any of our letters. But a dispatch saying send Louie and Tillie to Upper Chilcat. We all feel very bad about this. Captain

Sprague knows them and was so anxious to have them go to his place. There are many other reasons. One that I think ought at least to be considered is that they do not want to go to Chilcat. Then I think it is no more than is due me that my feelings in the matter should be considered. I trust the thing will be reconsidered. I would like to write to you about some other things but must let them lie on until next time. Much love to Mrs. Jackson and the girls. By the way, where are you going to have your family live? I understand Schultz has had those houses changed back to the Indian names. I am glad the Austins have named the boys Home after you.

Very sincerely,

A.R. McFarland.

Fort Defiance, Arizona.

February 25, 1892.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.

Dear Sir and brother:

I write you on several subjects to which I hope you will find it convenient to give your attention at once. We are notified recently by the Treasurer of Home Board that the expenses as incurred in running the school here could not be paid in future. This was a great surprise and it was a long time before we could make up our minds that it was really meant for this school, we feeling that we had done our full share in getting the money here from Albuquerque by express at considerable expense to ourselves, all times consoing ourselves that we might each week pay off our help and keep the school running as smoothly and economically as possible. Worn our ourselves with double work we had just employed an American cook at forty dollars a month, when we received what seemed to us singular news. Singular in that it was so different from what we had anticipated. Our best efforts have been made and from my standpoint of judging, our success is without parallel. Our work will bear inspection and as you know has been invited and urged both by our Board and the Indian Department.

Our school is paying its way and it is difficult for us to understand how we are to get on without more help and greater expense. We are very closely confined. Our salaries are numerous and of great variety and all are pressing.

Mrs. Eastman has not come yet although we have been expecting her for a long time. Shall we give her the position of matron when she comes? Please let us know definitely on this point, as we shall not feel at liberty to make any contracts with anyone, not knowing exactly what is meant by "not allowing expenses in future." We have nothing for the children except bread and meat. We understand there is provision on the way. We think we must vacate until we hear from you, and get some salt, soap sugar, coffee and some change of food for the children. A week from March 1st will give us only the usual time allowed for all schools the first week in April, and in that time we hope to hear from you, also to have an opportunity to get a little supply of wood of which we are badly in need (Mr. Eastman having taken the team again) In the week or ten days vacation some changes can be made in the building very essential to comfort and we hope to hear in the same time that Mr. Eastman has received provision and clothing for the children. There is nothing here to aid us and so much to hinder and annoy that we are surprised oftentimes at the success of the effort and can only wish it were possible for us to do more for these people who are so willing to learn and so easily managed about the house and school. Our school is very promising. There is much to encourage and little to annoy about the school work. Our roll is eighty-two and our average for the quarter will be over fifty. We are out of shoes and stockings and subject to sudden cold snaps. The children do much work about the house. We carry the water some distance, the pump being broken, and we dislike to have children carry water, when snow is on the ground, in their bare feet.

Very sincerely,

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

Now if we are to continue our bread and meat and receive no running or snow, we would like to know in time. I am sure if our work and our destination were generally known, an effort would be made by some charities I know to relieve our wants which are of a painful character in cold weather.

Allegheny, Pa., February 26, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I propose to start the last of April for the Pacific coast to be gone about three months, and want to see and get as much information as I can about the West Home Mission Field, particularly its more important and destitute portions. I hope charity is extended by Home Missionary education a little by personal observation, and to return gratified to do more work among our students.

Now it occurred to me that you'll perhaps give me hints and suggestions that would enable me to make the most of my opportunities.

Do you regard travelling from Denver south to Santa Fe and to the Mexican frontier and thence across to the Pacific coast sufficiently safe to warrant my taking that route to San Francisco when I have with me two boys under 18 years of (11 or 12 to 15)? I am anxious to take that route but a writer in the last Evangelist makes me doubt if I ought to take the boys that route. I presume, however, I should not leave the railroad much, except there was some special object to be pained thereby.

If that route is available (rather in Southern Pacific or Atlantic and Pacific open) I propose to go out that way by the Atchafson Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad through California from one end to the other, returning via Salt Lake City etc by Union Pacific.

I remember when you were with us you expressed the wish that I might do this very thing, for the work's sake. It did not seem likely then but thanks under Providence to the kindness of a friend, it is made practicable and I want to make the most of it for the work's sake and Master's.

Any hints you may find time to give I shall highly appreciate.

In haste,

Yours fraternally,
Samuel H. Kellogg.

Dearest Sheldon Jackson,

Dear Sir:

I return Reverend S.A. Taylor's letter. In his other one you remember he wanted Miss Ida Humphrey and Mr and Mrs. Monroval of Parma, and the others of St. Louis, Michigan. I have written to to two places to inquire about those three and there seems nothing else to be done until answers come.

The Oregon paper was in this letter of Mr. Taylor's. My son has probably taken a house in Carroll Park, Brooklyn.

Yours respectfully,

Who is the Missionary at Harrisburg or "Juneau", Alaska. I need an answer to this at once.

Have you any information about the mission there you could send me for Miss Sarah Fleming, Harrisburg, Penn. The society there wants to support a child there. A boy - giving $30. - or having paid $25.00 already - I only suppose they mean a day-scholar.

You can write to Miss Fleming direct, if you like c/o Honorable D. Fleming - still I would like to know what there is to say - on account of others.

March 7, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, B.D.,

Dear Brother:

The Lord has been trying our faith for the past two months and we think it must be for the preparing us for a greater work and for more useful service. In my last I informed you of the destruction of our home. Before the stable was fitted up for our use, the older boys began to show dissatisfaction and wanted to be paid for their work, I felt sure they were instigated to this course by the Priest. Jake and Sam were paid twenty dollars per month each, by Captain Glass. Of course when the steamer W. left this was stopped. I asked Jake what was the matter and he said he was going to the Ranch to live. I told him all right and as I had the kitchen finished and could manage to fix a place for the boys to sleep by night, I removed the stove from the log house and in the afternoon removed the beds etc. The next day he came and begged me to take him back. Told him I did not want him. On the 30th of February Sam fell from the roof and hurt his side and shoulder. Bought some liniment and Mrs. Austin and myself doctored him up. The following Sunday night he ran away. He said he fell because I made him work on Washington's birthday. I sent one of the boys to tell him I wanted to see him. When he came I asked him why he ran away like a thief at night. He said he was like the man I talked about Sunday (NICODEMUS and the New Birth) also said that some of the other boys were going to leave. Made him give me their names. I then told him that NICODEMUS did not run away with his bed, clothing etc and that I wanted him to go at once, and bring everything belonging to the Home to me, or I would have him locked up in the Koo-hoo house. He went away and soon returned bringing the articles mentioned. I then called up the three boys he had mentioned; told them what I had heard and gave them their choice to sign papers to obey the rules of the Home, or leave their clothes etc, and the Home. They finally decided to leave, although I could see that it was hard for them to give up their clothes, books, etc. After they left the Priest gave them a log house to sleep in, thus confirming my conviction that he was the cause of our trouble. A few nights after this, one of the small boys ran away and very few Indians came to the Sabbath services. I finally decided to invite the Indians the Indians, and especially the fathers and mothers of the Home boys to the school and investigate matters; Reverend Mr. Brady was present and did good service. Two chiefs, Annahootz and Tom were present; after stating the object of the meeting, telling them why the boys had left, and what I had heard, they were invited to speak. They said they liked the old Home and were very sorry that it was burned down etc, etc. It then came out that the Priest had told them that it was a shame to have a Church in a stable. He told them that Mrs. Austin was mother, that Linnie and I were teachers, that I would feed and clothe them, but that he was the Father, and that they must come to his church. The mothers said that they were glad that the large boys were gone, as they were ugly as the small boys. In conclusion I told them, that I must be father as well as, teacher, and that I should not feed and clothe them unless they were Americans, and not Russians. I told them about Lewis, the small boy who ran away the night before, that I wanted him brought back. In about ten minutes after the meeting closed, Annahootz returned returned bringing Lewis and turning him over to me. This act removed one of my greatest perplexities, as I could now see my way clear to keeping up the discipline of the Home. All the boys that have left the Home have been baptized in the Roman Church. As they have one-hundred and eighty-eight holy days in the year and are drunk a good portion of the remainder if they have money, I can see no hope of doing the Indian boys any good if they are allowed to have anything to do with it. Last month one of our best Indians here, a regular attendant at our church was accused of being a witch by one of the Indian Doctors here, because one of his patients did not get well (he is nearly dead with consumption.) Five Indians broke into his house after dark, threw him on the floor and tied his hands behind him so tight that the rope out through the skin on each wrist, drew his head towards his heels and placed him in a hole hardly large enough to admit his body in that position and left him without food or water to die; after remaining in this position for twenty-four hours, Annahootz came secretly and reported the case to Major Morris. Major Berry went and liberated him, and he was placed in a small house back of ours. Four squaws watched his wife so that she could not give the alarm. On investigation it was found that Jacob, an ex-policeman was one of the principal actors. Saturday we found the Wachusett at anchor in the harbor when he awoke. Captain Glass came ashore during the day and talked with several of us about the matter and Sunday after I came home from morning service, I saw the marines marching the Doctor, Jacob and other Indians implicated in the affair past our windows into the guard house. March 8, 1882. This morning at half past ten o'clock, Captain Glass came over to the Guard house and after a short talk with the Indians, commanded the Indian Doctor to be brought out and in their presence, one of the Marines who was an adept with the shears, cut off his Samsonian locks close to the scalp. The wig, which was very lively, was nailed to the corner of the Guard house facing the road for the benefit of the rising generation after the tragedy. The Captain told the Indians that the Indian Doctor knew there were no witches that he lied to them; told him if he could find witches, he wanted him to get them to do him and his friends all the harm he could. Said he should banish him from Sitka. I think this will do much to break up this curse. Captain Glass expects to be relieved by Captain Pierson; expects him on this steamer. Hope he will take an interest in this Home. I wish you would inform me if possible in your next, in regard to your plans about our church etc. So that I can tell the Indians something definite about them. They are anxious to have a church and school near the Ranch. If you do not get the land where we had our garden from the Government, I think it would be better to build there too. I wish some friend would send us $100. to buy a boat, as we shall need it so much next summer. Some good fishing tackle would be prized. None good here. In love to Alaska next summer Family well and all unite in sending much love to you, and yours.

Most sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

Ocate, N.M., March 7, 1882.

Reverend Doctor Jackson:

Dear Brother:

Our dear Brother and noble Fellow-worker, Reverend Felix Wagon has been taken from us. He died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock from the effect of the internal injuries received three weeks ago by being cast from his wagon while his horses were running away. During his illness he suffered intense pain. Saturday when I reached his bedside when I reached there from Mera he seemed better and we had lively hopes of his recovery but Sabbath afternoon he took a worse turn and soon began to sink.

His loss is very great, both to his family and to the church as he was both a good man and one of the ablest and every way best of our Mexican preachers.

His son, Andros, who has been preparing himself for some time for the ministry and who shows an uncommon ripe judgment for his age is left by me in charge of the Congregation.

I started this morning from Mr. Halls hoping to reach Coyote on my return to Mera, but the snow is about 16 inches deep and is still falling, blinding both me and my horse and covering all traces of the way so that I have taken refuge here at Smith and for the night, hoping for a better day tomorrow.

Yours fraternally,

Maxwell Phillips.

Washington, D.C. March 7, 1882.

Dear Brother Jackson:

Had a good day Sabbath addressed four different congregations; attendance large. Yesterday we held a meeting of the ladies in Dr. Butler's church at his urgent request. But the zealous Doctor was not in favor of organizing an association. He offered instead a resolution to appoint 11 ladies to wait upon the Judiciary committee of the House and urge the passage of the proposed measure. A committee of 3 ladies was appointed to nominate the committee of 11 and to report at another meeting to be held at the call of the committee of 3. This latter committee are empowered to report on the matter of permanent organization. The Committee consists of Mrs. Robinson, 1409 L St., N.W., Mrs. Hodge, 1410 L St., N.W. and Mrs. Doctor J. J. Butler, 1107 14th St.

I hope you can be with them at their next meeting whenever it is. They will probably write you in a day or two. The ladies are enthusiastic - but Doctor Butler's proposition confused them and the only thing to do was to defer permanent organization for the present.

I go to York tomorrow, D.V.

Yours,

D. J. McKillen.

These two reports of the same lecture illustrate what you said that all people do not hear alike.

Dear Sir:

We are very sorry to hear about the disaster at Sitka, reported by telegraph a few weeks ago, and confirmed by letter from A.E. Austin.

What is the best way to help them? Mr. Austin suggested sending check to his order, but it seems to me he might have difficulty in getting it cashed. The same would hold good as regards a draft for he would have to send to San Francisco to draw money on it. We might do a little something and would like to have that little started along at once.

Dear Sir:

Learning that you take a deep interest in Educational matters, I send you a copy of a resolution which I introduced into the Senate recently.

I should be pleased to have you express your views in relation to the resolutions - Do they cover the ground fully?

This will be handed to you by my friend, Col. E.S. Johnson of your city and recently of Louisiana who by the way is taking an interest in the application of his friend, Colonel William Roy, of Louisiana for the position of Indian Agent at Santa Fe, New Mexico.

From personal knowledge of Colonel Roy, I am able to say that his moral and Christian character is such that his appointment to the position he seeks would reflect credit upon those who might ask for his appointment.

I would highly appreciate any aid that you may be able to give him.

Dear Sir:

We had the annual meeting of our Home Missionary Society on last Thursday and the ladies authorized me to inquire when it would suit you to address us on the subject of Home Missions. As you have been over the whole field you can give us a taste of New Mexico and Utah and a bite of Alaska. Please let me know at your earliest convenience, when you can be here as we want to notify our Rev. is Mrs. Jackson? We are glad to hear from her. Had a very nice letter from Mrs. Voorhees. Where is Mrs. Jackson boarding? or has she secured a home. As Stanhope is waiting to take this to the office, I must close.

Hoping to hear from you soon, I remain

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Have just sent off my letters, one for you among them, but for fear that the letter I sent you last month might miscarry, a short note seems necessary. I have used the lumber, except shingles, in repairing the stables.

Have taken the stove, also, for our school room. The iron uprights and the arch, to which the bell was fastened by a bolt, through the head of the bell. In short, all the iron work is broken. Hope we may have some sort of government provided for our Territory and that you may succeed in obtaining aid from the government. Hoping you may be able to visit us next summer with your family to superintend the building of our Home, better adapted for the work than the old one, also a church near the Ranch, I will now close and remain

Most sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

New York.

Dear Sir:

Your favor of 12 inst enclosing set of vouchers for conducting Albuquerque school during 1st quarter, 1881 has been received. That set of vouchers has been canceled and a new set for same period sent to J.S. Shearer to be forwarded by him to your office.

Very respectfully,

E.M. Thomas

U.S. Indian Agent.

Fort Wrangel, March 15, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

I arrived safe and sound Saturday morning 11 day, 3 o'clock A.M. Had a very pleasant trip was a little sick - only missed two meals. I must tender you my most grateful thanks for your interest in me and your most exquisite engineering. Our wedding took place in the church Monday evening at 7.30 o'clock. Reverend Young assisted by Reverend Corlies performed the ceremony after which the Missionaries repaired to the Home where Aunt had prepared a nice reception. I addressed the Indians last Sabbath afternoon. Reverend Young insisted that I should be appointed Commissioner for the town of Wrangel - said I was the only man fit for the position. I asked him what the Board would think of it. He requested me to write you to do what you could for me. He said there is a Catholic here who wants it and if we don't get a Christian man to take charge of it, it will be very hard for our Mission. I asked Aunt about it.

She thought I should accept it; they all think it very essential to the interests of this Mission with the exception of one or two days the weather has been exceeding fine.
Your brother in bonds of peace and fellowship of love.

John W. McFarland.

My wife joins me in sending you our best wishes. Doctor Corlies leaves to-day for a flying trip to British and they have already initiated me a Doctor.

Fort Wrangel, Alaska.
March 16, 1923.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Yours of February 3 just arrived; also the Alaska Bill and map. Many thanks for all.

If you are under the impression that I am in the least jealous of the attention shown our dear Mrs. McFarland you are mistaken. There is and always will be perfect harmony between us. My suggestion was to save her extra work and at the same time give me the recognition due my position and work. This you know has never been done.

I will await with interest the appearance of the educational report. The education clause in Senator George's bill is a mere farce. No work will be done.

I regret the prospect of increased mail facilities but hear from Captain Carroll that the mail steamer, Glad Tidings - the "Glad Tidings" boat - has secured the monthly mail contract. If this news is true it is a calamity. The large P.C. S.S. boat will run without the mail contract and the Glad Tidings is not large enough to carry passengers and freight, nor strong enough to make regular trips. We need the mail-steamer.

Some of the most important parts of my letters, you have not yet answered. Now your time is full. But I wished very much to hear something of my brother's application for appointment. He writes also that although nearly four weeks had elapsed since he wrote to you and the Board on the subject, he had received no reply. He is willing and ready to come and the Presbytery will ordain him. His wife's aunt, a widow lady of middle age and independent fortune, an earnest Christian worker would accompany them to Sicks.

I send marriage notice for insertion in some missions. The wedding was a very pleasant affair. We rejoice in their joy. The ladies are delighted.

Mr. McFarland writes asking your aid in securing for him the appointment as Commissioner (magistrate) for Wrangel. There is not a man in the place outside the Mission at all fit for the position. It would not be wise for me to be encumbered with the office, nor do I want it. It would be an immense help to this mission could Mr. McFarland get the office and a continual headache is it should a Catholic or coo of these traders or miners get it. Please do what you can for this.

I send inclosed order on Treasurer for $10.00. Pay yourself the $5.00 due you and if not too much trouble, procure and send me with the other $5.00 some black temperance pledges and some blank certificates of membership of this Mission and others of membership of this church.

Mrs. Young is grief-stricken at the news of the death of her father.

In haste,

Your brother in Christ,
S. Hall Young.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
P.O. Box 1938.
New York.

Sir:

This Department is in receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, asking to be furnished with information relative to the schools on the islands of St. Paul and St. George, Alaska.

In reply, I have to inform you that the reports of the Special Agents fail to mention the range of studies pursued, but to give you a fair idea of what has been and is being done for the native people of those islands I enclose herewith extracts from the several reports of special agents from the year 1870 to 1881, inclusive. With the exception of the ones for 1872 and 1876 which could not readily be found.

Those herewith enclosed, will, it is presumed, be sufficient for your purposes.

Very respectfully,

Reverend Doctor Jackson:

My dear Sir:

Will you pardon me if I ask a favor of you on the approaching Sabbath in the interest of our Woman's Missionary Society of this Synod? And may that favor be that you leave the subject of Alaska mostly for the evening service? I have taken the liberty of inviting some of the neighboring churches to hear you, and as our Society are to hold a sale on the 29th for the special purpose of building churches in Alaska a few words will be very opportune. I enclose a circular for your perusal.

Possibly this request may have been made to you by others. If so, pardon me for duplicating it.

Very truly yours,

Mrs. J.H. Purdie.

Denniser, Texas, March 18, 1892

Dear Brother Jackson:

It was very delicate kindness that suggested the sending of the advance copy of that article relating to my father. The brethren of New York are constantly laying us under obligation in this. They not only do ample justice to our Texas work, but they treat us with thoughtful kindness. But coming, even from New York, has caused me to wish that I had not called your attention to the article. There is a certain propriety about it that I like very much.

My father was known to laugh out loud, but he never lacked in always hopeful and confident. He was never or boastful, but was absolutely destitute of vacillation. Once in a while he would say (as I heard him say) for fifteen years, the Lord would help him govern his temper and yet no one would ever see him angry. He loved money no more than distinction; had the qualities that would have made him rich or noted in business or politics, but we have never heard of him when he turned his back on the lost first offering offers.

He rarely said anything about the duty of being a preacher, but what charming conversation he held about the temporal and spiritual advantages of the Ministry over every other calling.

He was cautious to an extreme, except when absolutely certain of being right, then his action was either zealous or persistent. Sometimes his obedience to ascertained truth, in spite of appearances, seemed fanaticism. As for instance his zeal for graded schools in Indiana under the most bitter attack from newspapers and politicians. His good nature was proverbial and his sentimentality looked like sentimentality.

His theology was singularly conservative and yet he would talk of being an heir of God and a fellow heir of Jesus Christ as though unseen things were visible. He was a Christian preacher in preference as well as a politician.

His love for souls, surely was like the greed of a miser.

Your kind note has betrayed me into all this wordiness.

Yours fraternally,

Henry S. Little.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:

My dear friend:

Your letter received. I have had a meeting called for next Friday at 2 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church (Doctor Sunderland's.) I hope we shall have a full meeting. I was very sorry to see by the New York Observer that the Mission Building in Alaska was burned. We will have to get to work at once to have it re-built. I gave your message to Mr. Williamson; he says he wants something more than a serious affliction. He wants you to do as your ex team did some years ago "make progress." When do you expect Mrs. Jackson to return? I hope she and your daughters are well. I am very desirous for a large meeting Friday. I have written to the ladies of some of the churches which are not with us (I mean has no H.M.S.) to come and stay with us so as to be at the meetings. I hope they will come. I think our conference should do more in the Home cause.

Hoping to see you soon, I remain

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

I have a request to make of you which I thought Mr. Hall had much better present, but he has left it for me to do. I will do my best to explain. I am interested in forming a band of very little girls, from eight to thirteen years of age in our church, and want them to become interested in Alaska. They will of course be able to do only very simple work but I think they will be fascinated with the Indian children and glad to help them. Could you come and address them at their first meeting, Friday afternoon the 31st of this month at three o'clock? We would esteem it a kindness if you would come and give them a start by answering the least number of questions, children ask about a new subject and some of the many interesting stories - familiar to you would delight them very much. We would be willing to alter the day of their meeting to accommodate you, so anxious are we to have you with us. Will you kindly let us know what you can do for us as soon as possible? Friday and Saturday are of course the most convenient days for school children.

Hoping to receive a favorable reply, believe me to be

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. C.C. Hall.

Doctor Whelton Jackson,

Dear Sir:

We would like very much to have you take charge of our Thursday night meeting at New York Avenue Church to-morrow night (23) if possible and speak on the Mormon question or any other subject as you may prefer. We have only a short meeting, from half past 7 to quarter past 8 hours very truly,

A.R. Quiffie.

Cash room, United States Treas.

SITKA, ALASKA.

Collector's Office,

March 22, 1882.

Dear Sir:

In view of the fact that Congress may at the present session pass an act establishing a form of civil government for this Territory, I deem it my duty to call your attention to the fact and impress upon you the necessity which exists, for you to insure such legislation as will secure to you the title in fee to the land which your Board desire in the town of Sitka, and which legislation has been recommended by the Honorable Secretary of the Treasury.

You are aware that I have temporarily assigned a building for use as a home, church and school for the Indian boys. This probably may not be needed for other uses for some time to come, but the quarters were occupied by the Reverend Mr. Austin and family will as soon as the civil officers arrive here, be required for offices and other purposes.

In my opinion, it behooves your Board to lose no time in making an earnest appeal to those favorably inclined throughout the United States to come promptly forward with at least sufficient means to begin the construction of suitable buildings.

The language of the bills now before Congress expressly make mention of the use to which the present public buildings are to be put. They will be required for the civil affairs of the new government, and can not be devoted in the future as in the past to Missionary purposes.

I am respectfully,

Your obedient servant,

Wm. Gouverneur Morris

Doctor Sheldon Jackson,
Dear Sir:

The "Presbyterian Home Missions" for April came to-day and an extra copy for me. Please accept my thanks for I am sure it was you who remembered me. I think this number looks very well indeed, the paper, the printing and all. I miss my work for the "Rocky" more than any one knows.

Your friend,
A.A. Potter.

Jones, New Mexico.
March 24, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
Dear Doctor:

Yours of the 10th is received. I will tell you something about this field and then you can do as you think best. Our school is in a very good condition at Jones. The upper grade is a real nice, orderly school and progress is being made in studies. We love the children and many, many times my eyes have filled with tears at the thought of leaving them. And yet I feel that most likely we shall have to quit the work at Jewas soon. I would like to be relieved by October 1, if any good arrangement can be made to do so.

I have not said anything definite to the Agent here yet and it is best that you say nothing to him about this yet awhile at least I am afraid I could not stay here after I am out of Government employ. I would have then really no control over the school. The Agent could send who he pleased and if another man should come here the Indians would be bewildered and would complain. Then my pay would not be enough to enable me to live here. Especially if ladies came to run the school, I would be expected to do more than my means would allow. I have had to spend lots of money to keep up this establishment so far. The first winter the Agent did not buy a stick of wood for the school. Now he allows me to get some wood with Government team which helps me some. The Indians think that I have a big box full of money and all the lady teachers who come here seem to have some idea of the same kind. I would also fear that there would be conflict with the Agent and if I quit the Government service then I want to get away from here first as soon as possible. If the Board would want me to take the Mexican work I will accept the Commission and would be willing to come here and preach to these Indians until someone else could do it. James Springs is going to be the place in this neighborhood and I would like to make my headquarters there if commissioned by the Board for this field. There is an interesting little flock there and a school and from there I could come down the valley or cross to the Rio Grande or Rio Mierce. You know that it is just impossible for one man to attend to this Indian business and look after the Mexican work. Then religion don't seem to be wanted in the Government arrangements. There is a nice comfortable home for whoever comes here and I will not complain if I have to begin life over again in another place. The opening at Santa Blanca was grand, but I am afraid all will be lost by the delay. They even had a house picked and arrangements made to move right along with the school. I am very sorry and yet as I am situated now, I could not go to see about the school if a Teacher did come. Since writing to you, a teacher has been sent to Jewas, Miss Wood of the boarding school. While a smart girl, she never fill Mrs. Shields place in the upper grade of this school. I tried her and found that it would not work at all and so I put her in the other school. As I told you Mrs. Shields wants to quit next fall. If the Board does not want my services in the Mexican work we may stay here awhile longer, provided we can get a real teacher next fall. We have worked our school up to a success and I am determined I will not see it spoiled while I am here and when we cannot attend to it right, then we go. Could you lay this matter before the Board and give me a definite answer soon. I have been ordained to preach the Gospel and I love to preach to the Mexicans and Indians and I am afraid I would not feel happy to go back East to practice medicine. I don't want you to infer from this that there is any trouble between Doctor Thomas and us. We are on the best of terms, and personally the only thing that has been particularly unpleasant is the matter of religion. In one of our little squabbles about this matter I said "Well Doctor, the Government does not object to my teaching religion on the Sabbath." He replied "It might be well enough to teach them morality on the Sabbath."

But this is confidential and I hope you will not make any trouble between us by telling it. Doctor Thompson has been kind to us and I don't want any trouble.

Hoping to hear from you and with much love, I am
Your Brother in Christ,
J.N. Shields.

be Christianized or even educated or enlightened while such abominable governments are in force and while the Government of the United States rarely wastes a little secular education and don't care what the Indians do. I hope I am a patriot and love my country but this is not good government to manage Indians. Missionaries in foreign countries can get some religious privileges and liberties for their converts but right here in our boasted America you may just as well keep your mouth shut at once. School is doing very well at the Springs.

We had Communion then in September and had a very pleasant time. Reverend J.Y. Perea assisted us. I beg leave to say that you have given us no word about Pena Blanca. Could you let me know at once something, so I can tell it to those who are waiting with such anxiety. A fine door opened there but it will soon shut again if something is not done at the proper time. Rooms are waiting there and the people are anxious but are getting very restless. When such a thing is talked of in a country like this it stirs up a fuss and a general excitement among the sleepy populace. Two parties exist of course and the Priests head the one in opposition to all Protestant work. Then if a teacher is not sent, you see the fix the school party is put into.

Knowing all these things so well, I am afraid to say much about schools among the Mexicans. I beg leave to remind you that Reverend Romualdo Montañez has been nearly two months without a commission. But I feel sure one will come or you would have notified me ere this. As to help for Jones, you can do as you think best. You know something of what is to do here and how few there are to do it. My wife teaches the upper grade which is a nice school now and all that any one should be asked to do, then she has to work a great deal with the children teaching and sewing and knitting. Then I have the other school to teach and I have to do a great deal of doctoring for the Indians and have many other things to do for them besides all the red tape writing of the Government to do and then have to preach every Sabbath. Now is this by the help you lavish on the Boarding School where it is easier to teach 20 scholars 128 Henry Street, Brooklyn.

The Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Sir:

I have your kind note of March 23. Mrs. Hall requests me to say that she is very sorry you cannot meet with the children on April 1, but she will take pleasure in calling a special meeting for April 3th, Saturday at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Church study.

We think it very kind that you are willing to give us any part of your valuable time.

Very respectfully and truly,

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE.

Moquis Pueblo Agency, A.T.
March 27, 1882.

To The Honorable
The Secretary of the Interior.
Sir:

I learn through the press that the subject that the subject of discontinuing this agency is being agitated and as I know that you feel much interest in the welfare of all the tribes and that your influence may be perilous to the civilization of this tribe I address you personally. You doubtless know that the Moquis are and ever have been a peaceable and timorous tribe. Assuredly they require no agent, no reservation or no oversight to help them from committing depredations.

They do however need protection from the intrusions of other tribes, and from Marauders and ruthless Americans. If ever there was need of an agency here, certainly it is more necessary at the present and for several years to come. The advance of the A. and P. R.R. has brought in Americans who are rapidly occupying the best watering places thereby depriving the Indians of their grazing grounds. I would earnestly recommend that this people be protected and aided to civilization and education, not not indeed by giving them annuities - for I should oppose giving them anything whatever - but by protecting their lands, compelling them to labor, and giving them supplies at the lowest possible cost, and educating the children. Abandon the agency now, and give them no farther protection and we shall soon see a suffering people driven to the wall. As it is at present it is impossible to do them justice or to protect them from the imposition of unprincipled men, because they have no protected lands. I recommend that they be given a small reservation including their pueblos, the agency and sufficient lands for cultivation and grazing purposes.

I would recommend that such a reservation be set apart only for a limited time - 10 or 15 years - and that they be constantly reminded that at the end of such time all the lands remaining unoccupied in severalty by them would revert to the public lands. They could be reminded that unless they quit their filthy habits and give up their sickly compact way of living they must come to woe, while if they take up lands sufficient for their flocks they will be allowed a title thereto.

In connection with this subject I would respectfully refer you to the communication of the Commissioner to Agent Matear under date of August 14, 1879, (L. where you will find favorable consideration of the subject, but as Matear resigned soon thereafter nothing more was done. The chief Tubac therein referred to has been dragged into the Mormon land and the encroachments are becoming more and more. I believe that with the aid of the contract teachers here on the ground, we might be able abandon this agency within 10 years, and leave a people able to take care of themselves, enjoying better health and possessing some appreciation of the privileges of education. In order to do this, however, they must be protected, encouraged and compelled to earn their bread by hard labor.

(Arizona

(M 1000

The sooner they are taught that they can have nothing - not even a plug of tobacco - without paying for it in money or labor, the sooner will they be raised from beggars to men, and if I may but have the department with me I will see that such a system is introduced instantly. With an earnest appeal on behalf of this people, that this agency be continued and the rights of a reservation be granted.....

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

I have copied the above letter from Mr. Fleming to the Secretary of the Interior that you may know his and my feelings on the subject and thinking that you may aid the matter if the newspaper statements are correct. As it has been in the past, they are better without an agent; but it would be too bad to have our plans interrupted at this stage as we are confident of success. I have had no line from you since you wrote me about the last of December. Hope to hear again soon. Just as well that no one should know that you have this copied letter but I thought it might be of service to you.

Respectfully, in great haste,

Charles A. Taylor.

206 Broadway, New York.

March 27, 1882.

My dear Senator:

I crave permission to renew our pleasant acquaintance of 1857, and in place of myself to present to your kind sympathy and attentions the Reverend Doctor Jackson of Alaska.

He seeks in the interests of the Indian Catechumens under his general supervision, as well as in behalf of those of the inhabitants of American blood there residing, a good provisional government for its U.S. settlement. As you have on your files House Bill No. 3754 (Printer's No. 3954) it is not necessary for me to bespeak its careful perusal. That I well know, it will receive from you.

At this ultimate shore of our Pacific Coast, there are now residing a family formerly, and but five years ago, residents of this city. While here, they and their maternal ancestor were engaged in a mission school which he first established and supported out of his own means. Now this family are educating the Indian children, of the wilder tribes.

Knowing so well the kindness of your heart, and its sympathy for such work, I leave Doctor Jackson to tell his story and you to perfect the Bill, so that the people may have no longer cause to lament their transfer from Russian patriarchism to American indifference and neglect.

Very respectfully yours,

To The Honorable
Senator Stephens.

206 Broadway, New York.
March 27, 1892.

My dear Willie:

I beg you to receive the Reverend Sheldon Jackson with every kindness and attention your nature and time are capable of. I regret your brother is absent, but am anxious that he shall help along the grand and good work in which Doctor is engaged, to wit providing the temporary government for Alaska and giving Mission schools etc, to the people. In every way your incognito assistance, present Doctor Jackson and his cause to the acquaintance and public notice of Members of Congress, etc, etc.

Truly yours,
A. J. Canger.

To W. Robert Bryan.

Fort Belknap, M.T.,
March 27, 1892.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

I hasten to write you again saying we have no directions from you in the last month and yet at a loss to know what is best to do. We are here yet better determined to try one "Issue" day more, hoping something would be done to keep the whiskey out, in the meantime. To-day is "Issue" day a number of chiefs are here by Mr. Hartman's request to keep order among the people. They are a good people. The roughs are a very small number. Whiskey is a fearful thing; it requires so little to make a Navajo drunk. There is now no flour here. Seventeen hundred on the way from Albuquerque. How soon may we hope to hear from you.

We wish the children, Willie and Lottie were in the East. Our especial danger is confined to the days when whiskey is brought in a quantity. Mr. Hartman reserves and should have aid in this matter. Would it not be better to give the school to his family and thereby secure his help for the school or the help that belongs to it? We could work under their management more easily and with much less personal expense than as we have been doing. The employees are going away April 1st, all being weary of the tyrannical meddling of Mr. Hartman with their affairs and labors. Personally he is kind to us, but as conducting the school he is severe. The mail leaves this morning. We will write you after issue.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. D. Perkins.

P.S. The chiefs are dissatisfied and show it very plainly.

SECOND PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Carlisle, Pa.,

March 27, 1882.

My dear Brother:

Our band of Cheerful Workers seem very willing to do what they can towards the support of Bessie Jackson in Mrs. McFarland's Home and the Sabbath School have signified their willingness to devote their funds to the same purpose. I see in the leaflet "Our Aims for 1882" sent out by Executive Committee scholarships in Alaska Boarding schools are put down at one hundred dollars. Now the most I think we can possibly do is seventy-five or eighty dollars. Is it best for us to undertake what we cannot fully accomplish? The children have always felt a deep interest in Mrs. McFarland and send their Sabbath School papers to her, so of course would rather work there. They have sent on what they have left for this year specifying it was toward the support of Bessie Jackson at school at Fort Wrangel. It only amounted to $18.00 from the Band and $25.00 from Sabbath school but next year we will do better, having it before us from the beginning of the year. If you think it best for us to take Bessie even if we do not quite raise the full amount? Should I write to Mrs. Haines and Mrs. McFarland that we would like to do so?

A Sunday School receives credit in the Report of the Board for what they send to Mrs. Boyd the same as if it was sent to Mr. Eaton, does it not? Please answer as I want to be right in my assertions. I think the Sabbath Schools ought to work through the Executive Board, but I want them to have credit for what they do. Is there any hope of seeing you soon? What do I owe you for binding of "Presbyterian Home Missions"? Your visit to Harrisburg was very satisfactory and although you felt you needed your time in Washington the next day I cannot think the day was lost. I enclose some resolutions that were passed at our Annual meeting this year thinking possibly you might like to use them, some times seeing that one church does spurs another but of course do not feel that you must use them because they were sent. We are all usually well.

Affectionately,
Louise.

Dear Brother:

I want to congratulate you on the improvement in the printing of the "Home Missions" especially the wood cuts. I am persuaded that two or three good pictures are worth half a dozen poor ones and save too. The illustrations in the last number are great improvements over those of former years. But there is great room for improvement in the "proof reading." Quite a number of words are spelled improperly and in one place at least there is a confusion of lines. And yet it is a most interesting number. Affectionately, Geo. N.

My dear sir:

The "Ladies Missionary Society" and the "Young Ladies Mission Band" of my church hold their annual meeting next week and they very much desire to have you come and make the address on that occasion.

The particular evening they will leave to your convenience if a week later would suit you better, they will be glad to arrange accordingly.

The "Young Ladies Band" have been especially interested in Alaska and the Ladies Society among other fields, have been aiding the work in New Mexico.

I earnestly hope you may be able to come.

May I request a reply on receipt of this.

Dear Brother:

I wrote you some two months ago asking if I could not get at some Indian School - as yet I have no reply. I notice in this month's Missionary Record, asking for teachers. If I could get some such place as Albuquerque or if you desire to start another Mission, I would gladly go. I have wanted some place where I could get some out door exercise. You may remember I mentioned the matter to you while at Mesilla. What point do you want teachers for, is it male or female? I think I could master the Mexican enough now to begin work. If no place opens before August, I think I will return East this fall.

Mrs. Thompson and children send love to Mrs. Jackson.

Yours truly,

Thomas Thompson.

200 Broadway, New York.
March 28, 1882.

My dear Mr. Fiske:

I have permission to trouble you at this time with a few thoughts on the Alaska problem. And from these considerations which owe our common humanity, the opportunity of our general government to originate at this time a truly fraternal government for the Indians of that vast territory seems most auspicious. Congress has struck at least at polygamy in Utah, and that against the wishes of those most interested in sustaining it, and all had resisted its action with threats of violence. The question of power has been determined by its assertion and exercise.

In Alaska, a people emerging from idolatry and fetish rites embracing Christianity with order and sincerity, implore a renewal of that educational opportunity which ceased when they were transferred from Russian to American care. The success of the means lately put in operation by private benevolence or its abandonment, and every Christian heart in the United States rejoices in the hope of their perpetuation. This can only be made effectual by the aid now sought by the appropriation to be made and recommended by the Committee of which you are Chairman.

Whatever may be the pretext which a few sordid minds may advance in resisting such aid, will readily yield to your firm pressure and eloquent remonstrance. Can it be that any will be found base enough, to claim for the wining population the right with the gain from their sufferings to enslave young girls in the service of their hosts. Otherwise all must agree that law and order in this vast dominion will be secured by lifting the young out of the range of such snares and by establishing a better state of morals than has been in vogue in our frontier districts.

I cannot conceive of a more economical plan, or one more judicious than that devised for the assertion of the supremacy of our laws in Alaska, than the Bill now before the House, nor any project more feasible than that supplementing this scheme in its educational measures proposed. To be sure, some one may charge the division of the money and opening the funds to pilferage of all such. But this is too palpably a frittering of the fund, and an opening wedge to a much larger appropriation in the future. It is also a very poor reward to those who originated the scheme of instructing these Indian children and Christianizing their parents by their sole endeavor. In the peaceful and willing word of these Americans of our island chain in the North Pacific, the Government has the fitting opportunity for the exercise of its wise oversight, and will seek effect the organization of the Alaskans. I trust you will be able to so influence your Committee as to report on the appropriation at an early day. Moreover I have not a doubt, but that your constituents in the Empire State will applaud to the echo your action in sustaining the Bill providing a temporary government over this Continental domain and in granting a modicum of auxiliary relief for the enlightenment and administration of the aboriginal population.

I am as ever

Very sincerely yours,
A. S. Foster.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

I was very sorry not to have seen you again before you left, but I am not like the Gov'r. I can reach the office at nine o'clock but not much before.

I enclose $1.50 for the bracelet and wish to renew my thanks for your kindness in getting it for me. The other one, which I have worn a great deal, was much admired.

Commissioner Price said you spoke about the difficulty in getting a teacher in San Carlos. Will you not write the office about it and return Agent Tiffany's letter which was sent you. That ought to be answered and I can't do so until his letter is returned.

Do you suppose the Wisconsin Presbyterians would be interested to take some Indian boys and girls at Carrol College Waukesha at the same rates as Hampton? My roommate, a Waukesha lady, says there are buildings there and the school has a first rate principal of fine Christian character. Visitors from all over the country drink Waukesha water during the summer and a farming population surround the place. She is quite interested in the matter. Perhaps there is a vein there which can be followed. This is not official and is written entirely from an outside point of view. It is suggested by a clause in the upper bill (which will probably pass) which appropriates money to educate Indians among schools in various states.

With regards to Mrs. Jackson,

Yours truly,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

There is danger in the coming changes that we may lose Commissioner Price and get Inspector Pollock in his place. You know what a calamity that would be. Can't you see Doctor Strick? And set up a petition to the President to retain Commissioner Price? He has been in office just long enough to know his duties, and it seems to me very important to keep him where he is.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Friend:

I have received no letter from you since I wrote to you about the first of January. We have all had health as usual our horses, although at times, our women have felt almost like breaking down.

We feel that our school has done well, except that we have failed to fill it up to the desired number. I am afraid on the other hand we shall suffer some decrease this spring. The Indians are about moving across the river where their farms lie; winter is about breaking up, and the water is expected to be so high during April that the children will not be able to cross and we have no dormitory here for the boys, and some of the girls may not be willing to stay.

Besides, we are almost out of supplies, and the communication with a line between here and Elko is cut off and probably will be for two months. Unless we get authority to buy beef and some other things that might be obtained here, we shall (I had almost said certainly) be obliged to close our boarding department, which in effect will be to close school. If we had rations now it would be very much in our favor, for the Indians are in a half-starved condition. Beef, beef among the Indians is the great desideratum. They are seizing upon the dead carcasses of starved cattle for food. I have been offered good beef but it two cents higher than in the fall, and I suppose Government would not sanction the purchase and reimbursement. In order to keep the school going last fall, I paid out $18.00 for wood and procured beef to the amount of $25.00. I am not yet reimbursed but expect to be soon. But the lesson it has taught me is to let the school stop rather than to run the risk of losing any considerable amount.

We hoped to get a supply of some things from Elko (where our Special Agent has been for some time) before the winter would break up, but that hope is now gone. Our present condition is very much due to mismanagement on the part of those who have charge.

Had I known in time what I know now I would have asked for a vacation of two or three weeks while the water was up. But perhaps it will be too late before this reaches you.

We are entirely out of all kinds of meat, beans, rice syrup, salt and nearly out of sugar, lard, and baking powder, flour, hominy, coffee, tea and vinegar is about all we have. On these we will hold the fort a little longer.

Yours etc,

James H. Villason.

Dear Doctor:

As I understood you to be uncertain whether you would see Mr. Daws before tomorrow morning, I write to suggest my idea of the manner in which he has been misled. I believe he has been told, and doubtless convinced of the truth of it, that this whole scheme of representation was a scheme gotten up by me, for my own personal ends. I therefore wish to say that, in my opinion, Morris himself first suggested it - at least I know the idea was expressed by him long before the move took shape, though he thought of action by the Convention alone, and not by a popular election. Certainly it was much talked of long before I had been removed or had any idea that I would be removed. While I would not and could not have been a candidate. And it was started before I knew I had been, - July 4th, whereas positive information of my removal did not arrive till the steamer of that month set in. I had nothing to do with the setting of it, and when it was started held a position that I certainly would not have resigned for that uncertainty. And I very much doubt if I would or could have been elected but for sympathy with me, coming just as it did just after my removal and bad treatment by Morris. Even then if they had not acted very foolishly, I might have had a close race. Please let me know these facts, if not too late for your visit.

Very truly yours,

W.D. Hall.

Dear Madam:

The lecture delivered by Doctor Jackson in "The Church of the Strangers" of which Doctor Haines is pastor last Sunday evening has in the opinion of older members than myself awakened an interest in Home Missions never before felt and in order that this interest may take a practical and permanent form. I have been requested to ask your committee to send to our Missionary Society, any and all printed matters which bear especially upon the subject of Alaska. We would like enough at least for the use of the sixteen members of the Committee and will distribute more. Have you blank petitions to Congress asking for the establishment of government and law in Alaska. If you need Teachers for Alaska it is not improbable that one or more can be had from our church with very little effort as our Committee have already been approached by at least six or seven ladies who are seriously considering the question and desire information. Our church being disconnected from all other church denominations cannot become in any form auxiliary to your committee but through our committee extend aid and sympathy in all laboring for the Christianization of all the world. You may expect to hear from our Treasurer soon in a substantial manner.

Very respectfully yours,

R.T. Haines.

Mr. O.W. Boyd,
Dear Sir:

Your note in reference to Doctor Jackson just received. In reply would say - we have heard that Doctor Jackson is to address a meeting at Hackettstown on Wednesday April 5th. We thought it would be convenient for him then to come to us on Thursday April 6th. We would prefer an evening rather than an afternoon. But the time is so short to receive a decision, that I write to ask if Doctor Jackson will telegraph his answer to-morrow, to be in time for a Sabbath notice. Otherwise we should ask his appointment to be made in the second week of April.

Yours truly,

Mrs. Albert Erdman.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir and Brother:

We are still inactive in the school and are not in shape to commence until we are directed what to do. At this moment, in early morning, the sun not having risen we are disturbed by drunken Navajos in the boy's bed room. Some of them got in yesterday evening and others during the night. None of the better class of children will send their children and yet Mr. Eastman is angry, each day saying the school in operation is a great protection. We had not intended to take but a few days vacation, believing those days would bring an insister, and possibly yourself, then we would be in shape to run schools until July.

The Navajos come in and speak of the situation here in this way. Many of them seem quite sensible too in their way. "We do not sleep, our young men are going astray. We have nothing but trouble. The Great Father is down on us. He sends us a man we do not like. We ask the Father to take him away. He will not turn his ear to us. To us our agent is Hoo-ja-et-so (big brown spider). This whiskey is ruining our young men. What shall we do? Mr. Eastman is a great temperance man but the Navajos do not respect him. No one believes his word. Four good American men are leaving here to-day. The mason, the carpenter, the engineer and the storekeeper. Each one with the testimony of Mr. Eastman as being a very bad man. The lower story of the building is not plastered, no casing of the windows or doors. We are at your service, if you take the same steps towards these people as you did at Hualapai. There is no reason why we should have school. The Hualapai people, however, loved and respected Mr. Sullivan very much, while the people loathe and abhor Mr. Eastman. We are severely disappointed in not hearing from any of you. Mr. Perkins, Willie, baby and Lottie are all well. We looked for you every day last month, and did not hear one word from any of you. We will not abandon our work, you will find us at our Post and ready for duty, unless the whiskey drives us out. We did not rest much; are not likely to until the eleven bottles brockat in yesterday is gone. It requires very little whiskey to make the Navajos drunk.

Sincerely,

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

Dear Sir:

The Alexander Mission Sunday School 7 and 9 King Street, connected with Dr. John Hall's church desires some information about domestic missionary work.

I have been requested to communicate with you, to ask you to come and talk to us on Sunday afternoon, April 9, if possible. Mr. John Sinclair suggested that we invite you to come. We are considering the field to which we shall send our contributions, and before deciding we would like to hear from you.

I called at the Presbyterian Mission House, but you were not in so, at the suggestion of Sister Kendall, I write.

If April 9, is not convenient please select your own time. The reason I selected that day was because our teacher's meeting will probably be held during next week. We desire to hear about fields of which you have personal knowledge.

With much respect on behalf of our school.

UNITED STATES INDIAN AGENCY.

Western Shoshone Agency.

Mountain City, Elko Co., Nev.

April 7, 1932.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

I wrote you a few days ago, and although I have little new to communicate, I feel like writing again. Our affairs in the reservation are in a somewhat precarious condition and of course our school is liable to be affected by the result. The Indians had a "talk" to-day in regard to whether they would remain on the reservation or leave. They are rather expecting a new agent soon and have determined to remain awhile longer for his coming, to see if there is a prospect of anything better for them in the future than in the past. Our special agent is still at Elko. The Indians declare if they do not get something more to eat, they will leave; that they will not put in a crop. Some of them say they have worked hard for three years, and have never received any pay for it, and part of the time have been half starved. Many of the young men talk of going off and working for white men, for which they can get good pay. Besides there has been so much sickness among the Indians and so many of them have died that it is a frequent remark among them that "Buck valley is no good place for Indians." Unless prevented many will doubtless leave, but the majority of those now here, if they receive food and proper encouragement, will remain and put in a crop. Only about two hundred and fifty, all told, have been living here since we came. I do not think there are forty children of school on the reservation now. Our school has suffered some decrease, the effect of a combination of causes. Two have died and others are sick, and we think that the superstitious ideas are working on the fears of our people to prevent them attending. Others have moved across the river and the present high water is a hindrance. The children all seem to love to come to school, and if they were well and not prevented I think that all that have been coming would continue.

The father of two of our children died this week, and their friends were about taking them away from the reservation, but they consented to let them remain awhile longer. One, Elegant Price, about 12, is the boy of our hope, and his sister, Ella Price, our favorite girl. We shall be very sorry to lose them, and I think it will be very much against their wish. I wish to send you a specimen of Elegant's writing. He has received no drill in penmanship but has just "picked it up" as several others have done. He would be a good boy to send to Carlisle, but at present, this need not be thought of.

I have written this to keep you posted here. It is not among the impossibilities that our school may be broken up, but if the new agent or the special agent should come soon and deal prudently in the matter, we think we shall be able to report 20 or 30 this quarter, but not probably more. If anything noteworthy occurs, I will write. Who is J.B. Mitchell? Is he the nominee of the Board? I suspect there is wire-pulling to prevent his confirmation so as to get him out of the way and put in some favorite politician.

We have received our checks for last quarter. No letter from you since you went to New York.

Yours etc,

James H. Willson.

LITERARY AND INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTE
For the Education of the Pueblo Indians.

Albuquerque, N.M., April 7, 1892

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.

P.O. Box 1732, N.Y.

Dear Brother:

From a letter recently received from Mrs. F.E.F. Haines, I am led to believe that complaints if not charges have been preferred against me by one or more of my teachers. Now I must ask you as the only person in New York whom I know to be my true friend and see that justice is done all parties. And if charges are preferred, please demand a most thorough searching investigation. Rest assured that the closest scrutiny will prove that I have been true to the trust that you have imposed in me, and that you may know how the Christian people of Albuquerque regard me from my daily talks both in, and out of the school, I will inform you that I was, last week, ordained an Elder in the First Presbyterian Church, of which Reverend James A. Menaul is pastor.

I suppose that if the root of the trouble could be reached, it would show that it all arose from jealousy among the teachers, and I do not want to be made to suffer for that I can not help.

So far as the position of the teachers in the school is concerned, the following arrangement would soon remove all difficulties, with the exception of Miss Verbeek. First, appoint Miss Mary Auld, who is now one of the teachers to the position of Matron. (Miss Phillips has resigned). Appoint Miss Mary F. Wood as assistant Miss Shields in the school-room in place of Miss Auld. Miss Auld had charge of the advanced classes in the school during the nine months that Miss Shields was absent from the school, and on the return of Miss Shields she was offended because Miss Auld did not give the advanced classes to her. Miss Shields appealed to me, but I could not in justice take them away from Miss Auld, she having taught them nine months, while Miss Shields had taught them but four.

But I immediately set to work to adjust the difficulty. First I found that Miss Auld would accept the position of Matron, resigned by Miss P. Second if I could succeed in having Miss Auld appointed, that would remove her from the schoolroom and all the same she would place Miss Shields in charge of the advanced classes - just what Miss Shields desired. I, at once, wrote to Reverend W. Kendall, D.D., and recommended the matter to the Board. But the Board of Home Missions does not seem disposed to help me. It seems, at least, that my recommendations were not approved at the meeting of the Board on the 20th ult.

You may have easily the whole matter could be adjusted if they only would do it.

Miss Shields is to-day as strong. But, if I could place her in charge of the advanced class, all would be well with her.

Either Miss Shields, or her mother, who has been here since last December, was the cause of the letter I received from Mrs. Wilcox.

Now, in my opinion, there is not a more worthy lady, or one more competent to fill the position of Matron than Miss Auld.

I place these facts before you, in the hope that you will find time from your other duties to see the members of the Board, and urge upon them the necessity of making the necessary appointment at their next meeting. "The interests of the school demand it."

Our appropriation from the United States Government for conducting the Public Boarding School, for the quarter ending March 31st, will be Fourteen Hundred, seventy six and 17/100 dollars ($1476.17). The voucher, however, has not been made out by the United States Indian Agent.

I forwarded matter for the Mexican Department of the Presbyterian Home Missions for the April number. Was it not received or was it not acceptable?

Please remember me kindly to Mrs. Jackson.

Your brother in the work, J.B. Shearer.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

Will you kindly send me by post, a copy of your work on Alaska.

I want to interest our Missionary Society in the Reverend Mr. McFarland's school, and know no better way than to circulate your work among the members; beside, I want it for our Library. I do not know the price, but will send a check as soon as I learn from you what it is.

I had a great many things to ask you about Alaska, but was so exhausted the evening I was with you, that I could not remember anything. I think you had better give us a Sunday and enlighten a little the darkness relating to that country. A new edition of your book would be a great benefit not only to our Church, but to the world; and you can not employ your space and time better than by giving speedy attention to it. I know from my own experience, until I read your book, what people usually entertain to these subjects, need to be told about Alaska.

With kind regards,

Very sincerely yours,

Cordelia F. Maurice.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

You have doubtless heard of me being in Ontario this winter. I have spent five months attending Missionary meetings in all the large centres of Ontario and Quebec and hope to go West in June just after Conference. Mrs. C. and the children are with me and I must give this as a reason for not writing you sooner about your book, etc.

I had the pleasure of being with Doctor Matthews of your own Church in the city of Quebec, who told me you were now living in New York so I venture to write, as I may possibly be in New York in the early part of May and should like to see you.

Mrs. Crosby joins me in kindest regards to yourself and Mrs. Jackson.

Yours in Christ,

Doctor Jackson,

Dear Brother in Christ:

As my husband is away on a visit to Fort Simpson and Kattakatia, I will answer you note in his stead. Many thanks for the public documents and your report all of which are very interesting, yours especially so. I also received a package of books on domestic science, etc. which I think you must have sent. They will prove quite useful. Accept my thanks for them, also.

I am glad to hear that the house will be purchased. We expect to go to Juneau next June, the Lord permitting, where we will remain during the summer, to visit the Indians who gather there from all tribes and at times in the fall we expect to go to Wsek-tuk-suk, and erect a church building living ourselves in an Indian house and holding meetings and school in the same house for the time being. I hope you and Mrs. Jackson will follow us with your prayers. We shall need much grace and strength, both spiritual and physical.

My husband went by cable to Fort Simpson but hopes to return in one of the British steamers; his object is going was to obtain information which may be useful to him in the future. Were he at home he would write often to you and myself in adding love to yourself and Mrs. Jackson.

Yours sincerely,

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:

Sir:

I am authorized to write and request if it could be possible for you to preach one or two sermons, on Home Mission Work, in our Church on some Sabbath this month. We have recently organized the Auxiliary of the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Society of the Synod of Long Island, and are anxious for a more intelligent comprehension of the needs in our homeland.

Our pastor, Reverend Lewis Langman, entirely concurs in this desire, and has requested me to extend to you a cordial welcome to his pulpit, at your earliest convenience.

Please answer as promptly as possible, stating your usual terms for such services, as we wish to make whatever arrangements are customary.

Very respectfully,

Dear Sir:

I am greatly obliged for your letter of the 10th inst., with enclosures, and the accompanying manuscript address.

Most of the addresses have received and the proceedings will soon be ready for the printer.

I think well of your suggestions about the illustrations. You can send them as soon as you have them ready.

Very truly yours,

John Eaton, Comm.

Fort Wrangell, Alaska,
April 13, 1903.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Your good low letter of March 20th has all reached. We have time to be thankful for this month. The progress of the Blackstone branch is the only one of the whole family. I am really have a number of children and grandchildren like to this world. We are all of them.

I shall answer your letter first and then give you plans as far as we have formed them.

As you are "practically" Superintendent of our Missions we will learn as you were from ever and lay your plans and plans before you.

I have received and read with satisfaction your report on Education and the Mission. There is some word of the distinction given for picture. The $10,000.00 for the mission for Alaska Education in the year 1903. The mission alone is for the year 1903 - for the year 1904 is said that Schultze is really responsible - it is said for the year 1904. We appreciate your efforts in Washington and thank you heartily for what you have done.

I was much disappointed at not having a letter from Colonel Hall by this mail. I hope to hear from him.

We are more interested in Louis and Willie going to China and since writing your and Doctor Cordell's letters. They would themselves prefer going to China but will go cheerfully with the Board when Louis is such better in health than before. He is at present at Fort Simpson and has time to collect some money for his future starting north. He expects him back soon. Doctor Corliss is glad to see him at Fort Simpson and Belknap. studying these missions, before starting his own.

I got checks for the money of $10,000 for Louis and Willie and their connections. I shall send them as soon as they come.

work at Sitka. I am willing to have a fully educated man settled there provided such a one can be found soon and provided I can get Walter to Chisna. Doctor Kendall writes me "by this mail and asks (How would he be for Chisna?" If we heard will send a minister there it is certainly the best place to be occupied. On the whole, I think I would rather have him go there than to Sitka. It is a more hopeful field so far as the Indian work is concerned. With his winning, educating and organizing powers he could unite the Henagan, Konyouk Nation in a large flourishing new Christian village of happy people. The Henagan and Konyouk are ready and eager to move there if they can have a missionary. Mr. Gould will write me concerning him. I made a slight mistake in my former letter. I said that he had been admitted to the bar. I have learned since from him that while he was prepared by study for admission he has never applied on account of his business and the absence of his planned.

Please do let me hear from him soon. I shall write to him on this subject by this mail. What a helpful, sympathetic, far-reaching line of missions we will have.

Walter has prepared his Evangelical exercises and with me and his wife have become very enthusiastic on the subject. He would make a success of his mission.

The photos of your family have not yet reached us. April 18th. Since writing the above Captain Sprague has arrived and is stopping at my house. He is going to this steamer. He is Postmaster for Chisna - that is the official name of the Postoffice. Is fixing up his house. The new Post Office is to be supplied with this steamer, so that Jackson, Kinlock and Chisna will form one local route. Captain Sprague thinks of building up a small steam island mail on his hill. He could in a year or two carry this local mail. But it would of course be better if the Mission could own a small steamer as before proposed.

It is probable that Mr. Gould and I will go down to Puget Bay next week. He is very anxious to have me go with him. The little steam launch of the Kinlock Cannery is here and we may take that. But Mr. Oakford, who came up from Portland by this steamer and who has come on to Sitka talks of serving a subpoena on me as a witness in the Brecken case which is to be tried the last of May. I will get out of it if I can. I am very anxious to go. But if compelled to go I shall try to get along to go on to San Francisco in order to get something done for my children. It gets worse continually - easier to dislocate and harder to set. The last dislocation which occurred three weeks ago crippled me badly. I am still very sore. I must have something done for it. The Indians are nearly all away, getting furs, seal fish, oil, walrus etc. Everything is quiet and peaceful.

Captain Sprague offers his house until winter to any Missionary we may send or until he has lumber and time to build the promised school and dwelling house. The Captain will bring the saw mill machinery and any goods for the Jackson and Chiecan Missions directly from San Francisco for from 8 to 10 dollars per ton-- very reasonable.

Being very anxious for the speedy organization of the Presbytery of Alaska, I wrote to several members of the Presbytery of Oregon asking them to overture the assembly to grant us the organization at once. Brother Milligan gives me the reason why it was not done. After giving a detailed account of Doctor B's trouble, he said that chiefly on account of the condition of affairs at home the Doctor did not attend the meeting of Presbytery and being chairman of ex-committee sent in his report too late for action. It contained my suggestion and a recommendation that Assembly be overruled as requested. Then Milligan agitated the matter and found much opposition to the plan suggested. Some would not vote for it because there are only four of us engaged in the work. Others said the Agent is competent and rather than overrule the Assembly after the treatment this Presbytery has received that body they would be in favor of calling a synodical meeting of Synod. He says of my brother is commissioned for little he is sure the Presbytery and he thinks the Synod would vote unanimously for the organization of the Presbytery of Alaska. Of course if he is commissioned to follow the Presbytery and Synod would be the same. Milligan further says "Synod meets in regular session October 5th at Portland and I am confident you will not have to wait long or then that. Reverend R. W. Hill has gone to the Assembly and he will oppose any action in the matter by that body, or as he expressed it to me, by saying "as long as Fredy is an essential factor in the new Presbytery." Personally I would rather work for a synodical meeting of Synod than to overrule the Assembly and I would have better hope of success.

So Milligan, I am disappointed. I feel impatient for organization. Of course, this concerning the Oregon Presbytery is confidential.

I enclose an application for the mail contract which you can present or not as you think fit. I do it to possibly expedite matters. I leave the amount of the bid blank for you to fill out subject to the restrictions above stated. I also leave the names blank as I do not know the official names of the P.O's nor the order to be observed. John told me that Schultze had made a successful effort to have the Indian names retained. On second thought I believe I shall send you a blank sheet of paper with my name signed and let you write the application in proper form.

Write me with good love, love to all. Best regards from all.

Warmly yours,

LITERARY AND INDUSTRIAL INSTITUTE.
For the Education of the Pueblo Indians.
Albuquerque, New Mexico.
April 11, 1902.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
P.O. Box 1736,
W.F. City.

Dear Sir:

In view of the unpleasant relations existing between the teachers in the Pueblo Boarding School, some of whom are antagonistic to me, not because of any violation of authority or neglect of duty on my part but from purely selfish and jealous motives, I herewith tender my resignation, with this request, that, if the Board refuse to appoint Miss May Auld, Matron, vice Miss Phillips resigned, and Miss Mariette Wood as successor to Miss Auld to assist Miss Shields in the work of the school room, you present my resignation to the Board and press its acceptance.

If I remain here, I must have associates who are in sympathy with me in the work.

I have not asked the Board to create vacancies for my friends. But by the resignation of Miss Phillips these vacancies actually exist. And if the Board fail to appoint Misses Auld and Wood whom I have recommended for the respective positions, I shall feel that they ignore me in a privilege which has always been accorded me as Superintendent of schools in the States, with which I was formerly connected.

In appointing those whom I recommend, the Board manifests its appreciation of my services and "Vote of Thanks."

There has never been a time when outside of the internal dissensions and perplexities I felt so much encouraged in my work as I do at present. The school itself is in a most flourishing condition. All external questions have been removed or farced as alibis. The Social Factors are held in check by public opinion, and we have the full confidence of the Indian parents as well as that of the children.

After persistent effort and great personal expense, I have the satisfaction of knowing that a handsome and commodious building will be erected here this summer for the Indian school.

We raised some in Albuquerque by private subscription, the sum of $4000, with which to purchase the necessary land for the school. The land is located in the hills east of our present location, and extended half a mile north of the Depot. The location is as fine as any in the valley.

By the way, Governor Stone recently acknowledged in a conversation with me, that he might have judged me unwisely.

Permit me to confide to you and you only the information which is written on the "slip" of paper enclosed. You will observe from this, that if I am continued in this school the position of Matron will be the proper one for Miss Auld to occupy under the proposed new relation.

If Miss Auld is not appointed, I shall accompany her home in May.

I must therefore ask you, in the event of our release, that you have Mr. O.D. Eaton send both Miss Auld and myself, each a half fare permit to Cincinnati, Ohio, over the following Railroads: A.T. & Santa Fe to Kansas, Mo., Pacific to St. Louis, O. & N. to Cincinnati.

Also have him send a half fare permit to Mr. and Mrs. Helbig to Topeka.

When Mr. and Mrs. Helbig consented to accompany me to the Boarding School as helpers in the work, I promised them that in case I left before the close of the year, I would pay their expenses home; and if they insist on leaving with me, I must make good my promise. But I will pay the half-fare out of my own private funds, not from funds supplied by the Board.

May the Lord's will be done. is the earnest prayer of Your brother in the Master's work,

P.S. If you have any information of interest to me, wont you please confide it?

To the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, Gentlemen:

For good and sufficient reasons, fully expressed in letters now in the possession of the Secretaries of the Board, I hereby tender you my resignation as Superintendent of the Pueblo Boarding School, to take effect on May 1st.

I desire to thank you at this time for the confidence you placed in me, in appointing me to this important position, the duties of which, with God's help, I have performed to the best of my ability.

Very respectfully,

J.S. Shearer, Supt.

Please dont let your wife or anybody else see this note or know anything of its contents.

My dear friend:

Reverend William Bridges of the Green Avenue Church is very anxious that you come to his church and address his congregation some time before the 1st of May, as after that date they will be obliged to move from their present home, and may not be so well able to make arrangements.

So that if you are willing to go there instead of coming to me Sunday morning the 3rd we would wait until a convenient season later.

But don't forget the feeble folk of Doctor McClelland's church, Fort Graham, for they informed me a long time ago that they were very desirous that you tell them about Alaska or Utah.

You cannot tell how much interest in Home Missions your words are arousing; a permanent interest, I believe.

Reverend Mr. Bridges' address is #77 Reid Ave; will you kindly drop him a postal card if you can oblige them, and oblige

Dear Brother:

Yours of March 6th was received this mail. I confess to feel greatly annoyed about my letter not being published, as I had written to so many referring them to the paper for full particulars; now I am getting letters asking why it never appeared. If you had returned it to me, I would have copied it and struck off some "Hectograph" copies and sent them to these persons. But it is too late to do anything about it now. I have read your letter to Mr. Young to-day. I am glad to hear you are going to housekeeping in New York. It will be so much more pleasant for both you and Mrs. Jackson for you to be at home some more. Our friends are with us at last. They are tired after their long trip, but full of zeal and hope for their work. Our new married people are well and happy. Both at work. There is nothing special to write this mail and as I am exceedingly busy, I will have to close.

Much love to Mrs. Jackson and to yourself.

Very truly,

A.R. McFarland.

I think the pictures of the girls in your report is very good, much better than the one from which it was copied.

Reverend Sheldon S. Sills, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

The steamer, City of Chester, came in this morning, bringing me your letters from you, February 21st and 22nd and March 1st and 7th. Many thanks for the same. Father Morris never said a word to me about having received orders to go over to be doing you mention. I was told by some of the officers of the Massachusetts a few days since of the order. You have received my letters telling you that we are using the stable at present. We have been suffering from the cold and I was then sick for the last three days, cold and a bilious attack, but I think it is better to-night. Haven't the school going. I think we had better stay where we are until we move into permanent quarters. We shall probably have a warmer weather than we have had since we moved into it, until late in the fall and it would not seem advisable to fit up the building you mention, even if we were in possession. If the Government would give us that building and the house occupied by Colonel Hall and the land between the Ranch on the one side and the lake on the East and Black houses on the South, it might be worth trying for. Could build a school within the Ranch and fit up school-rooms and have large dormitories and a central hall. Would it be too great the Ranch for a school? And would it be feasible? A large part of it is built over the water. Some of the buildings here have a lot of Japanese Island would be a good place. A large farm to be made. The boys would be supplied from the Ranch. The better class of Indians might be brought to build there and would be under our regulations, etc. I don't think many of the children who now come to the school would come then. There have been a few who have not come since and storm, when it would come. Think many of the Indians who are attending our Sabbath services might be brought, although they do not mind launching a canoe with. Reverend Brady located a 160 acres of land and had it surveyed by Lieutenant F.H. Spence. The corner being near the Klathwan river, the line following the beach, my half way to Indian river and then extending back towards said river. This could be obtained from him. I think Lieutenant Spence and his men and Colonel Hall have recorded claims extending along the beach from Mr. Brady's claims, and beyond the mouth of Indian River. I have surveyed a claim of 160 acres back of the ranch extending from the Black houses in a southerly direction to the fall of 1920 intending to make improvements, the following winter. A Jew, by the name of Allick, jumped to this claim while the snow was two or three feet deep; put up a small shack on it and claimed it as a squatter, but he has not made any improvements on it since, don't know whether he would build it or not. Think on the whole this would be the best place for purposes. Have given you some $1000.00 and some of other people and some of my own suggestions to guide you in your deliberations in this matter, but I think it possible that you might do some more and select a place and start the buildings this summer as this work is not far away, but in to go on long after we have moved away. I should commence to repair the garden fence, which was blown down last winter as soon as the snow goes off so that I can place the posts. Have not received my garden seed yet, so will send some for seed for this summer. You ask me to let you know our loss in furniture etc. We lost two cupboards, cook stove, two sets of chairs and one - dinner, back-sides, and our bedsteads one a glimmer but no more than $100.00 and another a sort of sofa used as fifty dollars in New York, some bedding, my watch, chain, etc. some of wood, our clock, I fear is ruined, part of my parlor furniture badly damaged and, etc., etc. We are very comfortable, don't need anything, have more than enough to move around in this place. Losing our wood-stove caused us to suffer, but we had an amount of our stoves but our backs. We had about three in the kitchen while eating. We received our stove this summer and are happy. We felt ashamed to think that so much of our furniture was moved, and all the school furniture lost. I was some time in the vicinity during the boys' beds, and when I came out I found all my family trunks, as they thought I was lost. I sent below last night and some books, plates etc. Shall not need much for the next six months. Should like a dictionary if my love had published since the last Census.

2 dozen writing books

2 dozen first readers.

However Mr. Willard writes me that he has an extra flag that he will send me if I want it; will take it. Captain Glass said he would try and raise an organ for me in the Franciscan. The superintendent says he can fix the bell so that we can ring it about as well as with the usual way. Thanks for the paper. It is very nice, you did not send the bill for it. Many thanks for the checks from the Board. We send our warmest regards regularly - etc. Miss Austin did not get her Commission until three months after her appointment. Many thanks for papers, books etc and for your many kindnesses to us. Kindest regards to Mother Hannah and Family. Will not be able to write to him this time, I fear. Please remember us to your family. It is after 1 A.M. so I will close this and remain most gratefully

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.

My dear Sir:

I wish to write you a private and personal note regarding some work here here, you infer that I was working under some kind of order, as work against the Sheldon Jackson Institute. Therefore I think best to inform you in the very beginning. You know how long it has lain upon my heart to help some of the boys and girls in this place. The
 The Lord has cared so wonderfully for the Hospital that after at the end of the month, I have had two or three dollars left.
 At first I called in my building fund. Last winter during the services in connection with the work of prayer, one evening I was much moved at hearing one of our young men say in a speech, that he had cried several times in his Christian life that it was almost impossible for a young man to live and a life in the Indian ranch, there was no such a thing his own. That night I could not sleep trying to devise some means to help this young man; at last I resolved to have the building fund and make a start. And if the Lord provided for his support, I would save his ready for his service in two or three years. I went for him, but a long talk with him, told him I would rescue him from the hands of the Indian, the man and food clothing which was in need, having been sent in a hospital box. He cried and was very anxious for the change promised to stay as in all things, and never, without my consent leave a day in school. I hired a little cabin just up inside our house which he furnished very comfortably himself.
 The very evening that he came to us a young gentleman, coming down from the mines (on some war Victoria, D.C.) handed to me a five dollar bill to use as I liked. I took it as a sign that my work was to be prospered. And this December came a letter from a gentleman who is anxious to educate a boy in Alaska as a native teacher, he inquired, the letter preferred Thurst to know how much would be required per year. He would send the money direct and wished the time as needed best to three, four or five years. I took upon his letter as a direct answer to prayer, from the Lord of God. I have to go very

Fort Defiance, A.T.,

Honorable Sheldon Jackson, D.C.

Your letter of the 3rd and 4th received. We were very much surprised to hear that Mr. Jackson had been at this place, knowing that he had been working there from the trader - Mr. Hunt. This false report is more than all the transactions here under Mr. E's management. We cannot manage a school under such conditions and trying to make money. Mr. E. would never allow us to have students for more than the average number of children and this amount has never been sufficient to keep the children comfortable. Our living has cost us three times what it should have been on that account. A parent or two would sometimes come in for an hour or so and he would not allow us to give them a cup of coffee unless we furnished it ourselves which we never failed to do. No day from the commencement of school has passed but what a sufficient reason has existed for closing school. The supplies have never been given in such a way as to facilitate our work. Coffee improved but given only once a week, flour not given until the bread should be on the table. We always had supplies of our own except on hard days when we had to buy them. But financially we failed, to continue to beyond our ability. Do not be surprised if you hear of another "teacher" affair. And if you are left to explain just how the people began. Let us say that every day has been a struggle sufficient to make the average develop the worst features, as Indians would be capable of. The mason, carpenter, sign painter and store keeper have all gone a week ago. If we had any money, I don't think we could support our children at all. We have been in the worst hole of trouble and poverty we have ever known and suffered under ever since we have been at this place. We have been to be placed under one in looking at everything and Mr. Jackson is. On the other hand, however, our health has not been in the least. We have been able to have some and have enjoyed both health and all the good things of life and living here, and been threatened and encouraged by his spirit, beyond what we had ever known. Then too, we have been rejoiced again and again by the letters, kindness and affection of these Navajos. We have aged the people here we saw you. There were five Indians who died here yesterday in about a day, but it was a relief to have them in their days. Mr. Jackson tells that now that there is any more misconduct they must all go to the Indian Territory.

This we say is a punishment for their misconduct. In our opinion there ought to be an effort made in behalf of these people and that very soon. They deserve all that can be done for them. Four or five day schools should be given them, one in Canon De Shelley, one at "Mammelitas" here, and one at the town of Mammelitas on the Railroad. The Navajos do have a great deal and would send their children to school if they could. We learn of your being pressed with work and with with sympathy and "fellow feeling." Our kind regards to Mrs. Jackson and the circle. Many thanks for your kind letter. It was to us as "Words richly spoken, like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

Sincerely,
Mrs. J.E. Perkins.

Dear Brother:

Last Sabbath I found in an envelope dropped in our collection basket forty dollars, with a request that the sum be forwarded to the Ind. M. M. in Alaska. He came accompanied by the money.

I enclose herewith a draft payable in your order for the amount.

Please see that the Metropolitan Home Board gets credit for the amount on the books of the Home Board. Also, please send a receipt as a voucher as I have, as Treasurer of our Church, entered the amount in my vouchers.
And adieu.

My dear Sir:

You will learn from elsewhere that we are here; though we had some delays and perils from floods and accidental storms, and plenty of perplexities. Our journey was full of interest and we are thankful to be here safe and well. To find our warm friends and see so much good as already resulted from their efforts and Christian prayers and beneficence heart. You have in all this more of the reward which comes in this life.

Mr. Young expects to go with me to Nyack. Perhaps the first of the next week. The money is very deep but we will go if we can and accomplish anything. I hoped to find some further and definite instructions if not means for building and on arriving here.

The saw-mill is one of the first important essentials. I wrote Mrs. James. Hope means may be promptly forthcoming so we can get mill up in time to do some building this summer. as we are anxious to have some sort of a house and get to organized work.

I am convinced the mill project is a practical and practicable one and certainly an economic arrangement.

I sent up Sister's recommendation and she will be ready when it is the pleasure of the Board to send her.

A good report comes to us from the Indians. I have seen two of them; they are fine stalwart fellows. I do not think Alaskans are Indians.

I hope there will be some way to secure the organization of a Presbytery for our Territory before many months, as it is certainly very important that we may co-operate without going down to Oregon.

In regard to F.M.L. Lewis, brother of Nell, he is an excellent young man, faithful, honest, a good English scholar. I had him in Normal school - took him as a teacher. In the matter of business the difficulties which existed here will not at the point proposed for him. As to the proposed project to build him a house and lumber will be furnished and camp. Nell cannot quite understand why she is not getting along with giving Walter the appointment and I have not yet told him. If Walter comes, his wife's aunt, a nice lady with money and considerable means, will probably come with them. She is a noble woman with judgment, energy, character and executive ability and said to be a first class manager. She would be, in my judgment a useful woman in this Territory.

I am anxious to know the fate of your little, as I see their

I send you a copy of a letter sent from here by the Board to Agent Smith at Elko. It will explain in short why the school is discontinuing. Some fifteen families have already left the reservation - others are waiting a little - some to see if they will get money and then this is said to be at Elko, others for various reasons. A few families will stay.

likely remain, whether they put in a crop or not. I think we may count on about two children remaining with us. We have had a little for them in the past few weeks there has not been much encouragement for them to stay. I certify to the following as a correct copy.

UNITED STATES INDIAN SERVICE:

Western Shoshone Agency,
April 13, 1882.

Major Arden W. Smith,

Special A.S. Indian Agent:

Sir:

Captain John says - "My boys tell me I talk a little. We think we government men. He sent Indian Agent sent to Bush Valley - he is stay here - he stay in like all the time. John says was speaking about four years ago. He was come here in springtime to see about the work. He was make the pay straight. Just now Indians want to see the Indian Agent, want to see some work. I'll be sure know what to do now, they want to be in a hurry to do work. Some Indians come away - some Indians go pretty quiet. Indians want beef, bread, horses, money, rice, sugar and baking powder. Every thing in the house. I'll be sure know what to do now. John says, Indians want a good Agent. Some Indians come, maybe, if new Agent comes, and is a good one, Indians come back. If he is bad, maybe like John says, they go away back. Maybe Indians all leave. Indians think Smith was John says bad. Indians say so.

George Washington says, - This morning I let Butcher knife Jack (the interpreter) take four sacks of barley, and I was in charge, it is the agent. Every year I let him take some barley and hay. Agent say - Government pay me. He no pay yet. This morning I want some money. If I no get money, I no work well. If I get money for what I sell, I can buy what I want. I want some money to buy sugar, to Harris' and John, and the store at Silver City. I feel bad because I not so good as you.

Captain Charles says, - Smith my friend you tell me to work. I not working now. I want some money myself. I want you to show this paper to the new Agent. When he comes maybe he'll think I've got a ranch. I've got no money. I'll be work this spring just now I'm going to hunt. If the new Agent comes and Agent says he is here, if you show him this letter then he'll not be at me. I feel bad because so many Indians get sick and die here. When beef is come I feel bad. I feel bad because I don't have John's ranch. My Indian worked John's ranch last year. This year we have no ranch to work. I buy some things at Mountain and come at Silver City and some of other places. Agent now told me, when he got money would pay me, and then I would pay for what I would get. He never paid me and I don't pay. I feel bad. Now told me I'd get police money, Agent now told me I'd get money for barley and hay for government land for two years. I've not got pay yet. I would like Mr. Now to make everything square. I want Johnny Tarent and Mr. Now to make everything straight. I am not sorry for as long a time, I feel sick, bad. I feel so bad I don't work this year. I paid the new Indian agent when he comes to do things straight up as to make us feel well. When John Now came here, he no want any Indian chief to talk. I no want it the same way. The new chief comes. I want it the other way. I want the agent to talk with the chief when he comes. When Captain Now want to talk, Mr. Now must him - keep him away. This makes all the Indians feel bad. They all want to be away every year.

Reverend William Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

I have received no letter from you yet. Government was started two days ago for barley, wheat and salt. It is doubtful whether he can get it through.

We have not heard whether Mitchell is considered as agent of Gov. The first letter I received from him, I interpreted he was Presbyterian connected by the Church. The second letter gave more of the same at a Methodist. He proposes to bring to Clark, Frederick Thompson, a preacher. I suppose that person should not say, that he did not know till I wrote to him that we were sent here by the Presbyterians and that he proposed to make a clean sweep of Anglicans, Catholics and all, and bring in, instead, several millions of his own church. However he is, of course, if he is a Presbyterian is all right. But if he is a Methodist, or something else how will it affect our Mexican work?

But the mail is sailing and I must close.

Editor Dispatch,

Some months ago you published some articles from Doctor Sheldon Jackson on Alaska.

I want to know if you can tell where it is published.

Will you be so kind as to send me publisher's address, or at least possible and greatly obliged.

Yours very truly,

P.S. If you could have the price of the book it would be a great help to me.

1932, Alaska, April 14, 1932.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Yours of March 9, 1932, was received and my Major Harris never mentioned that he had received such a dispatch until a few days ago. He is opposed to the Mission having that building and I am the better with him. I am not about the fact and am not willing to do it. He is willing to help the Mission of the better the Mission helps Major Harris from some point of view. Finally I have no confidence in him, at least when I look in detail. He makes a better officer than the others so far as attention to affairs is concerned. Locally he brings only weakness to the place. Perhaps you will be better than I. Perhaps Iceland if it could be secured would be a good place for the Mission required. It has 200 or 400 acres, wood and water. The main advantage lies in its location. Mr. Auster's experience with the Mission is needed. The Island affords good for the garden and pasture for stock.
Mr. Whitcomb tells me that the Government does not keep all of warehouse because the Navy needed it, that it was rebuilt for this purpose. In this last he is mistaken for after the Russians left the Army fixed it for a Commissariat Department and some officer's rooms and it was occupied until the troops were withdrawn in '94. The Navy stored their stuff on Japanese but this building is now down. There are 3 other warehouses any one of which the navy could occupy nearly as well as the one in question. The warehouse at the wharf would suit the ship as well and in some respects better than the other. The Northwest T. Co. have a share in it but they have no claim as it that is lost and besides the time for which they contracted with Hall has expired. The large warehouse is used to Indian corn and is best adapted for the boys use. If you can still get the Secretaries to favor your having it, I hope that you may have another and permanent dispatch to carry it over. He suggested that the Committee should select the land which I had indicated and sell it off as the Mission. I told him that if the Mission wanted it, it would not have to purchase, they could take it freely. He will write you pretty soon and let me mention your about having a much confidence in him. I wish that we could have a better class of men than either Harris or Hall to fill these offices. Don't imagine that I'm hostile with Harris. He deals with us but does not pay me false nor his quality better. He told me he was more friendly than to Mr. Austin. He is an old man but still. It is for you I suppose a little more because the two walls. I have the board may be with me and he is not in the least friendly before Hall. He has heard of the arrival of Leonard Mr. Gould and really at Fort Warrick and also of the arrival of Miss Taylor to Mr. Matthews. Altogether there is quite a colony there now. The Superintendent of the Chinese Laundry Mr. Armour is here on the steamer. He will return from Triangle to China on his steam launch. This will afford Mr. Gould a chance to get over. I simply heard that Mr. Chapman is at work on his buildings. The City of Chester came up this time and went to the China Fort Triangle before coming here. Captain Carroll expects to go to San Francisco and then back via Portland. This is the intention but the Engineer thinks that it is doubtful. The new vessel "Bliss" designed by Brewster has the contract for the wall. This means the other company very much. The P. & O. Co. stick is all gone and on freight. Two months ago they were to pay us $100,000 per ton from Fort Townsend.

General William Jackson, U.S.A.,

Dear Sir:

Your letter of recent date stating that there was "fear" for sale has amused us very much as there is no flour in the Agency except what is borrowed from the trader. We commenced school again to day with attendance of twenty seven. Mr. Evans is present and seems determined to make it as hard as possible. He says he has all supplies at the railroad. I hope he has, but we are as much accustomed to his false statements that we are not surprised at anything he says. This day is cold and disagreeable with considerable snow on the ground, and half the school in their bare feet. We have had no stockings since Christmas and only one pair each then. Mr. Eastman does not want us in his way and if he is to be spent. Can you assist us in a short time. He is now anxious to have his son appointed and into the school as a teacher and I guess we will have to do it to get along at all. He is a good boy and will be of use to us I think. But unfortunately every one seems to dislike Mr. Eastman so much that no one respects the name. I do not think the dislike is altogether Dr. Eastman's fault, but he seems unable to overcome the strong and bitter feelings that are against him when he returns here nearly one month ago. There is a good deal of sickness about, and even for safety but they are not so willing to risk it, and keep themselves a little out of sight.

In there no way of helping these people. They seem to be suffering as a people. I am sure you would be glad to see how well they try to do in school and all around the house. We will have a large lot of rock, lumber, nails, and other material, and wood and coal and providing we can get the team again. To be sure I oversee all the work and Dr. Perkins too. But Willie and Lottie are not idle but are very willing to make great efforts. We had be surprised if you hear of us doing school again at any time, but we never know what will be our next move. The smaller the matter the greater the pay. We are inside that we will have a door-keeper and about noon but children between the ages of nine and fifteen. Our landlady is a woman. Our landlady has a baby in the cradle, it sleeps at night, and does not hinder her from work much and she has been in our employ ever since we have been west of the river. We cannot come down to the school again as it is in the last without cutting off some promising children.

The Savages tell us every day that they will wait until Heade returns if he is not Agent, they intend to run Mr. F. out (if he does not go they intend to kill him). Now this is all wrong but what if they do it. We say all share with him if trouble comes. I soon time think we are coming to a new school, and again the problems are with and the opportunities for giving the way of gold - that is the Master's name so great that we could not remain idle. This is a wonderful people, and great things may yet be seen of them as they got out of the spiritual darkness in which they have lived. We have had such a joyous day. We were so glad to see the children and they seemed happy too.

Sincerely,

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

Dear Sir:

Has an organ been provided for Mrs. Willard at Chicago? A society at Chicago, Illinois has raised money to buy one. Will you be able to travel from New York to Chicago for an organ? I am very anxious to get an organ at Chicago.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 17th inst. and the drawings of electrotype for illustrating your address in education in Alaska, came duly to hand.

The address as follows: at the recent meeting of the Department of Reclamation, nearly all, were received and the Proceedings will very soon be ready for the printer. Your idea to make off the extra copies of your address is a good one and I think can be carried out.

The electrotype will be returned to you when they have been used.

My dear Sir:

Can you not give us a sermon in May at Home Mission? If you can preach for us in the morning we can send you to Morrisfield House or Newara for the evening if you want to make the most of your day.

Our regular time for taking up our Home Mission collection is the first of May. We will postpone it a Sunday or if you cannot give us the first, I hope you will be able to come here in the month.

Yours very truly,

Reverend William Jackson,

My dear Sir:

I am required by a committee of the Synod of Pennsylvania to personally request you (if possible for you) to come on to extend a Presbyterian Center for the education of young men, in the city and town of Newara. We are advised by Brother Stewart of Newville, Pa. that you are expecting to pay a visit to this part of the State soon. Can you not come at the above time. We will have a large delegation from the churches and we can assure you of a large audience. We have a population of 20,000 and a large element of Presbyterianism. We have been almost entirely ignored by the representatives of our Synod and feel about it. We had the promise of Mr. McIlwaine and sent circulars far and wide announcing his coming and were never disappointed. Now we greatly desire you and ask at the instance of friends and by desire of Presbytery.

Very respectfully,

L. H. Schaner.

Pastor First Church.

New Defiance, A.T.

April 22, 1897.

Reverend Jackson,

My dear Sir and Friend:

We opened school again on the 11th of this month with thirty scholars. There is as much mischief among the Navajos as ever but a little more quiet here at the Agency than when we closed school.

On the first of this month the engineer, carpenter, storekeeper and mess left Mr. Eastman's employ, claiming that a bill was not made with him, and to-day his son interpreters after some trouble quit.

The facts are Mr. Eastman has trouble with all he deals with consequently has no friends in the country.

With us, he is what we call hard to get on with; his last orders were to take only scholars of school age (between 5 and 14 years) which at the present time is impossible for us to do, as some of our most promising scholars are between the ages of 15 and 30. Mr. Eastman also refuses to allow our Navajo help the usual ration allowed to scholars unless as directed by the Commissioner, although our help is all Navajo and strictly pupils deserving no such care and anxiety, the additional labor on our part is performed cheerfully and willingly by us in the interest of our "Board" and not to save the Government the expense of feeding their pupils.

It is apparent to us that he is cutting down the school on account of shortness of supplies, there being very little flour here.

With kindest regards of myself and family to yourself and family, I remain

Truly yours,

J. J. Perkins.

April 27, 1902.

Dear Doctor Jackson,

I have received three pleasant letters from you by yesterday's steamer. It is now past ten at night, and I am not through with my official correspondence. Am very tired and can hardly say a word.

The building you refer to is not available for the purpose you suggest and I have reported the same to the Secretary. It is required for the use of the Navy.

It will be a great pleasure to act in cooperation with Messrs Austin and Brady in selecting a site for your home near here. I talked the matter over with Brady to-day and he says the claim he has located here is at your service if you desire it.

If you contemplate having 100 boys or more in your institution, 100 acres of land is not too large a piece of land for them to occupy. You might in a great measure thus make the home self-supporting. But more of this anon. I must quit to-night.

My regards to General Eaton when you see him.

Sincerely yours,

Wm. Souvenir Morris.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
My dear Brother:

Boquet Village, April 23, 1902.

Why do I not hear from you or some member of the Board. Financially I am bearing a little heavier burden than I should, and it is a little trying not to be able to hear anything whatever. When you were about starting to Alaska you wrote me encouragingly to go on with the house according to your plan, and upon your return to send you an itemized bill, and if the Ladies had not already met the expenses you would raise it. Mrs. Haines also wrote me an encouraging letter relative to the matter, since which I have not heard a word. Have not heard one word from you nor from the Board since long before that. Now it has been a long and at times tedious and disheartening work to erect this building without having the financial burden to bear. It has been so hard to get laborers and then not to know whence the wherewithal to pay them. Had I not expected the money I should have dropped the work until I had cash in hand. Then again there is the matter of my brother for the time that he and his wife were commissioned here. I have had to bridge them over best I could, and yet they have suffered the greatest embarrassment and have lost confidence in the Board to such a degree that I can scarcely encourage them in any respect.

My sister-in-law will return to Colorado this summer and I suppose that my brother will follow as soon as he gets the money.

You may think this a severe complaint, but is it right for the Board to treat her employees thus? Can you wonder that even Christians lose confidence.

The Board can - it need be - borrow a little money to bridge over a difficult pass, but sometimes this is not in the power of a Mission teacher to do, and in an isolated place like this it leaves us more perplexed at times. I remember that I have been tempted to send in my resignation more than once - feeling doubtful as to the acceptability of my services to the Board. Our house will soon be completed in toto, but we cannot send for furniture until we get the money, and will probably not be able to get in here before the fall and we shall have to continue on the little borrowed stuff as we have for more than a year - thanks to kind neighbors.

May I not hear from you soon?

Respectfully yours,

Charles A. Taylor.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Sir:

Let me thank you for the copies of "Presbyterian Home Missions" received yesterday and the number for April which came in ample time for our Meetings last week.

We voted $100. to Alaska and hope to add to it for the bell, should you consider that the most desirable offering for us to make this year.

Did he not understand you that the New building would be completed in the Autumn? Any information will be very gratefully received, for people always raise questions that one is not quite prepared to answer.

The members of the Society desire to thank you most cordially for your generous service in preaching here, which was most thoroughly appreciated.

Very respectfully yours,

Lyons, N.Y., April 29, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
My dear Sir:

The "Home Missions" enclosing the "Alaska Bill" have just come to hand forwarded from Red Creek, my former home. This being the county seat, I moved here last December.

We had secured the Home Missions and read it last night.

Of course I have not had time to examine the "Bill" yet. I merely drop you this to enquire what its present status is. I noticed a few days since that a bill of somewhat similar character had been reported by the Senate committee on Territories. Was that this Bill? or a substitute for this? You may wonder why I have kept my eye on this matter. I will tell you frankly.

Heretofore I have been somewhat useful to the Republican Party as a canvasser. Have been much on the hustings not asking anything for myself but trying to do my duty. The day after Garfield was elected Hon. John H. M.C. said to me "Foster, what do you want? It is time you were rewarded for your hearty work." I said nothing as I know of - but perhaps I am fit for a Territorial judgeship. To which he responded "You shall have it." Soon after he told us he had filed an application in the Attorney General's office. Then came the shooting of Garfield and the dark days which followed and the matter had faded almost out of memory. Last Tuesday I had notice from Mr. Camp to send in my recommendations and I have them nearly ready.

They consist of endorsements by a dozen or more judges, a larger number of Attorneys and county officials. Also the Pastors of the churches. I do not ask for appointment to any particular Territory but leave that an open question.

My good wife is more than half a Missionary and she has been hoping I would be sent to Alaska.

Reverend A. Augustine Wood, D.D., our pastor said to-day as he signed my endorsement "I hope this means Alaska."

You see I am talking to you frankly. And I wish to say that I would not take an appointment to Alaska unless such appointment was easily forfeited; for I consider that you have done so well for Alaska leaving daylight in even it - that you have earned the right to say the shall hold its offices and lay the foundations of its future institutions.

Should you wish to know more of me, I refer you to either or all of the following gentlemen:

|--------------------|--------------|
| Reverend A.A. Wood | Lawson, N.Y. |
| Hon. F.W. Collins | |
| " L.M. Morton | Newark |
| " H.F.N. | Seneca |
| Judge E.C. | Auburn |
| " J.L. Anolis | Rochester |
| " F.W. McComber | " |

Reverend Allen D. Fraser, Red Creek.

From what I have said you of course will understand that I am willing to take that judgeship.

I think I understand its duties. Twenty-five years at the bar is a pretty good school. I am not 50 years old, hale and hearty; wife four years younger and no children to prevent either of us from making ourselves useful.

Perhaps you will visit Auburn Jan. next week. Its commencement there you know. Should you telegraph me and I will run over and meet you there.

At all events let me hear from you in reference to these matters.

Hoping I may

Yours very truly,
John Foster.

Since writing the above I have looked over the bill somewhat. Should not the proviso on page 3 concerning line 27 read:

"And provided also: That the title to the land embracing six hundred and forty acres at each Missionary Station among the Indian tribes in said District with the improvements thereon be granted confirmed and established in the several religious societies to which said Missionary Stations respectively are exempt from taxation by any law, and the same shall be used for religious or educational purposes."

It strikes me the proviso is rather obscure as it stands in the bill. Certainly the draftsman must have meant a section of land for each station; not a section for all the stations collectively, and yet that is the way it reads.

Yours,

Proter.

CITKA, ALASKA.

May 3, 1892.

Marshall

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I beg you will not lose a moment but proceed to Washington without delay and consult with General Nelson to whom I have dropped a short note to-day asking his co-operation. You had better show the General the letter so that he can understand the situation. Both of you, however, will require to read the official correspondence and up to me and enclosed to the Secretary of even date herewith.

Strictly confidential, they have sent me a regular Pine-Fore Captain, who has not been to sea for six years and who has been for years on ferry duty in New York flattening his nose against the windows of the Union Club. A regular howling swell, cheek by jowl with Jim Bennett, Jim Kenna and that crowd, and to cap the climax reported to be a nephew of Ben. Butler.

He has the most perfect contempt for the country and every body in it, and does not hesitate so publicly to proclaim. He actually contemplated taking his ship away from here and withdrawing his marine guard and leaving us without any protection whatever, but the whole thing is so fully stated in my official correspondence that it is merely carplunge to reiterate it.

His demeanor to me after the receipt of my letter was most offensive, but it was the old story "You need not shoot Captain Scott, I will come down," said the cock to old Martin Scott of the Army. From the time he arrived here he has been abusing the country and everybody in it. He actually said that hereafter he should lay at Wrangell because there was more frequent mail communication. Just think of that, in a Captain of a Man-of-war sent here to rule these Indians.

He has found fault with many things that Glass has done for instance he condemns we told his system of complicity education and it was just as much as I could do to dissuade him from calling the Indians together and publicly proclaiming to them they need not send their children to school unless they chose to. This fortunately I prevented but he made it known in a different way. But my gentleman let the cat out of the bag, when unguardedly he presented himself to me to be a Roman Catholic and opposed to compulsory education in any form. That is the bottom secret of the whole thing.

You of course are familiar with the facts of Glass having shaved the head of an Indian Shaven for witchcraft, his being fined 50 blankets, his imprisonment at hard labor until said fine was paid, and the notification given him by Glass himself in the presence of the assembled tribes that he intended to banish him. Well the old camp of a Doctor took his chances and refused to pay the fine, when he was confined in the stocks of his prison Glass he heard the Indians from the ever popular opera "I am the Captain of the Phantom."

This chap resolute in a grand new uniform appeared like Freddie all over with medals and "gold lace," told us that Glass had no business to leave him such a legacy and that he did not thank him for it. Just think of such an exhibition. Well it makes me ill and black for the American Navy.

He furthermore disapproved of the policy of our Indian policemen and announced his intention of doing so when all on his return. There is no use for the fact that the Adams is shortly expected here to relieve the Fairbanks. I really should feel a great sense of uneasiness if this untrained chap was allowed a free hand in these waters.

There is but one thing and that is to break upon Secretary Fulger the necessity of having a decided stand, and that it settled at Washington, so that we shall not be at the mercy of every scheming, who happens to cross our path for a brief period on the quarter back of a newspaper.

You have now the whole case, pick your fight and go in and win.

Sincerely yours,

W. Lawrence Harris.

Washington, D. C.

Dear Doctor:

I should like to get you to call on Mr. Tucker with me this evening, if you can. He is at the Indian House near the Arlington and if you can't, I will come anywhere or if you can't get here, you can write.

W. L. Harris.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

Yours of April 25th is just received. It throws light upon some things concerning which we were in the dark. It is probably well that this agency was not assigned to the Presbyterians. The management has been such that the Reservation is almost broken up. All the Indians have left but about 75. They think they have been used badly and it will require a long time of honest usage to restore their confidence. The school has run down to about 10, and it is more likely to decrease than increase. Some of our large boys have returned to help with the farm work. Nearly all the Indians have moved across the river and as the water is up they cannot come except on horseback or in a wagon; but notwithstanding there are but few children not "in attendance." We have but one sleeping apartment and we use it for the girls. From the present indications it will be some time before a dormitory is provided for boys. As the outlook is discouraging. There are also indications of trouble. The old settlers who were here during the Banook outbreak four years ago feel very uneasy. We have felt entirely secure hitherto, but begin to feel a little shaky now. The Indians who have been here have shown no feeling but friendship and I think in case of trouble they will prove our friends. Our location is very isolated and we have no soldiers from whom we could expect timely help. Evidently there is a serious, uneasy, unsettled feeling among the Indians which some impudence on the part of the whites might arouse into acts of open hostility. But I think measures on the Reservation cannot be drawn into a war against the whites.

If we could be transferred from here, we would prefer New Mexico to Arizona especially on account of climate. We like the climate of this place in some respects; but the past winter has extended from October to May, so that we long for summer. Besides when summer comes it is so short and so little to freeze that crops are uncertain. We were not here long until we came to the conclusion that it was not a wise selection for a successful Indian reservation.

In conclusion, permit me to say, we do not wish to remain here under a Commission administration. Had we choice of location we would have picked a northern or an elevated one - not one extremely cold and warm.

Our special Agent Smith came to the reservation a week ago. He found things in such a state that he thought it prudent to leave, which he did Monday night about midnight.

He told us the Indians showed as much friendliness to us that we could not run much risk to remain while, as he felt quite unsafe himself.

There is now this morning several inches deep. We have had snow frequently during the last month - no garden made yet.

I had a letter yesterday from a lady who has been teaching in the Public school at Washington, Iowa. Her health seems to be failing and she would like to get a school in some Western Mountainous district. She is an orphan. Her parents were sent South as Missionaries during the war and were killed on a steamboat near Natchez. Her father was an Ass. Ref. Presbyterian preacher.

She studied Latin in the Academy with me some years ago, and I think I never had a student more brilliant or accurate, or diligent, or lady-like in deportment. She is a tall, fine looking girl. She has been teaching school several years in Washington. I think she is a member of the Presbyterian church. If not, she has strong proclivities in that direction and is a member of the U. S. Church. If her health is not too much broken down, and I do not think it is - I do not know of another lady whom I could more confidentially or confidently recommend as a teacher. She is about 25. Her address is Miss Ella M. Tanette, Washington, Iowa.

The Gospels were duly received.

Trusting in a wise ordering of Providence in our affairs, I remain

Sincerely yours,
James V. Willson.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
Washington, D.C.

My dear Sir:

Your favor of the 3d inst. at hand for which accept thanks, as well as for accompanying documents.

I have taken great pleasure in reading the testimony taken before the sub-committee of the Senate. How little our people know of our country.

That "Report" should go into every household in the land.

I have also looked over the Bill reported by the Senate Committee. It is a very fair Bill as far as it goes.

Take that if you can get no other and trust to the future for further legislation.

Herewith I present an amendment which will explain itself.

It will not delay the Bill, I think. It may be tacked to the bill by way of a rider or be inserted therein by the committee by way of Supplemental report.

The amendment is intended for a substitute for the usual grant of lands for school purposes. Such a grant not being available or practicable in the case of Alaska.

Alaska which has so many merits is it ought not to be delayed and it seems to me the bill could easily be advanced on the calendar.

Now as regards the question of my appointment. My recommendations were forwarded to Mr. Camp yesterday to be filed in the Attorney General's office, and of course are open to your inspection. My application is an open one by which in effect I have said that I would go wherever the Government might send me. Should I be sent to Alaska I should cheerfully accept and to the extent of my ability try to fill the position in such a manner as to lay strong and firm foundations for the Alaska of the future.

I am not a member of the Presbyterian church. I am a Christian lawyer and try to live up to the best of my power. The endorsements of leading clergymen which accompany my application will show where I am in their estimation.

My good wife is a Presbyterian and has been from childhood. As a natural worker in Missionary Sabbath School and Temperance Society.

The position of Chief Justice with the Alaska Bill will be no exception. The legislative duties alone will well employ the full time of a man otherwise busy with his own affairs.

However I am not a novice at law taking - and should if required strive to give Alaska such a basis of laws as will secure to the prosperity of its citizens.

I should be pleased to hear from you again.

Respectfully I am,

I am very truly yours,
John Foster.

Reverend Father Jackson:

Dear Friend:

I have this opportunity of writing to you, hoping you and Mrs. Jackson are well. As regarding myself, I am quite well at present. I feel Willard is very unwell at present, for several days, I am ill, and the fever is really a nice lady, and as kind. I am working very nicely with my school. Most of my scholars are away at present with their parents preparing a portion of their winter's provisions. The Paul and his wife has come up at Kailash.

Sir, do you remember when I wrote to you about my salary when you were here, you said well you get a box of clothing every year and that is quite a help and on that account I was satisfied with what I get. I have had only one box of clothing which I received in July, 1888, when I was on my way to this place and have since then.

I am not a very fine looking man, and I am not a very good friend to help me. But in God's hands I leave all things. I remain

Your sister in Christ,

P.S. I send you one pair of moccasins, worked with silk and one pair of stick Indians with a stone showing the way the the witchcraft people - I put it inside of the moccasins.

Agay, N.Y., May 11, 1882.

Reverend Doctor Jackson,
Dear Sir:

Your note of 10th inst. is at hand just in time to have the change of bell made from 600 "pattern" of about 700. We will send a good bell. Every pound adds to the depth and dignity of bell tone.

We expect to cast on Monday and ship on Wednesday following.

Respectfully yours,

Clinton W. McNeely, Pres't.

Dear Sir:

Referring to your favor of the 23d inst., I would state in reply that I have this day issued a special order to bill the Church Bell for A. W. Martin, Father, Alaska, at half rate from Carroll Island to San Francisco, in accordance with the request of Mr. Sidney Dillon, Pres't. of the U. S. R. R. and C. P. Extension of the C. P. R. Co.

Yours truly,

Doctor Sheldon Jackson,

Dear Sir:

Jennings, Pa., May 10, 1882.

We have recently received letter from our dear children Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Willard, part of them have been forwarded to a daughter in Massachusetts with a request to forward them to you, as they contain many things you, no doubt, would be glad to have. We have others of a more recent date which I have addressed to our representative W. H. Shal-lanberger, at Washington, and also done with the former. He has his reply saying: "The Committee of which I am chairman has had some very interesting talks from Doctor Jackson and others who have presented the needs of the Mission work in different shapes during the winter. I feel quite an interest in the appropriation pending and will give it my support."

In daughter's last letter she speaks of various trouble arising from trade interests, and of the importance of a removal of their own to avoid incision. This I fear would only increase the difficulty and it would not be the appearance of competition. I have written to Mr. W. asking if something cannot be done by the Government, which would relieve them from imposition, without subjecting them to the charge above mentioned. I may be wrong in my opinion, and as they have addressed you on the subject, leave it to your superior judgment.

The letters, you are at liberty to use, as you think best, but fond parents would like them returned at your convenience.

And here allow me to tender to you our sincere thanks for your untiring exertions in providing for the comfort of those so dear to us. We will be glad at any time to welcome you to our home and assist you in your labor of love. Financial embarrassment cripples our desires for the present, but we hope to be relieved and able to do more for the Master's cause and kingdom.

The 1st Presbyterian of this place supplied (or paid for) the school books, and the 2d Presbyterian the hymn-books. Mrs. McClintock (our daughter) of Cohasset, Massachusetts sent a hand bell, and in reply to a letter I have the good news that the Mission Band of Monmouth, Illinois, will send an organ. Thus the Lord is providing. And blessed be His name.

Yours in Bonds of Christian Love
Mrs. Joseph White.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

Your of April 18, was received two days ago. Louie and Tillie left on this boat for Chiloet and Mr. Gould and Mr. Young for Nydah. Mrs. Gould and the children will remain with me until he has a house ready. I hope you will be able to secure the "Tools" and also the "Drugs". Doctor Carlier went down to Ketchikan and Fort Simpson soon after Mr. McFarland arrived and he was pressed right into practice and has been busy every minute he was out of school. It does not seem as if he was going to have time to look after anything out of school but Doctoring. I will have the names of the girls written on the back of the picture and return it to you. By the way, the school the pictures to return for per cent? What amount? At what amount? This is the best I have seen, and as many friends would like one, I will send for one if I can get them reasonably. One of my little girls is very sick. Fanny Baker (you will perhaps remember her as Fanny). I fear she is not going to recover. Has a kind of quick consumption. I am glad your work is going to keep you here with your family. I think Mrs. Jackson will be glad to. Love to her and the girls. I suppose you are altogether now.

Yours truly, A.R. McFarland.

SPERILION JACKSON INSTITUTE

An industrial training school for Indian school.

Wicks, Alaska. May 12, 1892.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

The steamer came in Thursday and we are very much cheered at the news from the East.

I sensibly hope that money will be forthcoming to build a Home, Church etc, that our work may suffer no harm. We received a beautiful organ and box of books, plates, crayons etc, procured by Captain Glass in San Francisco.

Received large quantities of clothing for the boys and many comforting letters from friends by this steamer.

Will you not put a notice in your paper, asking our friends to put a card in the packages, sent by freight with their full address on it. Packages by mail ought to be saved up in mailin and their addrs as on the outside. We have a box of clothing etc by this steamer. Have no more account of clothing where it came from.

Have a letter from the Railroad Agent at Council Bluffs stating that the U.P.R.R. will not take one of our boxes unless the freight is prepaid or guaranteed by the agent of the line at this end of the route. Have arranged the matter this time with the gentlemanly porter of the City of Chester.

Reverend Mr. Gould is on his way to the Tyish Mission in company with Reverend F.V. Young. Mr. Gould spoke about the bell. Mr. Styles had raised it in a new tower and we thought we had best have it here, as it is useful to us and would not be so then for some time.

Will canvass for a site upon which to build a new Home and give results by next steamer.

I think it is of the highest importance that you should come on, select the ground and make the arrangements for the building.

First, Major Morris cares more for the Government than he does for the Mission.

Second. If we select a site some unforeseen difficulty may arise, and it takes three months to interchange ideas.

Third. The Indians all expect you.

Of course, we shall do the best we can. Have heard that Captain Sprague who owns the sawmill at Chican has been selling lumber at the mines at $15.00. We expect him here before the next steamer arrives. If so will see if he has much lumber ready and what his lowest price would be etc., and will write you in my next.

The changes that are taking place at Hoonyah on account of the mines and the establishment of the Oil and fishing factory at Killisnoo is an additional reason why you should come to Alaska. Mrs. A. has sent her reports regularly.

Please ask Mr. Eaton not to deduct any money sent us from our salary at present, as I have constant demands for Freight etc and ~~as~~ fire poor Will account for it all, dislike to borrow for such purposes.

With love to all.

Most sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

SHELDON JACKSON INSTITUTE

An industrial training school for Indian School.
Sitka, Alaska, May 10, 1892.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

As the steamer may appear at any moment now, I will write a few lines to you to-day. Have been confined to the House for the past three days suffering from a severe cold, sore throat, etc. Conducted two services for the Indians last Sabbath, although I could hardly speak above a whisper. This greatly aggravated my throat trouble. The ship is away so we have no Doctor. Reverend Mr. Brady was away. So it seemed necessary for me to do so. Am very anxious to hear how you are succeeding in raising funds for our new House..

Captain Pearson, the successor of Captain Glass, pursues an opposite policy and is doing great harm. The Indian Doctor whose head was shaved by order of Captain Glass fined twenty blankets, to be imprisoned until the fine was paid; then to be banished from Sitka, was released by Captain Pearson without paying the fine and allowed to remain here. Some one supposed to be an Indian as it was printed and written and spelled about the same as some of the Indians write here tacked a letter on the guard-house, threatening to kill the whites and burn the town. The mother of one of the Home boys and some Indians, all from Neeshinoc stole him from the school. Cat-le-an, who was instrumental in placing him in the school came and reported the case to us, and I sent word to the ship. They sent the steam launch after the canoe, but it escaped. The same evening Captain Pearson sent a messenger to inform me that he should have nothing to do with enforcing compulsory education. Gave me some fatherly advice, wished me success in our work, etc, but said "I must not look to him for help. I sent back word that I never had solicited help from the naval authorities; that whatever they had done had been voluntary. That I heard he was ordered to carry out the same policy and that I reported the case to him as a matter of courtesy. Have heard since that he is a Roman Catholic. On leaving for Wrangel, he turned over to me ten blankets for the Homs.

I succeeded in buying a good boat last week for the boys. The Cannery at Old Sitka has been given up; they had four boats for which Captain Vanderbilt offered $1.00 each a month ago. I bought the largest one for forty dollars and it will carry three tons, needs a few repairs and painting when it will be as good as new. Could have bought a seine for fifty dollars, worth two-hundred dollars. It was a rare chance but I felt I must do without it until after we had a new home. Have the garden ploughed, fenced and partially planted. Have had hail and snow squalls nearly every day since. Will close this and wait for the steamer. Truly unite with me in sending kindest regards to yourself and family.

Most sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

P.S. Will you please show this letter to Doctors Kendall and Roberts, as I am completely tired out, have been up the past two nights very late, answering correspondents.

Sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

Hydah, May 10, 1892.

Doctor Jackson,
Dear Sir:

I only write to say Mr. Austin has elevated the bell you left and which had all the castings broken by the fall. He understands you expected to send them one this summer and in that case would it not be better to send us a new one to Hydah Mission and save expense. This is a nice bell, but perhaps one as good and with the inscription could be sent us. I only say this to please Mr. Austin and save expense; if you deem best, but that we do not appreciate the Hydah bell but do not like to take it from Mr. Austin.

All well when we left home.

Yours in work,
J. Louis Child.

I have concluded to make an agenda. Mr. Ford, the N.Y.F Co's man for Hydah is on his way to Portland to see Mr. Maltby there, they may send up a schooner or via steamer next month if they conclude to do so I ask him to telegraph you and perhaps lumber will and perhaps all our goods may be sent at the same time tho' he does not know who to call on at Portland for our business. But if they go to San Francisco, this to you is no use.

I sincerely hope the mill may be forthcoming. Believe it can beat me at Mission work, especially the cumulative part.

Truly,
J.L. Gould.

Fort Wrangel, May 12, 1892.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Brother:

I received your note this mail, was glad to hear from you. I had just made out a list of medicines to send for by this steamer, but will wait until I hear from you again; hope you may succeed in your kind act but if not would be pleased to hear from you at your earliest convenience as I would like to send as soon as possible for my Fall stock. I am very thankful that I did not have the chance of Commissionership as I find plenty to do, did not care for it from the first and almost or probably did wish that some other person could be raised up as I have no desire for a Government position: as it was only from a sense of duty as regards the best interests of the work here that I ever consented as I did.

I made an explanation in my report about medicine which you will see and I need not explain here. Doctor Corlies' family expect to leave on the June steamer. I had three bad cases to attend shortly after he left but have been very successful in treating them one case had a bad attack of Pneumonia, got a little better; went out took a cold turned to Quinsy and finally ended in Erysipelas but was out last Wednesday evening to prayer meeting well. Mr. Gould went to Hydah this steamer also Mr. Young, his family will remain here until his return. Our spring is very late. The little boat which runs up the Sticksen commenced loading yesterday for its first trip but cannot go very far as the river is slow in breaking up. We had about ten days of spring like weather but this week has been quite wet, to-day the Sun is out, bright, birds singing so sweetly. Robins are pretty thick. Aunt says they are the first she has seen in Alaska. Also jays and several smaller birds making it sound quite home-like. I say one the season being late causes our school to be larger than common - we had 47 scholars yesterday. School is in a prosperous condition as far as I know all is quiet along the Tolstons.

Much obliged for garden seeds but doubt as to whether we will be able to raise anything on account of late spring.

My good wife thinks it is very nice to have someone to assist her in the school and believes she can teach with more energy and interest.

My wife joins me in returning you and your dear wife many thanks for your kind wishes on our behalf.

May the good Lord bless you in all your good work.
Your Brother in Christ,
J.S. McFarland.

Wade, Alaska May 12, 1897.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

I have barely time by this steamer to acknowledge the receipt of your note of April 14. I will be glad to co-operate with you in anything. You know you have only to let me know what you want.

The news that Hall's band had been most gratifying. We want no more soldiers in this territory. I am glad to hear Mr. Gould, a Maine soldier in our midst. Tommy and himself are going in a few minutes to Ketchikan on the steamer to locate a new mission.

I have written you about the building. Secretary Folger informed me that, that is so. The Navy require that besides that it is actually suited for your purpose. You could erect a good building for use that would cost to make very low comfortable.

Sincerely yours,

William Greenough Harris.

Jackson, Great Mission Alaska.

Reverend William Jackson

Dear Brother:

I have just received your note and letter dated Washington, D.C., February 4, 1897.

Your letter of April 14th came with me a few lines every opportunity was taken. Please find your letter dated Jackson, A.T. April 9, 1897, and beginning by saying that you are entitled to my thanks and that just now I have the opportunity as Mr. Purdy intends to start in the morning to visit the shores of the E.T.V. Co. I will send to him that you will hear from us our next summer when if I visited for the steam-er. For a building site we have finally settled on the place you selected on the sunny side of the old town. Mr. Purdy had great difficulty in finding a suitable place for store until I gave him permission to build on our site on the West end. He has put up a building 32 by 22 and hid it with Indian labor and a short little time I have managed to assist them. The frame is poles and it is covered with shakes both roof and walls, and as they are four feet long and quite smooth it makes a very good-looking building; also a porch the whole length of the house six feet wide. When we say that American Bay is a good harbor we have urged nearly all. On the south side there is a steep mountain, while the other sides are so thickly covered with heavy timber and roots and stones that

It is almost impossible. And at this season when the sun shines, here, the snow is drifting or the fog arising there. Let us not go back on the Indians as navigators on these waters or their judgment in locating a town. We are all well pleased with the prospect of so soon having a home market. The Indians are saving their skins and furs, and say that they have prospects of a good season for the sea otter and fur seal which comes with pleasant weather and lasts the summer. The Kluwack channel was filled with ice when we returned from Fort Wrangel therefore we did not get the things remaining there. My school is not very large but averages about 12 just now, and as my provisions are getting short, I find it a good opportunity to make the trip for the things and refill my bread-basket. The Indians have done well by me, and I am sorry that my Fort Wrangel friends are jealous. Mrs. McFarland receives letters wanting to know who Professor Chapman is. I told her if he was not worthy of the title that I would be sooner than if he called me a fool. I also told her that I was proud of the title and of one that was willing to encourage me and that after parting with you receiving your last injunction of daily looking to God for Divine aid and wisdom and finding myself alone prayed O God as Jesus for the joy set before him endured the cross, let us endure the absence of friends and loved ones and all the privations of this frontier life for the good things in store for us by-and-by. I enjoy the work and find the duties so varied and pleasant that I find very few lonely hours. I am trying to make in some way enough to pay my expenses and $100.00 as a present to you aside from my salary. I have never been fortunate enough in this world's goods to have even a $1000.00. May I make a good use of what is given me, as a brother in Christ.

Dear Brother:

Your welcome letter of March 6, I received April 17th at Kluwack while up there for our things. Mail that I should have received months ago is still behind. I hope you will succeed in establishing a post route through here. The Indians want $30. per month to carry from here to Fort Wrangel. The pledges of the good ladies of Brooklyn are indeed very encouraging. I have just improved a good opportunity of visiting Masset, Queen Charlotte Island Mission and which I will more fully describe by-and-by. While there I secured a very fine specimen of Indian carving which I carefully boxed up and sent you as a present. You will also find with it the skins of the feet of a swan that I found on my way to Klavack. The Indians use them to keep beads and buttons in. The little quills, Chief Schoolka presents you. The storing of our things at Klavack and the kind hospitality of those in charge should be kindly remembered. Everything looks well for us as far as I know. My Fort Wangle friends think that you say too much for us and too little for them. I am sure that I have never asked to be counted only as one of the very least. Let us do all the good I can in a humble quiet way in the power of

Your Brother in Christ,

Dear Brother:

Your kind letter of April 14th, I received to-day; also a letter from the good ladies also a package of Observers. I am very grateful to you, and the gentlemen who are so kind as to send them. When I was up here April 17th Mr. Arner informed us that Mr. Gould and Mr. Young would be here on next Saturday and that he had arranged to bring them through to our place, but that in returning from Sitka his steam launch became so disabled that he could not do so, and that he would be obliged to send to Victoria for them and when they arrived for loading I told my people what I wanted to do but they were all very anxiously waiting for the wind to change when they would go into their great harvest field of hunting for seal. They then let that Messrs. Gould and Young could come down alone and said "Why do you go?" I told them I wanted to send out my mail and that you wanted to hear from us and more than all I had promised to go, and that it would be better to die than break my word and that I was also anxious for them to improve every good opportunity for making money and was glad to have them go and that I would take a canoe and go alone; finally Schoolka said that made him sick to think about my coming alone, and that he would take his crew and bring me up as the wind was still in my favor and that by that time the wind might change and they would not lose much time. We made the trip up here in one day which usually takes 2 or 3.

Very Truly,
J.K.Chapman.

Washington, D.C., May 15, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I have been much troubled with sickness of self and family: hence could not get the reports to send you till now, and as they have "shot down" on me at the Post-office Room for this now I can only send 3 now. Will try and get the others from Senator B. when I see him. I mail you also the two latest Alaska documents out. Can send you more of the Glass-Lull reports if you want them.

I have been after Challengerger and Herbert constantly about that lot bill, but the want of a quorum has prevented its going in. Nothing new in the case of the Government Bill but I am confident of that and the Education appropriation.

Very truly yours,

H.D. Hall.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir and brother:

Your letter concerning ration for Navajo employees at hand. Also that from the Honorable Commissioner of Indian Affairs is received to the same. Such letters help us for they defend the Navajos against the cruel injustices of their more than cruel agent. We have had great excitement and sleeplessness. The chiefs have been in again entreating Mr. Eastman to go and live with his people and that if the Great Father will not give them their choice for an Agent, give them someone else of the many men they saw when they were at Washington. "The men were as thick as ants," they say. We do not want to drag you out of this and we continually with you here." Now write this down on a piece of paper and send it to Washington. We will give you time to fix your papers and then you must go. I cannot see how so great a dislike has become so general. We have now no hope of a change of Agent and we feel it to be our duty to inform the Board that we do not think it wise to make the great efforts we are now making to get on with a friend and rascal such as Mr. Eastman shows himself to be concerning the school matters, aside from how he may make money out of the same. This is our opinion I hope we are wrong. The last coffee is now in the house and other supplies in the same proportion except flour. We send to Albuquerque for brooms and such things I send you some specimens of writing and drawing by a man called Captain Sam. He has done much of his writing at his wagon not being allowed to remain here all the time; Mr. B. not liking him on account of his gambling. His wife is one of my standbys in the sewing room. She sews on the machine very well. Some of the sheets of paper his little girl wrote after his copy. The whole family say they are willing to go East. They are of unusual promise. The children are one girl and two boys from ten to fourteen years. We will be glad to hear from you soon. Other teachers can be found who will be found who will not for a time at least realize the situation here and the work without feeling that they are doing so much less than ought to be done.

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

We are so much surprised that no Inspector has come and that no ray of hope is held out to us. Our struggle has been a hard one, and our situation now is. Hope so long deferred has sickened us. If you have any other work you want us to do, we are at your service. The children are kind and the premises of the school is excellent.

Mrs. J.D. Perkins.

Reverend Abner Jackson:

I enclose a cheque for fifty-five dollars. On the 6th of April I heard Mr. Jackson lecture on Alaska, delivered at Jaccassuna. It was I that gave you the one dollar and was told that you did not know what to do with it. Use it all for the advancement of Christ's Kingdom in the earth, in Alaska, or elsewhere, wherever it is most needed, only be sure that you get the best good out of the money sent. In granting my request by sending me your address, the question is asked "Do you receive the Presbyterian Home Missions?" In asking allow me to make somewhat of a confession. My limited means prevent my having the home, I have ever desired; consequently, I am a wanderer, here, there, sometimes I hardly know where, the result is I do not subscribe for, or receive a paper, or periodical of any kind. I write the above as an apology. I would not quarrel. I look at the matter as discipline.

Please acknowledge as soon as received. If this gift must be known to the public, please say a friend from Orange, Kate McKay,

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I desire to ask your good officers of the Home Board to have them send me my salary the first of 1st March. I have come to the General Assembly in with my wife intending to have her visit her friends in Pennsylvania. Friends in New Mexico forced us to take $170. so she could come as my salary had not arrived when we started. I don't know what to do if I can not get the means here. Many many thanks for half-fare permits from Kansas City to Springfield.

Schenectady, N.Y.,
May 12, 1914.

Doctor Jackson,

Dear Friend:

Your letter relating to the Port Vincent Hospital is at hand. There is a slight misapprehension. The move for the Hospital was not an act of the Medical Committee of our own church, Schenectady 1st. Mrs. Young was known (slightly) to some of us personally and her aunt's family were residents of this place and members of our church until about a year since, they moved West.

The letter from which I copied is a private one to Mrs. Young's aunt. She (Mrs. Young) had no idea of its being used to "work" the Hospital as it tended me all the more. I read it to a friend together with her article in the paper last fall) who immediately gave me $10.00 for the "Hospital" and urged me to join a paper for subscription in it. This was the origin of the "move" Just at the same time our "Church Annual" took place. In the report on Home Mission work I put in a plea for the Hospital and got out the little leaflet which I am close thinking it would wake some of the slumberers as to the cause as it came pretty near home. When our printer laid (the sons of a friend of mine) wrought the proof of our leaflet, it struck me if the Lord. In New York wanted any of them they should have them, so I wrote to Mrs. Thaine. This far it has gone and no farther. Our own church has the leaf-

Foreign Missions. Since that time they have done a little and now they have organized for more work in that line. They have made my wife President of the organization and she wants some little reading in the paper before the Society is organized then to work. I told the "Presbyterian News" that "signs" and perhaps you will say that is enough - but I thought if I could get one of the letters of Mr. Wrentham to write a letter to Mrs. Wrentham and she would read it in the Society it would be good. Our people would be quite positive for large sums of money because we have been struggling under a heavy wicked church debt and still have a good deal. But there are many little people that can be gathered up, and help can be sent in the form of clothing and other things. I write you because I met you and wish I could meet you again some day. I have met my little girl and have written little notes to her from Miami, Florida and such. And I suppose in this place, for Fort Wrentham is well known by the name that Wrentham was at Wrentham point you are fit to place it for this place. I suppose you are pretty busy and don't have much time to write but if you can find a little breathing spell write me. Our Missionary Society will meet in about 2 weeks from this time, let week to come. It is a nice to to see many as we often do when a dollar will do as much as fifteen cents. Missionaries can be hired cheaper than other workers.

Yours with love and

Dear Brother:

Has the Board decided what they will be regarding the Indian work. I wrote the Secretary of the Interior some not long ago and advised the Board. To withdraw all religious instruction would be a great relief indeed.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I received your last letter Saturday afternoon, and have not been to the Capitol since. I am going up this morning and will try to get you some of the Interior reports, but there has been a great amount for them and I could not get any more, at least until, even then I could not get any more. I will send a few more of the same kind to you.

There is report here of an Indian statement that there has been a big fight among them at Harrisburg and elsewhere.

[illegible]

I will be happy to see you in Washington and believe that action of your Assembly will have great influence on Congress.

I write at 10:15 PM to my dear school is running very smoothly now. All the necessary work orders are furnished at the end of each month and the work is back. We are thinking of visiting you. I have from the school to the "Fair" at all expenses in August. Some specimens of the children's drawing, writing, a few specimens made by the Hawaii women, and some good things for our school and some of their industries too. I should say, how will you give your approval? Some of the people would like to see the school.
We encourage the school. Please over the school would be the trained but for the ex-ample while there I cannot see my way clear. We are quite well. Everything is just now. The in-dearable suspects that we are free from any to say has passed and it seems such a relief that we are happy. Is your family with you? How do you like New York? Do you think of visiting the school in the near future? I am with you view to sending Willie East to Dr. Hardy's school at North field, Massachusetts. It is a long way to go alone. I am not see how we can spare him he is so helpful and always ready. We have become very much attached to many of these children and find them more and more interesting.

Sincerely,

Mrs. J. N. Perkins.

My esteemed friend:

Your valued favor of 23 duly received. I have been trying to make an opportunity for you. The Session of the First Presbyterian Church, Reverend Pastor Leitch, Pastor informs us they will gladly receive you, have you occupy his pulpit Sunday morning, 4th of June.

A. F. Butler of Brown Memorial Church could not get a quorum of his session together before next Sunday morning, when he will inform us whether you will occupy his pulpit on the evening of Sunday 4th of June. If that cannot be arranged, I will see if you cannot occupy the Pastor's (Reverend Pastor Parke's) pulpit, Broadway Avenue Church on evening 4th June (our church has not been built). I hope to be able to advise you all the arrangements definitely made for you, on Sunday next. I am sorry that few of our most liberal and wealthy Presbyterian friends of Alaska are absent from Baltimore and will not return until October next. Should you visit Baltimore, I shall expect you to make us house your home during your stay in Baltimore and in my name letters will arrange to see I send word you at the hotel and bring you home with us.

Very truly,

Your friend,

Dear Pastor Jackson:

After careful thought and deliberation, I am of the settled and settled opinion that the future success of your mission work will depend upon your coming here during the coming summer. This for very very reasons which are better explained to you personally than transmitted in writing.

The question of selection of a site for your boys' training school is one which presents several grave and momentous considerations; if a mistake is made it may take years to rectify it and I can see now very readily, sitting under the advice you have, as indicated in your communication to myself, you may be led into error.

I am clearly satisfied that there will be no legislation enacted for Alaska during the coming session. The session is already too far advanced. Many mistakes have been made lately by the friends of the territory, and in my opinion, the influence of Colonel Hall has been most harmful. He has endeavored more to gain himself a name than to secure any beneficial legislation for the Territory, but of this more we shall see each other.

I think you made a mistake when you allowed your measure for an appropriation to be reported as a clause in the George, Saballa bill. In my judgment, you would have a much better chance of success if you were to report it as an independent measure.

The next session of Congress will be the start line, and if anything is done, it will have to be rushed through with a rush. Therefore it becomes you to move quickly that you want and have all your friends make you several promises. This may only be done by a general review of the situation.

People have accused quite a different man since you have left home and you should be prepared to give a complete account of the latest and most reliable advice from the friends of action.

As I always said, I am willing to do all I possibly can to aid your cause and I do not want to see you take any mistakes and from the manner in which things are shaping themselves here, the prospect of a clause in the near future is problematical.

When you next see General Nelson, please give him my sincerest regards.

Very sincerely and truly yours,
The Governor, Alaska.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Beloved Friends,

The Union Methodist Church will be pleased to have you occupy their pulpit on the evening of June 1st. We would like to see you at 8 o'clock.

would be greatly pleased if you would occupy his pulpit on Sunday afternoon. I think myself this is asking too much of you, three services in one day. It would not give you any time to rest and get your meals in comfort between the services.

If you agree with me, on receipt of my letter tomorrow morning, please telegraph me at my expense- you cannot speak at Woodberry Sunday afternoon and I will send your telegram to Mr. Fox. On receipt of this please write me what day and by which train you will leave New York, so that I may meet you at the Charles Street station and take you home with me. Get your ticket of the Pennsylvania Railroad which will bring you to the Charles Street Station.

| I will leave New York | 8.30 A.M. | arrives here | 3.30 P.M. |
| Monday | 10 A.M. | | 2.50 |
| Tuesday | 1.40 | | 3.30 |

I think the 8.30 would suit you best and then you would get here in time for dinner at 5 o'clock.

When you arrive here at the Charles Street Station if I should miss you as you come through the station please step into the ladies' waiting room, where I will meet you.

Dear Sir:

At the request of Mrs. Joseph White, of Newcastle, Pa., I forward this letter to you, the same having been sent me for my information and accompanied by the request that I forward when done with it.

Yours truly,

How little I ever expected to write you from your own parents roof-tree. The lackman was not sure of the place but I was when I saw your mother's eyes. - I was - and such a welcome as I have had for your sake. It seems like taking coals to Newcastle to attempt a Home Mission meeting here but Reverend Mr. Lowrie has appointed one for this afternoon, after which I intend (D.V.) to return to Peoria for the night. The way seemed easily opened for a meeting here in Illinois every day this week and I have reason to be encouraged.

My dear Brother Jackson:

Your paper does not come very regularly now. I don't know whether your postal authorities or curs are at fault. Until within the last three or four months it came quite regularly with every mail.

Many thanks for the Alaska photographs which you sent me. I was deeply grieved to hear of the calamity which befel the Mission premises at Sitka. I wish our people could be got to give some help towards the Creation of the New Home, but it is hard to awaken in them practical sympathy with objects that are very far away. However, I have put your appeal into our church paper and hope it will bear some fruit. I will also ask the Editor of the Sydney paper to insert it in his "Presbyterian."

I am just preparing to leave home for a month or two - perhaps for three months, for the sake of rest and change in Australia. I send for Sydney on Wednesday and intend to go to Queensland where I hope to spend a month or two. I have had a sharp attack of pneumonia and the Doctor has recommended me to try the warmer Australian climate for a while. If I anything for you there, and if you are of advanced I.R.

understanding, please, send your letter and be with forward to me immediately. I will, in fact, transfer, to be at home again early in October, if it be the Lord's will to send me there.

There will be a number of other people and he was well known that the Secretary had been with the Department of the Commission of the Interior. But for my own, I went to see the whole matter through and was left on the side.

The Interior Affairs Committee has received a report from the Secretary of the Interior, Mr. Harold Ickes, regarding the proposed construction of a dam on the Colorado River. The report states that the dam is necessary for the reclamation of the Colorado River delta and for the generation of hydroelectric power. The Committee is currently reviewing the report and will hold public hearings on the matter in the near future.

in general, and the one in particular.

My ALC was shared with him in the early 1970s. He was also involved in all fields he was involved in - Colorado and we have not met since. He was a very good man, and we have to find out how he came to his present position. He was a very good man to follow him as a friend. I am sure that the FBI would have nothing about him and asked us to investigate.

There is another matter I want to call your attention to.

I don't want to claim the Board or even to imply revival, but they might not be considered new in 1946. In 1946, without the consent of Presidency or the Committee on State Affairs.

I lay very little stress in my testimony upon "the inwhich some of the witnesses insist upon. I merely stated it seemed as it could be exercised by the State.

Reverend William Jackson, D.D.,
Dear Friend:

In my letter of 12th I recalled, I mentioned only the discouraging features of this station. With all these if the Campbellites have witnessed this field, which failed in securing an agent, I am not certain. Perhaps it will not be held by us, at least until it is seen that something will be effected by the new administration. The new agent is expected to take charge in a few days. The new agent will come up under the. I suppose the new agent will be beginning of winter will send us a letter. The agent will be the matter. I like the agent and the agent will be as well as it should live a long time. I am certain that the agent will be well for some time.

When harvesting the wheat field under your supervision, I decide better than we.

If you could conclude to try it under the same terms for boarding and visiting the children, it would be more settled story in some respects. After a few months of a year we can produce much of what would be needed for the table. I think that Government has done well. More than 75 cts a week for each one, which would be worth 10 cents worth of rations.

We have a fine garden started and if nothing happens it we will have abundance of vegetables.

Yours truly,

Charles F. Jackson.

Dear Sir:

Since writing my last letter all the news break have passed away, otherwise, affairs have not changed. As you speak of giving up this field, I am in no right to give you a few facts regarding the state of affairs here, especially such as are discouraging.

about $20. Will do the best we can towards getting something as suitable as we can. We have very gratifying letters from "Mollie." Her reports are perfect and her letters breathe of the "Father Land" that shall abide with her. I often think of Mollie. She is one of the girls who clean the house carefully. Mr. Perkins and Fannie write in kind regards to yourself and family.

June 12, 1893.

June 12, 1893.

Dear Mr. Perkins:

I want to have something written to send you by the first opportunity but the steamer arrived on Saturday, 11th and now is the time for correspondence. We were disappointed that it brought us no lumber either a machine to use or a mill. It would have been very early in the season to have been here independent of the lower country. The extensive matter of building lumber material. Mr. Farley, of the U.S.G., brought in a considerable amount of goods. I had things, too, like, the water, the power, etc., much as I expected. I feel a great deal of confidence in the future of this place with skill, faith, patience and all the additional assistance to success.

The family is still at Fort Grease. The long days are passing; the winter is the time to prepare for winter and the summer is time to work. We have a large number of men from hunting and fishing. We have concluded to build a new house to use while building after the lumber comes for the Mission house as we are still sure it is good enough. If the bill appropriating money for educational purposes in our Territory passes, or is amended, and a public school building is to be erected here, it would not be well for your committee to take the contract if we make better terms. It would be certainly as cheaply as any one, give employment to our people and have many the best influence. It is a good thing. As I have said, and other places, give the best prices for work. The work is done in the winter, so it is difficult to engage men at reasonable prices. We have a price and want to give it to the men. It is not a bad thing. It requires a solution and a lot of manual labor is to be done. There are more than four hundred men here. The goods carried ashore for the mission, carried up the bank then carried up the bank then carried. However they are wanted as far or near, and as clear and level as a small lot of ground is an immense task. To get our mission on a little where it seems to me, they should be well equipped with clearing.

We do not know what has become of the matter of the routes. Why could not Wrentham, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Little Hawack and this place be made offices and the steamer sent to these points with the mail via New England coast, which not be materially lengthened as would not our route and with chances of being in winter and sailing our friends and some travellers with some degree of certainty and regularity besides we are not likely to be lower if it is not better Hudson.

We have been thinking of a summer cruise as it is a good plan to be with them as far as we can in their sailing and fishing time to their places of summer employment as well as a measure to be taken and restrained there.
Pabst is a good and temperate husband, some towns are not so, nearly. From May to September, but if the people are disposed and they are willing to be, the season is not broken up, nor the influence lost.

I have not heard of your leaving home yet, perhaps permission, neither whether your leave will be with you along with the proposed number of, but people appearing to come here that winter, as with certainly said so, they are will not be left in any uncertainty.

Treasurer of the very modest in sailing expenses and account of travelling expenses and salary, but my expenses have been very small and I am not sure that I need to say by remembering that the summer season is not fly in the winter winter, if my wife and children are going sailing September 14, which is not as far from home as the at this season I could not be so comfortably at home of the year. I did not say this to the Board, would you

Doctor Jackson,

Dear Brother:

Since June 17, I have seen the charts of our Bay and vicinity very clearly. The Harbor of which you speak in American Bay is a good anchorage well protected, but so far as I have investigated is not the place for our buildings.

June 30th we had the funeral, and wedding. Three funerals. An effort was made to induce civilized and Christian ceremonies and thereby secure a success to justify us in saying that they were done decently and in order.

that they were born separately and in order.
 Kenneth's child's remains were buried and after that the last last nearly two years. Ned Bailey and Mary were among the first couple in our neighborhood to take upon themselves that marriage was after the manner of "Jewish people."

1948. The following letter will be needed for our 1948, which will not be sent to you as it is not a new 1948. I would like to see you as soon as possible and to see if you can help me in any way. I will be in the office at 10:00 AM on Monday, 1/13/48.

Following, like others who, sometimes provided with more than they can do, all are off - since now, as you see, China has and - quite in spite of - I am not aware the progress of the new church and school facilities have so far succeeded; we cannot begin to see the way forward; there must be a great deal of time and energy and great disadvantages, leaving immediacy and efficiency out of the count and maintaining of native confidence by disqualifying their biased superstitions. I pointed in the paper mentioned in my last young man's mind seemed to suggest as to take charge of his father's business. But we preferred to direct them differently, saying, "Now you, allowing them to do the work and let their own experience and their knowledge be their own teacher and so it has been at Hong Kong Mission."

If you could have visited Mr. Nathan's in time for June 1937, as it was then, transportation question would have been solved. Mr. Chapman got your material from Chicago. Early built a house and lot; got a big house - I think I wrote you. We stayed in a building enterprise of our own in the last days of May as we in house family deliver against the winter in case of circumstances. Chapman and myself have been placed entered. Thanks for the well arrangement; also for the suggestion to Brecken which result in our joining Mrs. Jones in donating a library for our dis-sion; also for card and a folder.

I suppose we will have to patch up some more of our we can for schools in "Victory" of these things. We want to school next winter. We have almost no school books and will soon be done.

with thanks for the letter you wrote in our Mission and undivided interest in us, I am yours for the Master.
S. Louis Hall.

I thank you very much for your letter and Christian witness to my heavenly Father and promise me at the same time that I will always endeavor to live up to it.
Believe me, my dear brother,
Yours truly,

I told them they might have a chance to see me

I send you the promised article on religious minorities. It has cost great labor, to collect and synthesize the wide and contradictory material of different times and places. I have written parts of it that I have done. I have done it by my special on Indian issues. I have done it by my special on religious minorities. I have done it by my special on religious minorities.

Mr. Sanford has returned and I have a letter from him recommending me for a position in the office of the State. I hope to be able to leave about half of March and afford to build another house. I will call on you my thanks to the ladies who have been so kind from his rent is very low.

There is a good location on the river where there was an old mill as mentioned in the report.

The steamer staid only half the usual time at Sitka and had rushed us. I had a most pleasant time with Brother Gould His son (son was most cordial, cordially but warmly,

Portland, Oregon.
 June 16, 1892.

Reverend William Jackson, D.D.,
 Dear Sir and Brothers:

There are 19 alt and 1st inst in hand. Mr. Schiller goes to Missoula, Montana; Mr. Muir over on the coast, neither is to home for several days. Knapp, Merrill & Co. have sold several mills such as you ordered.
 Forestry has sold a part of the stuff sold for. The water-wheel. They say and sold another as soon as water reaches on the river. Their covers are stacked sidewalk in front of my store. Expect to see it in store soon. Will probably stop business for two or three weeks. Government is very particular about timber being cut in Government lands. I am aware that some is being cut clandestinely now in Alaska but it is unlawful and parties upon complaint of any one are likely to be arrested and be brought to Portland for trial. I asked the United States District Executive here and they said you better first get permission from Secretary of Interior or other officer at Washington before buying mill and I so advised you. Now almost standard. Don't tell yet if you only one mill is Jackson not think I can. Summer loads is now running to Alaska. The leaves here about the first of each month, goes to Alaska on her return to Victoria she goes to Mexico and loads with coal and goes direct to San Francisco, where she loads with what Alaska freight she can get and then fills up with commodities (coal oil, powder, etc.)
 for Portland, during here discharges all but her Alaska freight and completes loading for Alaska, Victoria, etc. Now my brother, it is nearly of my opinion that you had better run over to San Francisco yourself and select your mill, any such part of other supplies as are needed etc and have it ready for the August steamer. I know of no one to whom I can send your letters written to me to San Francisco and would know kind of mill, water wheel etc, wanted. I can buy lumber here cheaper than you can in San Francisco but you can get special terms of Goodall Perkins & Co., for freight on mill and lumber, which I can't get here as steamer is owned by G.P. & Co.

I shall try to have Willamette Iron Works referred for waterwheel and when I find you will not need it.

Knapp, Merrill & Co. do not expect any more mills out this summer. I fear it will be difficult to get mill wrights here now. All kinds of laborers are very busy indeed and I think you could make better bargains in San Francisco. I am glad to do anything I can for you but think you could make better bargains in San Francisco about mill saw. I shall do nothing until I hear from you. I can ship groceries if you wish, but shall send nothing until instructed by you, as you may wish to order or purchase everything in San Francisco and send all together.

Respectfully yours,
William Walker.

ington to get timber before buying mill; sorry - I am not as

My esteemed friend:

Enclosed please find my check for $100 in your favor for $40. Please credit Broadway Avenue Presbyterian Church from Henry T. Harvey, $40, and Broadway Avenue Sunday School $40. All for building the school for boys at Etna, Alaska. Last Sabbath afternoon, I made my maiden speech before a Sabbath School. We had a very great interest in Alaska and had a very pleasant talk in the school (greatly to my own surprise) I did not think I was or ever would be able to talk before a large collection of children and young men and women. We had good attendance and I had the eye and ear of the whole school for about 20 minutes. I then had the photographs you left at my house passed out one each so they might see the two prominent girls you spoke so much about. The little girl teaching the young girl who had translated into their own language the Lord's Prayer, Catechism and the hymns. The girls and boys were greatly interested. Before the school was dismissed the Superintendent said there was $40 in the school treasury for Hawaiian Missions; should they send it to the boys' school at Etna. It was put to the vote and they voted unanimously Yes. So you see your photographs and hope have done some good in our school. My daughter, Mrs. Jack the pictures and map to the Women's meeting at Brown Memorial church on Thursday

Last we did the speaking and very much interested the ladies there. They appointed a Committee to collect for the Fifth school. Some money I learn Mr. Carter has sent you and I believe there is more to follow. So your pictures are going around and with a little talk over may help many boys in the future. The Brown Memorial Ladies will have another box for Mrs. McFarland next fall. I hope to get our ladies in Boundary Avenue Presbyterian Church to work for both boys and girls in Fifth. I received the 4 bundles of Presbyterian Young Men's Mission and have had them distributed in other Presbyterian churches - very well as good I believe. The leaflets on page 25 in the May number which I wrote for boys are now in hand; and you shall get some for distribution; and I think they will be very good. I expect to be at Niagara Falls all next week on business. Will write.

Your friend in Christ,

Henry S. Parvey.

Windsor, A.T., June 17, 1902.

Reverend Charles Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

Yours of May 18th came in my absence and was fully appreciated on my return. As the rainy season approached - the time when we lost our dear little Mattie last season - and as we could not get into our new house and did not deem the old one suitable to pass the season in, we were in real distress to take baby elsewhere and especially as there is to be no lady in here. So I took my wife and babe to spend the summer in Butler, Pa. I was obliged to make a flying trip as I cannot be away at this time, so I was only 3 weeks from the time I took the train at Windsor until I was there again.

I will reply to your letter first and then, if there is time will revert to matters here. I had sent an account long ago, but send another in another envelope at this time. As to the affair with my brother, the difficulty is too far gone to be rectified now, except so far as the remittances due him and his wife will rectify it. We all supposed that in the case of a school a report from the superintendent was all that was required. They have now sent in their report and I presume will receive their money ere long. My brother is still here though his wife has gone back to Colorado to remain until he joins her there when they will probably go farther East and settle on a farm.

The whole matter has caused me a great deal of trouble and I shall not encourage any one, in the future, to enter such work until their commission is in hand. This matter rests now, however, until I can see Mr. Tappin in face.

Now as to your reply to my complaint that the Board does not write, I do not write, I do not remember just the form of my complaint but, I may say that much as I should like an occasional fraternal letter, I should never complain for the want of these, but, when my hands are tied and I write making specific inquiry or a specific request, and even get no answer, then I think complaining is wrong. It is not quite comforting to know that silence on the part of the Board indicates satisfaction with their employees' efforts, but when we come to a line beyond which we may not pass without authority and the work stands still, I for one would rather have an outburst of complaining letters, than silence. I tell you, my brother, as a minister who realizes that his years of active usefulness are very few at best, the positive knowledge that he is accomplishing nothing were than an ordinary day-laborer must be overwhelming in itself. I am sure that the positive nature of the Board and Assembly would be, and when he feels that his efforts are in vain and his hopes blighted, for the want of prompt and suitable response to his requests, or an amount of insufficient acknowledgment that all is a loss, and you wonder that he is restless. Perhaps, I too would be silent if I were satisfied with the Board; but the Board is not doing what we hope we have and leave you here without resources then I have. But something that that something will be accomplished under the efforts of an ordained minister, and an salary of $1800. for the next year. That is proposed to be done and under the new Secretary of the Interior? I have asked the Board for funds and stationery they were to provide, but no response through that way next month and next a lot. I write inquiring whether consistent teachers would be provided and multiplied by choice. No answer so far.

Now I have no idea that I shall ever understand what the Board intends to accomplish here, by their written communications, nor they what the requirements of this field are through my letters. A few hundred dollars travelling expenses at this time will be an economy in my opinion. Either some member of the Board must visit us here, and see for themselves or recommend someone to go visit them, and send us the funds to make the trip. I think the latter would be better, as the whole Board could get their exercises, and probably if there were any missionary meetings to be addressed, I might arouse enough interest to pay for the trip. In such a case, if you should visit, report from the neighboring fields I could visit them before coming and give you explicit information of their wants, troubles, successes etc. I called at the Alamosa school and find difficulties there too, but I presume you know more of its nature than I know. It can not be put off any longer as far as the work here is concerned. The Board and I must see each other, either in person or by telephone and the summer the better. Our best likely time for a school is the four following months, July, August, September and October and this is the time for us to secure our help. I presume that if you should read this letter to the Board, they would have no special desire to receive a visit from me, but though I may seem severe, I have no unfriendly feeling. I am far from being satisfied with the way things are going, but I have no doubt but that with a conference we might plan for a successful work.

Think over it in your own mind and if you think best present it to the Board, but remember that if I am called East they will hear my answers as I cannot afford it.

When I came down here I mentioned the salary I thought I should have and aimed to place it at a figure that would enable us to keep by family comfortably, and the Board has given us the amount without a word and of course that is all I could expect but we have found that as yet we have not been able to furnish our house and I have not attended a single meeting of Presbytery. I think that living is about double what it is in further out than Allamogans.

We had expected to have our furniture in here by time our house was completed, but we have not yet had the funds. I have been thinking of it lately and I do not know that we ought to attempt to furnish the house. Should anything occur we wish to do not remain here all such expenditures would be lost as we could never take it away with us. Whatever furniture is brought here should be the property of the church and then it can remain here for the use of whoever succeeds in this settlement from time to time. The Rail road can never come nearer us I presume and everything will be high. I priced bedroom sets in Allamogans as I came through and the very lowest of either of the stores was $45. And so that the cost of getting it here and it is so far out of my reach, that I shall have to do without at least for awhile.

I do not like to ask the church to furnish the house as if they were doing it for us, but if I should buy it myself and leave the day after it arrived, it would become the property of the Mission as I could neither take it away with me nor sell it. Would it not be fair, at least, for the Church to furnish such articles as will last, as stoves, tables, chairs, bedsteads etc. But I really hope it may be arranged so that I may see you personally and talk all the things over.

With many thanks for your kindnesses and with a brother's love, I remain

Charles A. Taylor.

Minister to the Morris
You must not postpone answering this. I shall expect an answer within four weeks that with the decision of the Board in the premises will determine my course.

Madison, June 13, 1892.

Dear Brother Jackson:

I enclose check for $35.00 dollars, which with $20. handed you by Mrs. Arkman will make $55.00 from Presbyterian Church of Madison, toward the Bible school building - of which you spoke.

I send this money to you, in order that you may be sure to have it go in that direction - according to the wish of the donors.

May a great deal more speedily come in unto you.

Most truly yours,

Robert A. Allen.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

We are all glad that we can have you with us at the missionary meeting of Luther Taylor's Sabbath School next Sabbath afternoon. The meeting begins at 2.30. You will be the only speaker except Luther Taylor, who says he must be brief.

Some account of adventures in your planting Western Churches will be of interest if it is in your mind to speak that to the children.

We have some missionary letters and other novelties. Can allot you 10 or 15 minutes.

Please let us know if you will come over on Saturday and stay until Monday morning.

If so, our Secretary's Treasurer, Mr. A. J. Patterson, 238 De Kalb Ave., desires to have you for their guest over the Sabbath.

Very truly yours,

A. J. Patterson.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Sir and Brother:

Enclosed please find an order on Mr. Bacon, Treasurer of Home Missions for $25.00 which I wish you would have his pay, charging the same to me. With this money, I wish you would buy of Anthony and Co., their No. 3 Photographic Equipments, the price of which is $10.00 but as I do not wish the tripod and carrying case, worth $2.00, the cost of the equipment will be $14.00. I you to buy the materials and chemicals for finishing pictures.

I also wish you to purchase enough type for printing a paper as large as this note paper. All of which I wish to use for the benefit of the school where we may be stationed.

If the $25. is not enough, I will send you another for the balance.

You will please send by Express to Newellite, N.Y.

Very truly yours,
J. N. Perkins.

Dear Sir and Brothers:

Pt. Barrow, A. T.

We have been wishing for some time to print a little paper, in connection with our work here and have only been prevented by pressing cares. We have some bright children and I think the paper will be a success. We mean to make it so. These people have a great respect for whatever is good and will rejoice to see some thing of evidence of their children knowing something. We have the printing press. It is in February and should we not send it home after this year, it will be of use to us some day. We are well. The school is running very smoothly. Average thirty-three, but is really all we can take care of with the unfilled house. We do our cooking and eat in the mess and have room. I am not getting tired as complaining for we are busy in our work and that covers a multitude of short things, as to have room, smoking etc. We are having a nice cold north and enjoy it very much. We have had and now have as much as a good deal for, all the noisy disturbances of the drunken Indians is gone and we have quiet and harmony instead. The first of July is near at hand, but it is really not time for vacation yet. The weather is fine and cool as compared with that summer. We can really make up for lost time by working longer than July first and thereby earn a little more for the school. I have written Pastor Tordall concerning the same. The time for vacation with these people is during their week and work stopping and gathering. We will write again soon and hope to hear from you soon.

Sincerely,

Rev. J. N. Perkins.

Rev. and Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

As I am informed that your present visit to Alaska is to examine the missions and schools under the direction of the Board of Home Missions, and to establish other sessions at such points as may seem best in promoting education and civilization among the natives of Alaska; I wish to request you earnestly to visit Sitka, at your earliest convenience and if consistent with your arrangements, before visiting any other points.

My reasons for asking the above request I will explain fully when I have the pleasure of meeting you. I wish, and have been, earnestly in favor of our movement calculated to christianize and educate the Alaskan Indians, and will be glad to give you any information that I possess, or my assistance in my power.

I am convinced that your presence in Sitka will tend greatly to promote the work that we all have so greatly at heart.

For the present, I will ask you to consider this letter entirely private and confidential.

Very respectfully,
Your obedient servant,
Henry Allen,

Dear Sir:

The Denby School of Greenest Avenue Presbyterian Church, Plainfield, N.J., wishing to contribute to the cause of Home Missions, have instructed me to forward you $50. as to how and when in your opinion it will do the most good. The teachers dependent by this course are many would be well employed, and at the same time they could receive letters from home by which the friends are kept, and as would be of interest to the school. We have given to the General Board, both foreign and home, from time to time, and have heard nothing in reply and although well assured that the distribution are doing good service, yet we should prefer if possible to receive some account from the field, and so improve and stimulate the scholars.

I enclose herewith check for $50. which please acknowledge and oblige.

Very truly yours,
Stephen B. Hurl.

CUSTOM HOUSE, Sittka, Alaska.

Collector's Office, June 20, 1902

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I did not have time to reply to your note of May 10, which was received by the last steamer, but will proceed to do so now ad interim.

I was much astonished upon reading your letter to perceive you were unaware that Mr. Austin was in possession of only one of the old Government stables. Whilst it is true as he writes that the boys only occupy one building, still, ever since the fire, he has had the use and enjoyment of both.

On the day of the fire, I rendered him both buildings. One was only used as a place to store boats, the other was used by Mr. Brady as a cow stable. I told Mr. Austin I would immediately have Brady vacate if he desired the use of the building for the school. He seemed not to like the idea of disturbing Mr. Brady, however the subject was passed to the latter, and the matter was settled between these two gentlemen, by one of the stables being fitted up for church and school purposes and the other retained as a stable. Mr. Austin's son taking all the cattle on shores and peddling the milk in the village.

I invited Mr. Austin into the office to-day and read him your letter of May 10; he seemed surprised you did not know that he was in possession and occupancy of stable No. 2 and had been so ever since the fire. He promised to write you himself.

Mr. Austin further says to me, that he desired the second building to store wood in and for other purposes and that it is not needed for occupancy by the Indian boys. He informs me further, that he has all the room he desired for the number of boys in the school, which he does not propose to increase, until some other arrangements for their care and comfort are made by the Board and in this I think he is right, for living as the whole Austin family do in one end of the town, it is totally impossible for them to give the school and boarders that attention and surveillance which is naturally required.

A change is imperatively needed and the sooner the better, whence arises the question where are you to go? My judgment is in favor of your securing a tract of land contiguous to the town of sufficient acreage to make it particularly self-supporting. This can be done if the land is in the selection.

Principally with this view, I have hitherto written you urging your presence here during the coming summer or fall, so that you can bring the matter speedily, forcibly and understandingly before Congress soon after the opening of the next session.

If you can get together and have the time, we can draw up a bill which will run the gauntlet of both Houses and which will give you all the land you require.

In the meantime, the boys are not scattered. They will hang together and while they will not learn or improve much in an educational or religious point of view, still they will be so much the more removed from their tribal relations and become more civilized upon the white man.

To be frank with you, I do not think the system of schools as now in force in this Territory as far as youths is concerned to be as useful and effective as if a little more interest was given to the mechanical arts and agricultural pursuits and less to the constant work of repeating the Ten Commandments like parrots or singing a few well worn hymns in memory.

Anyone who picks up native boys for fools, reckons very much without their wits; they are some of them as smart as white and they can distinguish the dross from the gold, quite as readily as their older and more educated brethren. You ought to keep their minds and bodies both at work, to do this. You must have help; you must be sustained and the Government ought to assist you liberally. You want a farm, carpenter and blacksmith shop; others will follow as they are necessary expenses and you will have all the good mechanics and useful artisans.

But I am digressing. I have no experience as a teacher and even as a missionary. I merely say what they are worth in my view as an independent.

I know full well that you have this done at heart, and I do not want to say you make a mistake for he who does it, success or failure is bound to fall upon your shoulders.

You need a great many changes in affairs here to do what you own experience has already shown you. As said before, I am willing to do all I can to make your mission successful, and about all this I want to talk to you personally.

Very truly your friend,

Wm. Brewster Harris.

Wife and little Lucy join me in best wishes for yourself and Alaska. Mrs. Beaumont predicts as to amount of collection in Montclair. Will write as soon as I can.

Fraternally yours,

J.B. Beaumont.

P.S. Please see that my address at 23 Centre St., is changed from Washington Villa, Orange Co., New York to Chatham, Morris Co., New Jersey. I called in January last and left the changed address but matter still goes to Washingtonville. Presbyterian Home Missions has just got here, via Washingtonville.

Dear Sir:

I was glad to receive your letter of May 25th by my last mail. I had begun to think that the tracing had miscarried.

My permanent address for the entire season will be P.O.

Box 967, San Francisco, Cal. I leave here tomorrow to begin work in Tongas Narrows. I will doubtless visit Howcan during the summer.

Respectfully,
Henry E. Nichols.

WADSWORTH & ELLIOTT

Portland, Oregon, July 6, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

Your order to ship groceries to Reverend E.E. William duly at hand and I send you herewith bills of same for which check on N.Y. Bank will be satisfactory. I send also to Brady with letter for Willard. I also send you copy of letter to Willard, know nothing of how difference has arisen between Willard and N.Y.T.Co., except as stated by Schulze. I presume someone has written to Willard asking if a trading post would succeed there and he has answered yes. Willard ought not to pursue such a course as will make discord.

Schulze says the September steamer will probably call at Cordova Bay which is Jackson or where you wanted to send the saw-mill. I asked him about your having right to cut timber. He says there is no hindrance at all for anyone to cut timber in Alaska for building purposes anywhere in Alaska but that none would be permitted to cut lumber for export to California or elsewhere. So if you people decide to put a mill up there you can do so without danger of interference. If you do, you had better run over to San Francisco yourself and make your purchases and get your men. It is not certain that the Idaho on her return from Alaska in August will go to California. You might have to have the material all sent up here from San Francisco to catch the steamer or you might ship by "Ocean Spray" running from San Francisco up there. Anything that I can do to serve you will be cheerfully done.

Respectfully yours,
Wm. Wadsworth.

My dear Sir:

By reference to the Congregational Record of the 8th (to-day) you will find a debate on the question of education in Alaska. The amendment was offered by Mr. Hill of New Jersey who ably advocated it, but upon a point of order by Mr. Hisecock, it failed.

I think you had better come on early next week.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

We look for some word from you each mail. One week of the vacation has passed and we would be very grateful for a resting time if possible? There is no chance for rest here. The children come to see us almost every day, and many of them must have their clothing changed, washed and repaired. This is necessary for our own protection against insects and vermin, as well as for their comfort. Inspector Howard has been here for a week. He rooms and takes his breakfasts with us. It is as nice to meet a Christian gentleman, a soldier and a friend to the Indian in the same man. I have thought since his coming that perhaps there is some hope for the Navajos yet. We are in our usual health, but very weary and would be grateful for an opportunity of resting the remainder of the vacation.

We are willing to go to the Paymaster where you and the Board shall agree upon. In our opinion we could not make as much of a success of the school as should be made here and would request that you transfer us; nevertheless, if you can use us better here, do so. We have had some painful experiences here, but we have also had some precious blessings and whilst the discipline at times seemed severe, it also brought a renewed patience and a perseverance that has enabled us to hold out when at times it seemed as though we must give up. Mr. Eastman is kind to us. We have no fault to find now and we must do him the justice to say he can make amends for past harshness to us, but he is not generous enough towards the school. I hear "Pettie" Mrs. Crenes word has come home. We would have been so glad to have had "Ellie" come. She has written us asking to come. She would be a great advantage to us, during her vacation. I think some few children may be persuaded to go to Carlisle when she returns. Our kindest regards to yourself and family.

Sincerely,

Mrs. J. D. Perkins.

Reverend Doctor Kendall and Roberts,
No. 23 Centre St., N.Y.,

Dear Brother:

You may remember I wrote you about Indian Mission some time ago; also I did not think I would stay at West Las Animas only until last August. My reason for not staying here I have too much Sabbath travelling never less than 40 miles by rail and my conscience troubles me about the matter I was raised when my parents would not cook anything on the Sabbath and I have strong conviction of duty not to violate the day in so much travel.

Have you a Mission field for me near the city of Washington in Pennsylvania or Virginia.

Yours truly,
Thomas Thompson.

Dear Brother:

Mr. Mair says he cannot take shingles at less than regular tariff which is $1.50 per M.

We are now selling shingles at $1. per M. May possibly be able to give them to you at $2.75 or $2.80. Will do the best I can for you but you had better estimate cost of shingles delivered at Sitka at $4.50 per M. If you wish them sent we must know it, soon as possible? Telegraph me. I fully expect to go to Alaska on August steamer which is an excursion trip.

Hastily yours,
Wm. Wadhams.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Brother:

Your good books, letters etc are all received. You are entitled to many thanks and hope that you have received the carvings which I sent you by express and prepaid. I will also try and send you the Eagles skin and keep an eye on the carved slaves. We came over after Mr. Gould's family (the Indians seem to be well pleased with them), which gives us an opportunity of seeing our friends and getting and sending out mail. In our Christian work, I find it necessary to know each other's wants. The wants of Hydah people is employment; I for one am trying to find it for them and I have just purchased a complete outfit for dog-fishing (Boats, barrels lines, hooks etc) and I want to take them over with me and try to have some of these Indian boys learn some of our ways of industry. I tell them that I came to teach them to support themselves and to be charitable to those who have no claim beds or hunting grounds. I am satisfied that it is wisely ordered for our mills to be delayed a short time that we may try fishing. I hope since the U.S. made so liberal a purchase of our Territory that Government will give us a just appropriation for schools.

Affectionately yours in Christ,

J. G. Chapman.

Dear Brother:

Immediately on my receiving your letter of May 29, which I did not receive until well in June, I addressed all the principal Mills on the Sound and inasmuch as I was about to be absent for some time or at least only at home for a short time at intervals, I requested them to write direct to you and to inform me as to what they proposed. I have only received one offer, that of the Paget Mill Co., as made direct to you; they forwarding me a copy of letter sent to you.

Two other mills wrote me that it was impossible for them to fill your order as they had more than they could fill.

None others replied to me, but may have written you.

I have not been able to find you a millwright; they are not easily to be found.

It occurs to me that I did not complete entirely my article on Missions in that Territory, but will endeavor to do so. Perhaps if you do not publish it shortly, it might be better for me to rewrite as some changes are already taking place.

Brother Sloan is again in the Insane Asylum. He ought not to have come out here. He can not live on this coast and preserve his balance.

I send you herewith a slip I had intended sending before

SPENCER JACKSON INSTITUTE.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

The tug-boat "Hastick" came in this morning bringing the mail. The reports that the Gospel ship left on the 1st of the month and broke down and had to return. Also reports that we may expect the Idaho to arrive. Both of your letters came to hand and I shall send this via Portland as you direct. I sincerely trust that you will come as it seems to me to be necessary in the present state of affairs. The only plan on which I should dare to build under present circumstances would be Mr. Brady's place. There would be no prior claims to the title and it answers the five considerations in your letter as necessary: Room, shelter, sunny exposure, water access to the beach. Water was formerly brought from Indian River through this farm to run a sawmill on the beach near the Blarney House. Mr. Brady is willing to turn it over to the Mission and it has been surveyed. It extends from the beach to and across the Indian River. Lieutenant Symonds located a claim adjoining Mr. Brady's which takes in the beach all the way to the mouth of the adjoining river. It might be well to turn it over to you and this would give us an abundance of room for an Indian town along the beach under our own control with room for gardens etc. Will get a raft of raft(cedar) logs and have them ready. Will ship ball by first opportunity. Will see that the lumber is safely stored if it comes. Get the Hospital grounds for a garden if you can, as we shall need it for a year or two.

We need a large box stove and some paint for our church (Lutheran).

The ball and fixtures arrived safely to-day also box of merchandise for Home.

Bishop Paddock of Washington Territory came by this steamer and visited the Ranch with me.

Mrs. Corlies is on the way to the mines to join her husband. The family of the Priest go below on this steamer for good and he is to follow in three months.

There is to be an excursion party of some two or three hundred from Portland and San Francisco next month. Our garden is doing nicely. The boys are busy getting in our wood for winter. I hope some of our friends will send us fifty pairs of heavy pegged shoes No. 8 to 9 very broad. Our boys were walking in the snow last winter barefooted. Please tell Mr. Eaton that we have no net to catch salmon with, and none of us receive our salary, although it is two months overdue. Did not get bill of groceries ordered from San Francisco this time, because I could pay for last bill.

Family all unite with me in sending much love to you and your. Do come on.

Sincerely yours,
A.H. Austin.

My dear Sir:

The progress and development of south Eastern Alaska claims were mail facilities, Mission Stations and trading posts have been established, in various parts of the Alexander Archipelago that are without a mail route at all and then dependent upon the chance trips of small coasting vessels and canoes. It is in the interests of commerce and the encouragement of Education and civilization in that section that they have better mail facilities.

I would therefore respectfully request that Post offices be established.

1st at Jackson (see accompanying map) with J. Lewis Gould postmaster. At Jackson is a Mission School, saw mill and store of general merchandise.

2d at Klawack, which has a cannery, store and sawmill and is about midway between Jackson and Roberts. At Roberts you have already established an office.

Jackson and Klawack would make a route connecting with the present route at Roberts.

3rd. At Haines with Eugene S. Willard, P.M. At Haines is a Mission Station, School and store. There is also a Mission station tributary to Haines at Millard. Haines is also the outfitting station for miners, two parties of which have recently penetrated from there into the Interior. Haines is 100 miles north of the present office at Juneau.

4th. At Boyd. Boyd has a Mission station and school is about 75 to 100 miles west of Juneau.

Very respectfully,

Your obedient servant,
Sheldon Jackson.

Dear Brother:

I have as yet received no official notification of a call to Hitter Root. However all things seem to be working for good. My Father has been quite sick for the past two weeks and I have been filling two appointments or rather trying to do so.

I have been thinking if I could secure a pass to Montana from Chicago also a return free to Chicago, I would go out with Doctor Roberts or else on my own account and return home later in the fall. There are many places that have no preach in at all, Along the Yellowstone. I have been thinking quite a while of the trip but do not feel able to bear the whole expense from my own pocket. Perhaps you may have some suggestion to make. Did you secure that set of the Pacific Surveys?

If you feel like so doing you may speak to Doctor Roberts in regard to the matter.

I should like to attend the meetings of Presbytery this fall in August at Delta but but cannot do so, for my family. The very ought not to travel before September.

My kindest regards to Mrs. Jackson, Daisy and Bessie.

My dear Brother:

I am glad to learn that the people at Washington are talking about this Indian question. I hope our Board will make an effort and secure some good men as Agents. I trust we will be able to get some good Industrial Schools established. My wife says she would like to enter one where she could do something to aid them. I think I would like to have charge of some school. I want more out door exercise and some point where I could take care of sick. I think I shall remain at this place until such time we can undertake a school - that can be successfully carried out. If your Board wish me to take a field I would like to know what point a few months previous so that I could study up the language, habits etc. Also time and give a more careful inspection of those schools already in operation.

Would you advise me to write to all the Institutions (Indians) and get all the information and draw all the good points I can. I do not care to take charge of a field unless I can make it the best in all this land.

If the Board does not care to engage in the work I may return East. Have just returned from a week's visit in Kansas. Do not like the place as well as this. You are not going to make a change at Albuquerque, are you?

Yours truly,
Thomas Thompson.

Hon. Charles J. Folger, Secretary of Treasury:

Dear Sir:

Last winter the Government Building at Sitka used for a training school burned down.

The Presbyterian Church is now contracting for lumber, hardware and building materials to rebuild at that point. There are also bills before Congress to make that school in part a Government Training School.

The Government wharf at Sitka has been leased by the Collector of Customs at Sitka to a private party, that the wharfage fees may repay monies advanced on repairs.

As we are engaged in a public service, we would respectfully ask you to instruct Collector Morris to arrange with said parties that the said building materials shall be received from wharfage charges free, erecting buildings for an Indian training school, which bills before Congress propose making a Government school, that the necessary lumber, hardware and materials for the same be received on the Government wharf at Sitka as Government goods free from wharfage charge.

You are hereby instructed to make such arrangements with the parties temporarily in charge of the wharf that such materials shall be received free from wharfage.

Very respectfully,
Sheldon Jackson.

To the Collector of Customs, Treasury Department, Washington, D. C.
Dear Sir:

I learn from Reverend Sheldon Jackson, Superintendent of Indian Missions for the Presbyterian Denomination that the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church are about rebuilding their school and enlarging their educational operations at Sitka.

They are deserving of much credit for their efforts to introduce schools among the native races of that region and I feel a warm personal interest in their success.

I trust therefore that you will assist them at Sitka in every suitable way and give the influence of your position with the Indians in favor of the regular attendance of the children at such schools. Doctor Jackson has addressed to this Department a request that as they are erecting buildings for an Indian training school, which bills before Congress propose making a Government school, that the necessary lumber, hardware and materials for the same be received on the Government wharf at Sitka as Government goods free from wharfage charge.

You are hereby instructed to make such arrangements with the parties temporarily in charge of the wharf that said materials shall be received free from wharfage.

My dear Brother:

I am on my way to my weeping wife and I am never to see the face of my little boy whom I left but 7 weeks since. Again we are left childless. I cannot see a single step before me. I must not suffer my feelings full utterance on this crushing thought and but for the iron hand of circumstances it would seem impossible to speak of worldly matters. But my brother, the message came suddenly and I had no money to take me home. I was able to borrow for a brief time. I write to ask that my remittance be sent to me at Butler, speedily if it has not already been sent.

All communications from you or the Board may be directed the present to my address at Butler Bates Co., Missouri.

How long I shall be there I know not. Where I shall be in the future, I know not.

My dear Brother:

The hour is very dark that calls me home. I am never to see the face of my precious boy whom I left but two months since. Again we are left childless! Receiving a telegram from my father that little A.P. died last Sabbath at 10 A.M., I hurried to my heartbroken wife and am this far on my way. Meeting Professor Shearer on his way to New York, I wrote you a line and sent by him but he is called away to his old home for a few days and may not reach you as soon as this. I write to ask that all communications to me be sent to Butler, Bates Co., Mo. and if the Board had not yet sent my July appropriation, please have them do so at once, as this affliction is also attended with heavy expense and I had to borrow money to bring me home, which I should return at once. One need wish it seems my duty to settle here. Do not allow the Board to retract from their position relative to Professor Shearer. I shall not write my reasons, but if my advice is worthy of note accept the suggestion and hold him to his resignation. Brother write me soon, I know not how long I shall remain here. I know not where I shall be in future. Will not return to Mogul until I receive some word from the Board.

Pray for us, and may the Lord bless you abundantly.
Charles Taylor.

Tombstone, Arizona.
July 22, 1882.

Dear Brother Jackson:

According to your request, I send you a short article on Arizona. I do not know whether it is the kind of article you wish or not, if it is not you can put it in the waste basket and it will do no harm. If it is too long you can easily make it shorter with your pencil. You can put my name to it or send it out anonymously, just as you please.

By-the-way, I wish you would send me the Home Missions here. It goes to my old home in Ohio (Kenton) I suppose; but seldom reaches me - please change the address.

Another thing - you remember in our talk at Cincinnati last winter, you said the Board would pay my expenses out here, and also those of my wife. She did not come at that time and I have not thought it best for her to come until the hot season is over. But she now expects to come out about the first of September. I do not want to ask it as any special favor but if the Board has any vote or established custom in this matter, I suppose it is fair we should avail ourselves of it. I am sure my wife's services in this field as a Christian worker, will repay the expense of her coming out here a great many times over.

But I do not like to ask for anything that is not right or customary. At all events I suppose she could get, through the agency of the Board, half fare prices could she not?

Please do what you can for me in this matter and let me know soon, so I can make my arrangements accordingly.

This climate is agreeing with me splendidly; have got entirely over the asthma and I am I think gradually getting the better of my catarrh.

Very truly yours,
H.M. Robertson.

Sir:

Referring to your letter of the 20th inst, in regard to the landing on the wharf at Sitka, Alaska, certain building to be used in the construction of a school house at that place, I enclose herewith a copy of a letter addressed to the Collector of Customs at Sitka, on the 20th inst in regard to the matter.

Very respectfully,

Wm. J. Folger
Assistant Secretary.

(1 enclosure)

Washington, D.C., July 20, 1882

William Gouverneur Morris, Esq.,
Collector of Customs,
Sitka, Alaska.

Sir:

I learn from Reverend Sheldon Jackson that the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, are about rebuilding the burned school house at Sitka, and enlarging their educational arrangements.

Doctor Jackson has requested that the building materials lumber, hardware ec, for the contemplated building, being for a public service, should be received on the Government wharf at Sitka free of charges.

You are hereby instructed to make such arrangements with the parties temporarily in charge of the wharf as that the materials ec, for that purpose shall be received free of charges to the Board of Missions or its Agents, provided, that the Government incur no expense or liability thereby. This Department is much interested in the educational operations among the natives of South Eastern Alaska. The successful conduct of them can but result in the softening and civilizing of the people there. I trust that in every suitable way, you will give your official influence, to increasing the success of the schools, and I will suggest that you do not confine that influence to the writing of favorable letters to the Board or its Agents, but that you exert it in any way that is opened to you, or that you may open.

Very respectfully,

Charles J. Folger,
Secretary.

Baltimore, July 15, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

On July 19th, I forwarded to Treasurer of Home Mission Board the sum of $336.25, the amount contributed by members of our church and congregation in answer to your appeal for funds to rebuild the Mission house in Alaska

One of the members of Session thought I should also notify you, personally which I accordingly do.

Very truly yours,
John V.L. Graham,
Treasurer.

Saratoga Springs, July 26, 1882

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Enclosed you will please find $37. in two checks. The check for $12. included $5. from Mr. F.P. Briggs one of my elders and $3. from his wife and $2. from my wife and myself. I understand you received $10. before you left. Please see that the whole amount $37. is credited to the 1st Presbyterian Church of Saratoga Springs.

I am glad you are interested in my Henry. Any hint you can give him or me will be gladly accepted. If you should find a position for him in Alaska during his visit in which he could make a start he would go immediately. Perhaps some lawyer wants a partner or if there is a reasonable prospect for him as a lawyer by himself he might go, and establish himself and then when the time came for appointments by the Government he would stand a better chance.

One thing is certain, if he gets out there, he will work with all his might for our Mission.

Yours very truly,
Peter Meyer.

Merrie Plains, N.J.,
July 26, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
Dear Sir:

I was very sorry to forego the visit at your home - but sudden indisposition prevented. On some cool or day when I am better I would like much to go to Montclair for a night to renew my acquaintance with Mrs. Jackson and talk with you of our Alaska work. You know I am always glad to aid and further your Home Mission work. I like all you ever did but one thing and that was giving up the N.M.P. out of your hands; it is growing so dull. Just now I write though hardly able. There happens to be a favor you can do me just here. The Mathematical Professorship in Lake Forest University is vacant and my husband is anxious to get it. Herrick Johnson is President of the Board of Trustees, Doctor D.S. Gregory (now stopping in Princeton) is President of the University. Doctor Kittredge is also on the Board. You know all these men. I wish you would say a word to them by letter to help the affair on. They are not likely to get another man of Doctor Wright's attainments. I want him at work in a college; it suits him better than a Church and I like to be where I know young people. I always like them and they like me and in a social way I can influence them. I wish you would further our views here. expects to be at Ocean Grove. Do you know where he is now. You could find Doctor Gregory at Princeton.

Very truly,

Julia McNair Wright.

OFFICE OF THE INDIAN COMMISSION.

Wash. Agency, July 27, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir and Brother:

Your letter of July 26th at hand. We rejoice to know that Indian schools are to have an inspector and that the Commissioner Secretary has had the good judgment to appoint a man fitted for the position. Mr. Haworth impressed us as a very good man and sincere in his desire concerning the Indians. In using the word sincere I mean by that we see so many who seem sincere and are only working for salary. The result makes for itself in the schools in which such work is done. We think General Howard had and has a clear idea of what is necessary here. All who know anything of the working of this Agency regard it as disgraceful that the Department or Board should so long have tolerated the misdoings with a full knowledge of the same. We do not now see how we endured so many hardships and yet accomplished so much. It seems as though the very trials brought a patient courage and strength, covering of "My grace is sufficient for you."

There is some trouble with the Indians below now, and I think it not well to go there until Fall at any event. Mr. Howard spoke of the Papagos and said he thought the Government would build or permit to build the house. We did not feel at liberty to say much and did not further than that we would prefer to go there if there was no change here. My health is not good here and we think a change in the Fall or January is very advisable. How soon may we hope to know some thing. We are not having as much rest as we need from our acquaintance with these people we are always have them around us. The only way to get a rest would be to go to James Springs or some other place away from here, for a few weeks. There is no plastering being done, no oven being built. No saw logs being hauled for lumber to make anything. We have no wood, cannot bake light bread at all. Have had nothing but chips for weeks, they are now nothing but dirt. There is now two miles and two horses with Mr. Eastman's son. The Farmer Cal prospecting for silver. They have been gone two months. Willie, Baby, Frank and Lottie are remarkably well. Mr. Perkins and myself are not so well.

Sincerely,
Mrs. J. D. Perkins.

Yavapai Agency, Arizona.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson

My dear Sir and Brother:

I wish to add a word to my wife's letter in reference to our proposed change. Mrs. Perkins has not had very good health since we have been at this place and now her bowels are troubling her much. Doctor Ebert advised me months ago to make a change to a lower altitude. I think the Papago school and the location will be much better for us. I have been thinking of taking a trip on horse-back and see for myself just what the place was like but now the San Carlos Indians are on the war path which may prevent it.

We are willing to stay here until the Board can procure other teachers for this place although we are anxious to make a change even though Mr. Eastman is removed.

More than a month ago, I sent you an order on the Board for $25.00 for which I wished to get some type for printing a paper as large as letter paper also a photographic apparatus to be used in connection with our school. We have a press. We think we can have a little paper which would interest the children of the school very much, consequently are very anxious to get it. If $25.00 is not enough we will send more.

Hoping to hear from you, I remain
Very truly yours,
J. D. Perkins.

Yre Beach, July 28, 1892.

Doctor Jackson:

My dear Friend:

I wrote to Miss Gould according to Mrs. McFarland's directions and it seems that I woke up the wrong passenger but both sisters are willing to go to Alaska and it may be a question which and I will enclose you my letter that you may see both sides. I will write or probably you have already done so, to the one selected. I will not write again, until I hear from you. Miss Gould's letter came with yours about an hour ago. We purpose leaving here on Monday for home; indeed have been expecting every moment in consequence of dangerous illness of a little grandson that we may be summoned so it will be easier to adjust matters by conversation than writing. I will however enclose request for appointment of Miss Gould. I do not know that I should authoring any expenditure without consulting our Executive Committee but I will venture to secure their approbation to the purchase of tools for the Greek Mission as that is under our peculiar care at the cost you mention of $5. I think Mr. McFarland ought to have a set of tools if he is a carpenter, not Mrs. A.R. as she could not use them and as we are going to large expense to send Miss Jackson, I should not like to do anything more of myself. I will let you know when I get word; either go to the room or ask you to call according to circumstances.

In haste Very Truly,
Julia H. Graham.

Denver, Colorado.
July 28, 1881.

Dear Brother:

Yours received. All right. Have written Gage of Pueblo, Colorado secretary and Doctor Hayes of Denver to give you article. If I can get the time I will write a condensed article myself or at least send a lot of short items. "The Field in Colorado is the oldest and first of the two papers and as you have used "Colorado; its needs for '82," it may be well to modernize a little. Still much of what other is general information that it would be well to get before the people. Am sorry Doctor Kendall did not give me a chance to re-write "An awful ride" as it was written on train and very disconnected. It does not read smoothly at all. Still I'm glad the people see it.

Yours,

Dear Brother Jackson:

Thanks for the Minutes of Pres. Missionary work, and yours of the 20 July about General Sherman in tents.

Wilkinson made the mistake of making a tremendous fuss about being relieved months before the time, and in my judgment killed himself. I tried to ring it but no use. I hope my friends will not feel disturbed even if I am relieved, which I do not anticipate now. Congress placed me hard and gave me a special allowance. With a legal provision in my favor General Sherman would be able to do anything if he wanted to, which I am sure is true. The current is getting deep and strong and I see no use in disturbing it. The papers are sent as you requested.

Yours faithfully,
W. J. Jackson.

Dear Brother:

Your telegram of 28th is hand - to which I have replied "Can't wait arrangements all week leave here Tuesday morning write you fully to-day." I called at Knapp, Russell & Co., and find they have two overhauled engines here about August 10 - they give you the refusal of until time for you to get this letter am sorry you are not here to go on this trip for we expect to go to Wilkes-Barre and in Glacier Bay and take a good time. I had made all arrangements and could not defer the trip. Knapp, Russell & Co., also have a great water wheel but it is a little more expensive than the kind you had made. Knapp says he thinks the gearing and shafting made at Foundry are still there if not can be a on side. Mr. Prindle, whom I leave in charge of my business here will attend to anything he can but I think you better come early as possible and attend to the matter yourself.

Respectfully yours,
William Vashons.

Dear Sir:

Circular No. 2, 1902, containing the proceedings of the Department of Superintendence here last March, has been received from the printers and I write to ask how many copies you would like for distribution. The Office will be glad to send copies without trouble to you and to enclosed cards stating that they are sent at your request if you will furnish us with a list of the persons to be addressed.

Very respectfully yours,

Doctor Jackson,

My dear Friend:

As mamma is very busy she requested me to write to you. We received your kind letter in yesterday's mail and we were very glad to hear from you. We are all very well and we hope you are the same. We should like to take a little trip this vacation. We had a very pleasant visit from General Howard; he took breakfast with us every morning and we miss him very much now that he has gone. "Mrs Sherman" the blind boy's mother died a few months ago and he is now staying with his mother's brother. Mamma and Mr. Perkins are thinking of sending me to Exeter, New Hampshire to school next year, that is only seven miles from Mr. Perkins' home which is at Hampton Beach. I should like to go there very much because it is so near to somebody that I know. I was also thinking of going to Northfield, Mass., to Mr. Moody's school for boys. We have bought a very nice blanket to send to you but we would like to keep it until after the Fair at Albuquerque because it was made by a woman who belongs to the school. We thank you very much for the papers that we have received from time to time and they have afforded us a great deal of pleasure. We wrote to you some time ago concerning apparatus for Photography. We could handle it to very good advantage in vacation. Did you receive the letter. We could send you photographs of the Buildings and of our pupils. Mama and Mr. Perkins send their kindest regards.

Hoping to hear from you soon,

I remain

Very respectfully,

Mrs. Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

Your note and telegraph also but was in the interior at the time; as for the schooner probably about the last of September or first of October there is no other schooner running there. She had two or three cargoes to deliver up before leaving for Santa Fe. Would have answered a day or two sooner but waited for the mail to give more decided answer other return for there but they could not of connected with the mail the communication is very bad. Once a month, the Overland three to five days P.T. to S.F. will write to-day as to the price of shingles etc. Enclosed find bill of Nails have been very busy since my return.

Dear brother Jackson:

I send per express to-day half-dozen or so electrodes for November Home Missionary. Now about the map. Do you want me to get it? If so I will get one double page with Minnesota or Wisconsin with the upper peninsula of Michigan which belongs to state of Wisconsin. Write about the map; also if you want any more small cuts.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Brother:

Your kind note was received in due time, and for a few days after its reception I hoped to enjoy the pleasure of meeting you at the place designated, but a severe attack of rheumatism prevented.

By reference to the letters forwarded to you some time ago, it will be seen that Mrs. Willard's idea as well as request, was for a small steam launch, which, as we understand it, was to be owned and controlled by that particular Mission. As there seems to be a lack of confidence in parties disposed to control or dictate in matters connected with Mission work Alaska, and as the Chilkoot seems to be the most isolated and consequently compelled to suffer more privations than the lower Missions, it would seem desirable that they should at all times, have some means at hand by which they could communicate with the outer world as well as be able to supply their wants.

My reasons for having contribution sent to you were let because you had the confidence of the people and so because I know you had the Chilkoot Mission interests at heart.

My daughter estimated (for some one for her) that the kind of boat suitable for their purpose would cost five hundred dollars, I placed it at six in order to cover expense of delivery.

It was with the understanding that it be according to their wish that I pledged one hundred dollars and am doing what I can to raise the remainder. In the article sent to Presbyterian Home Missions, as also in several other papers you will notice contributions were required to be sent to Galesburg, Ill., as they were not intended to go into the Board but kept a private matter. Was this right?

Will you be kind enough to preserve the letter and if spared to reach our dear children in their distant home, herewith convince them that it has been my wish as well as effort to comply with their wishes. When you confer together perhaps it will be thought advisable to take some other plan. In the mean time please ascertain prices that no time may be lost, if the amount be raised.

Truly yours,
Mrs. Joseph White.

Dear Sir:

I have been for more than two years anxious to get a delegation of Navajo Indians at this school and have arranged and corresponded with reference to it until now, I find that it could be brought about. During the winter, I had a half-breed Navajo girl at the school named Antoinette Williams who had been for some three years at a school at Elaire town, N.J. When sending our pupils home in June, I sent Antoinette to her agency with the special view of working up a delegation of Navajo children. After sending her home I found that it would cost over $700, more for transportation to get twenty Navajo children here than it would to bring twenty children from Dakota or Indian Territory. The transportation was not considered in my upon which was based the appropriation for the school; estimate of the expenses, but it was added in the Senate that the amount appropriated should include cost of transportation to and from the school. Under these circumstances $700 was such a material sum that I at once asked that I might bring children from Dakota or the Indian Territory and was authorized to bring the 20 from Indian Territory. I now have the enclosed letter from Antoinette. It would seem that if it is possible to work up a delegation of children under such adverse circumstances, there should be no failure in bringing them in. The full number of children authorized and which I can carry on my appropriation have been ordered from Dakota, Nebraska and Indian Territory and yet if I could undertake these 20 children if it were not for the expense of transportation, I write this to you to ask if the interest of the Presbyterian Board in the Navajos is sufficient to stand by me for the expense of transportation for 20 Navajo children. The A.M.A. is constantly helping Arapahoe with his Indians. Twenty children this year from the Navajos might lead to a great many more next year. I certainly think it one of the best Indian fields.

An early reply will much oblige.

Very respectfully,

H.H. Pratt.

Doctor Jackson,
Dear Sir:

I enclose letter from Miss Blake. That wedding etc. seems to stand in our way and we must not press too much I suppose but I have written Miss Blake I was sending her letter to you so she will not be surprised to hear again.

I wrote to Urica, Licking Co., Ohio, about a Miss Lizzie Robertson there. If a letter comes from there, please ask

Mr. Boyd to open it, see if there is any hope there and I hope Doctor Kendall would act in the matter if so, without waiting to send to me.

Would there be no way for Miss Blake to get to Mrs. Willard's later. Do not scholars even go up with lumber and etc?

Dear Brother Jackson:

Your letter received. I saw Mr. Cooper and he told me the order you sent him was half ready then. To make matters sure I sent him your letter this evening. He assured me that your order would be obeyed in all respects. I told him to estimate amount of bill and I would forward to you as I know he is "hard up" for funds and needs cash on delivery of goods or as soon thereafter as possible.

I tried to get a millwright for you and so lent and repaired my failure to Brother Jackson some time ago. He (W) is now on his way to fight with an excursion party.

If there is anything else I can do for you first command me.

Edgar Rankin and send word a few days before you start as I will be 15 miles out of Denver. I am afraid if you dispatch I will not get it and let me know the exact time I will meet you at Cheyenne.

Please tell Doctor Roberts that Mr. Cowden will get the certificate from Presbytery when it meets in the early part of September and will forward it to him.

Doctor Jackson:
Dear Sir:

Do you suppose a steamer can be bought ready made on the Pacific coast that would answer for the Alaska work? If so, and it can be used this fall is there not still prospect that Miss Jennie Blake could go to Mrs. Willard?

We had better send no one than one not likely to answer. I write to Mrs. Joseph H. White of Newcastle, Pa., to see if she knows of some one. I do not quite give up Miss Blake. Do you?

I write on a venture to L. R. L., Chateaugay. It was stupid in her to give initials only.

Good news have come from Albany Presbytery through Mrs. S. F. Potter of Schenectady. They are arranging to furnish "boxes" for Sitka, containing all the articles needed by Mrs. Austin - given in August paper. Mrs. Potter had had the list before it was printed. Their money too is appropriated to Sitka building.

I send her letter to Mrs. Van - for directions as to sending on the boxes. If you can write to Mrs. Potter, her present address is Mrs. Reid and the little one are real well. Gage says you may count on him.

As to the "stand" three or four weeks may develop some changes in supplies etc., that may be of interest. I will defer collecting and arranging them till then but will get them to you by September 1st.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

The "Unlinked Hand" will take well, I think but is not on as good paper as we usually have. Cannot the printer afford better? Also it is hardly tinted enough, but perhaps it is too late to change.

Let us have a brighter color for Mrs. Willard's letter. Blue like our Sunday School leaflet would do.

5 pages is an expensive number as paper is wasted or even 6 is bad unless printed to fold like the pink Alaska leaflet enclosed.

I think we could use to advantage 6,000 of the Willard leaflets.

I hope you can get them through at once. I cannot have my sister come to New York, being in sole charge. She is better.

I have written to Doctor Randall to see if arrangements can be made for you to have the $100. for furnishing teaching room and $25. to buy the Alaska table-mats and curlicution. Also about money for Mr. Willard's loss and Mrs. Willard's beginning of a home; she has two children there and must need money.

My Dear Jackson:

Your proof did not reach me till Saturday, and my failure to answer may have troubled you. The only correction is the one marked which destroys the sense as it now stands. I suppose this will appear in September and after that I shall be back at my post and in better condition than I am in here to look over the matter.

I believe in the side in going into this vast work and on the other side I do not believe in it as a mere scheme to strengthen the conservative party in our own church. If we cannot undertake it in some better, higher, better than that all will do well to let it alone. God will only smile us with his wrath! But in the broader sense what a grand opportunity he is giving.

Dear brother:

I send you Mrs. Willard's letter about Miss Bettie Matthews, Portsmouth, Illinois. What do you think of telegraphing to see if she can go with you? Write also - let me know whether to write her this evening as to outfit following on. Mrs. Willard is sick - expects to be confined in October or sooner - has no one to call on. Mrs. Austin wants her to come to Sitka for her confinement. It may be she will.

Charlie Dwight can wait answer. Let me know what Doctor Kendall has to say.

U. S. F. New Hampshire, Newport,
August 8, 1882.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Friend:

Yours of the 7th inst at hand and in reply, I have to state that while it would give me great pleasure to consider your request relative to land in Sitka it is out of my power individually to act in the premises as the land although standing in my name is held by a company of four. An some expense has been incurred in purchasing a portion of it, and in plowing, fencing and cultivating a small section of it to assure the legality of the claim.

I doubt the possibility of obtaining the consent of all interested to donate the land, just at present.

As soon as convenient, I will communicate with the parties and inform you as to their decision.

As you know, my heart is interested in Mission work in Alaska where a grand field worthy great exertion awaits the Christian agents of civilization.

May patience and zeal commensurate with the fruitful vintage that must come from a practice of those virtues, actuate their lives in the prosecution of this work, is my earnest prayer.

Wishing you a pleasant and successful voyage, I remain

Truly yours,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Brother:

It seems necessary to trouble you again. Our dear children, in their weakness and distress, have applied again to me to secure help. By the last letter received and forwarded to Mrs. Haines - you can learn their situation. Daughter does not say which she prefers, male or female, but considering Mr. Willard's misfortune in losing the use of his hand, at least for a time, it seems advisable to secure the services of a man, who can serve in and out of the house. Having read much of the good qualities of the Chinamen, I have written to a friend in San Francisco, to secure through Mrs. Pond or some of the ladies engaged in Mission work, a suitable person, to be ready, if possible for the August vessel.

My object in writing at this time is to ask whether, amid your multiplied cares and labors, it would be possible for you to take charge of or at least arrange for passage, if one is secured. Daughter said she expected they would have to pay the passage. It has occurred to me that a man might have the opportunity to work his way.

Miss Douglass will arrange as to terms of service.

Reverend Calkins called to-day and expressed great desire to see you, and particularly in regard to the boat.

In my letter yesterday to Mrs. Haines, I said under certain stipulations my pledge would be for three hundred ($300).

When and where shall the money be sent?

Hoping you will pardon this imposition, I remain

Yours truly in Christian love,
Mrs. Joseph White.

Dear Brother:

Enclosed please find a letter which I borrowed and have neglected to return. In regard to the saw mill for Alaska, have you applied for a permit to use what timber we need for building purposes? We wish to have every thing in order so we will have no trouble with any one who may wish to impede the work.

I received yesterday a letter from Mr. Gould in regard to his library, but think I will have to wait until fall before we purchase any thing further as I wish to confer with Mrs. James. Received also letter from Mr. McFarland telling of the safe arrival of the medicine, free of charge. I hope to send $50.00 to the saw mill fund tomorrow.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D. D.
Dear Sir and Brother:

Just a word - It is a hard case about Mrs. Willard. No expense should be spared to save her precious life if possible. Perhaps you can see some nurse at Fort Townsend who would go up in a canoe - if Mrs. Willard cannot come to Sitka, as I hope she may do.

If, as I suppose Miss Jennie Blake is ready to go in September, do you not think she had better come on then? Mrs. Walter B. Styles will not be able to be at her station for some time needing her mother's care - is expected confinement. Then Mrs. Willard writes so earnestly for Miss Delia Matthews of Monmouth, Illinois, had not she and Miss Blake better come on together? I am sure there is work enough for them to do.

I conclude Miss Matthews cannot possibly get ready to go with you - still she may.

The Lord bless you in all your going in, and going forth.

Yours respectfully,
F. B. Johnson.

Will meet you at Grafton; will want funds for expenses you had better buy my ticket there.

Clark Gould.

Fort Wrangel, Alaska.
August 10, 1883.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Do you remember this day five years ago you and I arrived in Wrangel? I cannot promise to write you much because I have been suffering for the past month very much with my eyes. Dr. Dubose from the gunboat has been treating them and they are much better now but far from well. He forbid me to write any this mail. But I thought I must write a letter. But I thought I must ask you to take my "itemized accounts and make the estimate you wished me to make about the groceries. I would do it willingly, but as my eyes are now it is impossible and they may not be any better for sometime. There is one thing I want you to do for Tillie. That is to try to get her a small organ, "A baby organ" would be better than none. She writes that she has no much trouble about the singing. Her voice was always weak and she says she has almost lost it. A small instrument would help her very much. She writes very encouragingly of her school. You will hear from other sources of the affliction of the Willards. We are very anxious to hear from them. The gunboat was up at Sitka last week and Doctor Dubose told Mr. Young he feared Mrs. Willard had not strength to live through her confinement. He says she is very far gone in consumption. August 18th, I had the above written before the steamer came with the surprising news that you would be up next steamer. I will send it to Portland. I believe there is nothing I want you to bring unless it is a barrel of "Fire-Paint" to paint the roofs of our buildings. We have had two or three narrow escapes from fire lately and I have been advised by several persons to have the roofs painted. A gentleman who understands all about it says one barrel will be sufficient for all our roofs. If you should decide to bring it you will also need to get two good stiff brushes to put it on with. Mrs. Graham writes that Miss Gould and Miss Hankin will both be with you. You speak of Miss Mary Gould both in my letter and in Mr. Youngs. The arrangement all the time has been that Clara was the one that was coming.

Yours truly,

A.R. McFarland.

Please bring me a pair of small tweezers.

Dear Sir:

Your letter of the 31st inst was forwarded to me at this place - and in accordance with your request I enclose herewith my check on the Trenton Banking Company, N.J., to your order for five hundred dollars ($500.) to be expended at your discretion for additions to the Sheldon Jackson collection in the museum at Princeton.

I understood from Professor Gayot that you had consulted with him in regard to the nature and kind of articles most needed in the Museum and that would add to the permanent value of the collection. Such being the case, it is unnecessary for me to add any thing upon the subject.

Wishing you a pleasant and successful journey, I am

Truly yours,

Calvin S. Green.

71 Broadway, Room 47, N.Y.
August 10, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I am much obliged to you for the facts which you sent me concerning the Alaska Mission work and have been thinking much of them to see if I could in any way help on the work. But I was not able to bring about an evening meeting at Senabright, as you suggested.

When I said that "our school will give $150. if they do not I will - you may look to me for it," I did not know that it must be paid in August. We were just dispersing and have no means of collecting money until September when we will take it up.

I do not want the school to owe me, as I cannot then properly ask them to pay the debt, but I can now appeal to them to do it. So I do not want to advance it for them.

If then your Board will advance the $250. I will see that it is repaid after we assemble again.

Please let me know how much of the $10,000 needed, you have raised.

Sincerely yours,

H. F. McWilliams.

Would Doctor John Hall be willing to say an emphatic word of endorsement.

Friday, August 11, 1882.

Doctor Jackson,

Dear Friend:

I suppose you have received my telegram before this time. I had thought so long and earnestly upon the subject that it did not take me long to decide and from the chain of circumstances which have brought it about, I cannot but feel that it is my Father's hand. There is no place to which I would rather go, and no one to whom I would rather go than Mrs. Willard. I also telegraphed my decision to Mrs. White, Mrs. Willard's mother. I can be ready to go with you. I would not like to go alone, any part of the way when I could get company.

But if my sister can not come home, I would like to go one day sooner and spend a day with them at their home in Atlantic, Iowa, then I could join you in Council Bluffs or Omaha; Atlantic is about 60 miles East of Council Bluffs.

I think the ladies here will provide me with all that is necessary, perhaps more than I can take. At any rate, I will be ready.

Truly yours,

Beulah L. Matthews

Atlantic City, N. J.
August 11, 1882

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:
My dear Sir:

I talked with my friend about your new mill, we both think your better plan is to employ a pioneer sawyer or millwright in California or Oregon. One who is accustomed to primitive saw-mills. Then let him select an old-fashioned up and down saw and the necessary gearing and shaft and box & stings and let him manufacture the wheel and balance of mill on the ground.

As you do not need rapid work nor need to compete with other mills you do not need modern machinery.

The best modern supplies I know of are sold by Rinden Tyler and Co., Mount Holly, N.J. You can get their circular.

Yours very truly,
T.P. Davis.

275 St. James Place, Brooklyn.
August 11, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Brother:

Enclosed please find list of packages in the box marked "For Fort Wagon" and containing parcels for various places. The other box only contains things for Mrs. Willard and a package for "Tillie." Please find also enclosed a check for $25.00 to purchase three rocking chairs one arm chair for Mrs. Willard - one without arms, but high back for teacher's room and one arm chair for Mrs. Corlies. The chairs I looked at were of fine cane similar to the seats in the elevated Railroad cars and prices $4.75 and $4.00.

There may be some charges on the boxes which you will pay out of this, and what is ever left to be used in purchasing a few baskets or curiosities. I will have to trouble you with one book for Mr. Gould. It is one he asked for and as it was a medical book seemed desirable for him to have it as soon as possible and I could not get it in time to put in the box with the others.

I hope the Willards have a good had if not I would rather the money would be raised for that, than to buy curiosities. Perhaps you had better purchase two mattresses instead of one and not get any curiosities especially for Mr. Miss Dodge is with us for a few days; she brought $5.00 for the "steam launch" for Alaska which I shall report to Mrs. White. It is a "tithe gift" from three ladies in Halden, Mass., who have not such means, and who knew nothing of Mrs. White's appeal but were interested in Alaska and Miss Dodge told them a steam launch was needed by the Missionaries. Is it not blessed the way God goes before preparing the way for His work? May you be blessed by a consciousness of His presence in all your journey and work. Mrs. Gregory is leading the prayer meeting at Astbury Park that Thursday requested that we especially remember the wives of our Secretaries and Synodical Missionaries who have to bear the family responsibilities as well as separation from their husbands and our hearts most earnestly responded to the request.

Very sincerely,
Carnelia F. Kim.

Wilmington, Ill. note.
August 12, 1922.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir:

The Home Mission Society of this place are making efforts to secure money for a steam launch to ply in the waters of Alaska. Inclosed please find a report of the U.S. Navy engineers from which you will see that to make such a boat safe in the hands of unskilled engineers it will be necessary to have either a coil boiler or a Dunlap boiler. These boilers are made of gas-pipe and are practically non-explosive. A two cylinder, compound condensing engine would also be desirable for economy of fuel.

Yours,
W.R. Willard.

August 12, 1922.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

Your letter of the 7th July, announcing your arrival by the September Steamer just received. We bid you welcome again to Alaska and rejoice that the Fifth Mission, is to be rebuilt. We will welcome Miss Mary Gould (I thought it was Miss Clara) with open arms - you may tell her. The news concerning the state of health of the Willard family is distressing. We anxiously await developments. Mr. Williams can give you particulars. I have written inviting them to come here as soon as Mrs. Willard is able to bear the journey. We pray her sickness may not be unto death.

There are no carpenters at all at Wrangel and I am afraid you will have some difficulty in employing those you will find at Juneau as they are mostly interested in mining and wages have been from four to five dollars per day. I do not think there are very good carpenters at Sitka either. However, you may be able to secure some at Juneau. There are a number there. If it were not for the great expense of travelling your surest plan would be to bring one from Portland or the Sound. The boats now go to Juneau before going to Sitka.

I received Captain Beardslee's report and thank you for it. Have I not also you to thank for Shaff's Bible Dictionary? If so, accept my warmest thanks. It is a most valuable work and fills an otherwise vacant place in our library.

We have been off logging in the winter's supply of salmon for the Home and other institutions. Will you go after the steamer leaves.

Farewell until we greet you here.

In haste,

Yours in Christ's work,

E. Hall Young.

Kindest regards from Mrs. Gould. The Carlises are hard at work at Juneau.

Dear Brother:

I thought I would write a line to you to San Francisco. It may reach there before you leave? I have written to Portland about fire paint for our roofs, as we have had two or three narrow escapes from fire lately. I have been advised by several persons to have the roof painted. A gentleman has given me the address of a firm in San Francisco where the best kind can be had. He says a barrel will paint all our roofs, should you decide to get the paint, it will be necessary to bring two good stiff brushes to put it on with. I dislike to ask for any added expense. But perhaps it will be a great saving in the end.

Sincerely yours,

A. R. McFarland.

Sir:

During my visit at the above place I received an order dated June 20, for lumber and will state that it will be at Sitka in time as stated, and will probably have the yellow cedar.

MORRIS JACKSON, INDIANAPOLIS.

Rich, Indiana, August 20, 1888.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

The "Summer" came in the day, bringing in both of your letters. We all feel right hearted and joyously thankful that you are coming and at the same time expect of having a new "home." Held a service at 11 A.M. Many exhortations very present. Several gifts and contributions among the number. An offering with the latter-mentioned. Reverend and Mrs. Barlow and Willard took part in the services, invited with the other members mentioned to take part, also. Were promised to take quite a number of them through the Ranch to school. Now let us consider your suggestions. Mr. Brady has an Army wagon that will answer our purpose. It can be bought for fifty dollars ($50.) They were going to take it to the State and I asked them to keep it until you came. Think it will answer our purpose.

In your list of building materials, you ask for cement. Will see, for paper, terra cotta pipe, etc. Will see how 24 nails be bought? Am using the large for lines for school for our church in our school room. Think if we can use the old church this winter we will have to remove the old iron roof and replace it with a new one, either iron or shingles. Will need another story for it. Will the roof and tax window be enough for our new building? Will a chimney be better row and can borrow as many as we need.

We need some floor boards and some paint for a black board. Think Mr. Wadsworth will give us the latter.

Think we can raft the lumber where and thus avoid surface. Will report it and see that it is properly taken care of. Will attend to all the suggestions made in your letter, and do all that can be done by way of preparation. A box of tools would be useful as we can do much ourselves in finishing the inside work. Received the check for $800.00. Will send this letter by Mr. Wadsworth. It is very late and praying God to bless and speed you on your journey. I will close and remain

Sincerely yours,

M. Jackson.

My dear Doctor:

I have not had much "time" for writing, since the adjournment without action for our country. Other rise would have written you before. I saw my friends on the proposed educational provision, and found them very easy to persuade - or rather already prepared to help the cause. At the last few days of the session were a perfect gallantry to far as the collection of money is concerned, I am disappointed at the result - an equivalent to the Miller's collection of the Mills or their more immediate and direct support. I have every effort I make, on all the points, and have to know that from various sources, and it is a strain for me to come time previous to the collection and I feel it to be a serious barrier to what I have been doing - the effectual-ity of my efforts. My friends think my collection will be through, but I am not sure, except that I am not sure of my collection and I think I have to be a better man in that. The bill - same bill - the educational provision I have will certainly be passed. I have been told positively (and George of the House says it) that it will be passed to take up the bill, and then I am sure it will be passed to do it. He tried to run the House bill in last year - but it was a loss for him.

I will make a visit to N.Y. early in the fall, on business of mine, and would like to see you in the city. I will of providing all for you, at the same time. I will you let me know when you will be in the city. I will fall. I had hoped to go to Alaska, but it is not impossible but rather not to be expected. I would like to go, even if I only go and return on the same steamer.

Some of my papers are in the hands of the receipts on a land mortgage, for which I am by the ing the checks of M. J. Smith, and I am by the nie (I think) and I am by the checks of M. J. Smith written your Secretary, asking him to deliver their checks, between January 1, 1881 and June 30, 1881 and let me have the amounts, and if such as appear with my endorsement. I will you be kind enough to explain to him the object of my request
 so. With regards to your family, and the friends of my own.

Very truly yours,
 W. J. Hall.

Rev. and Mrs. John Jackson, D.D.,
 Dear Friends!

Yours of the 15th August received. The books have not yet arrived.

I am greatly indebted to you for your kindness. I would have the books even had I visited you. I am sorry my brother have been sick and I am sorry and thankful. My kindest re-sards to Mrs. J. and the girls.

I have been patiently waiting for a call to Sister Wood.
 I have been praying for you all the time during his sickness wish and pray you a safe and happy journey.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D., there are constant calls
My dear Sir,

I find that there are constant calls from societies all over the country for a history of the school and its plans and objects. Much valuable work is taken up in replying to these inquiries some by simply answering because of the labor and repetition of writing the same thing over and over again. I think I shall get up a little circular embodying the needed information. I write to you for assistance. I want every thing that has been pointed in regard to the school that you can lay your hands on - and I also want you to write me all the facts in connection with the schools establishment. You were at the birth and were as I understand the father and grandfather of the school give me material that would be interesting.

Please send me its copies of the General Assembly as you promised.
Don't omit my name from your reports that all societies received a copy yet.

When you go to Washington please write on Miss Jackson's necessity of having our new building built with a view to the future. We want it in such a shape that the addition of wings will add to its appearance. More than that, however, we want the building that will be erected this winter large enough for our school. It ought to have a capacity of 100, and it won't have if the plan I saw in the hands of Doctor Thomas is carried out.

I am looking for you this fall and will be very glad to see you.

I know that you are very busy but I hope you will soon give me the historical items I want. If you are less busy I should not expect a very quick response.

Yours very truly,
R.W.B. Bryan.

Sir: In reply to your favor of 21st inst I beg to say that in reply to your favor of 21st inst I beg to say that whereas the Sitka wharf is indebted to us for over $1000.00.
I do not feel at liberty to waive the claim for wharfage on merchandise consigned to any private individual. We have to pay our own wharfage withal and are charged to other shippers and I can say that about 2/3 of all the wharfage receipts at this port are paid by us. Therefore I see no reason why we should be requested to contribute this amount to the Missionary cause in this Territory.

We are desirous of discontinuing all connections with the wharf if the government will reimburse us for money advanced. We acknowledged the title and control of the wharf to be vested in the government and acting under your instructions as Collector of this port. Hence I do not think that the government should ask us to do this provided it incurs expense or liability thereby.

I do not wish to waive any claim which may grow out of this Missionary wharfage, whereby it might be applied to reduce the amount of money we have heretofore advanced, to build and repair the wharf.

I am willing however to submit the following proposition - Said building material etc., of the Missionary to be landed on the dock, wharfage and wharfage charged thereon at customary rates but no money to be paid therefore until this whole wharf question is decided by the Secretary of the Treasury. The Missionary to enter into an agreement satisfactory with security if required to that effect.

Treasury Department,
Office of the Secretary:
Washington, D.C. July 10, 1882.

William Gouverneur Morris,
Collector of Customs,
Sitka, Alaska.

Sir:

I learn from Reverend Sheldon Jackson that the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church, are about rebuilding the burned school house at Sitka, and enlarging their educational arrangements. Doctor Jackson has requested that the building materials lumber, hardware ec., for the contemplated building, being a public service should be received on the Government wharf at Sitka free of charge. You are hereby instructed to make such arrangements with the parties temporarily in charge of the wharf as that the materials ec., for that purpose shall be received free of charges to the Board of Missions or to its Agents, provided that the Government incurs no expense, or liability thereby."

I will thank you at your earliest convenience to give me your views in writing in reference to the matter, so that I can communicate them to the parties interested.

Very respectfully,

Sir:

I have the acknowledge the receipt of Department letter (H.B.J.) dated July 20, 1882. Upon the subject of free wharfage on certain building materials, which the Presbyterian Missionaries contemplated importing here.

As soon as practicable after the receipt of your letter

I wrote the North West Trading Co., who have charge of the dock, and now have the honor to enclose copies of the correspondence had upon this subject.

In accordance with the terms of the agreement made and entered into by my immediate predecessor, M. Delany Ball - and this Company. I cannot see how I am to insist upon free wharfage for the Missionaries, without involving the United States in some form of liability and which I am forbidden to do in express terms in your letter.

I have reason to believe that the present financial condition of the wharf at this port will shortly be made an object of enquiry by yourself, and that I shall be called upon for a history thereof and full report. I am ready at any moment when directed, to give a full account of this responsible scheme.

I am respectfully,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:

Dear Sir and Brother:

I wish to ask you a few questions concerning Mission work in Alaska, and before doing so will explain why I am connected with the people known as "Missionists." We number over one hundred thousand members and have no Mission work, with the exception of an administrative Mission at Fairbanks, Alaska. Some of us are very young and undertake something which will interest you. I have been with the Home Church, I visited, was introduced to seven, attended the Mission Institute at Fairbanks, and you by Doctor Vincent at the same time. One of the meetings your description of the work is a task suggested to me the advisability of teaching our very young. I wrote to our Missionary Secretary concerning the matter. He says that there will be no trouble in getting money for the proposed work if we can get it, and if in the future of time we are qualified to do so, I am fitted for the work. I am eager to undertake it.

I have thought best to apply to you for information as most interested and best informed. Will you let me know if I am to come for me, and where is the best available place to begin work.

What the absolutely necessary expenses of a single Missionary would probably be for one year. How much salary could be live spent?

As I am twenty-five years of age, have ordinarily good health, a good academic education, formerly study for college, am unmarried, have produced an autobiography for five years with some measure of success at least agreeable ability to acquire a knowledge of languages. Is it your opinion that there is work for me in Alaska?

As various shades of belief are sometimes tolerated among our people and also religious education the doctrinal views of the book is often the result. I may state that I am recognized as Evangelical by my neighbors in the Methodist, Baptist, and Presbyterian Ministry. If the Mission could be established and enlarged, I would have no fear that it would not be in substantial accord with Evangelical Christianity.

In the hope of receiving counsel and direction in obeying the Master's command to "Go into all nations," I remain, Sir, your obedient servant.

Edgemoor, Alaska.

November 4, 1948.

Respectfully,
W. J. Powers.

Dear Brother:

Chief Schomtha is getting ready to one feeling of indignation among the officers of the Naval and Coast service in these waters - among our Missionaries who were acquainted with the facts and the leading merchants.

Major William Gouverneur Morris, Collector of Customs, boasts that he secured this removal.

Major Morris is under grave charges, gambling, drunkenness, smuggling of liquors and other misdemeanors that will probably secure his early dismissal from the service.

You have doubtless been mislead to perform an act of injustice to a worthy officer of your service, and it would seem but right that he should be reinstated.

Very respectfully yours,
Sheldon Jackson,
Superintendent of Missions.

Doctor Jackson:
Dear Sir:

The ladies interested in Home Missions in our Presbytery (Carlisle) are very anxious to assist in a Home at Chillicothe or Hamis where Mr. and Mrs. Willard are.

We have made a special effort and will have about five hundred dollars ($500.00) raised for that purpose and paid to Mrs. Boyd by the time this reaches you. We shall get as much as possible but this much we are sure of.

We trust you will find Mr. and Mrs. Willard well and that you will have it in your power to make them more comfortable. Mrs. Kainer wrote me about the young lady, Miss Bettie Matthews from Monmouth, Ill., who has gone to join Mrs. Willard. I hope she will prove a great help to them and we would be glad to hear from Miss Matthews after her arrival.

I spent an afternoon last week with Doctor and Mrs. [Name] all were well - we expect to hold next Synod meeting in Carlisle about the last of October. You will remember the meeting held in Harrisburg last spring.

That God will grant you health and strength and guide you in all your work is the sincere prayer of your friend.

Mrs. Charles L. Bailey.

Eyesah Mission, Alaska.
September 23, 1882.

Reverend and dear Sir:

We did not realize how much we had to thank you for until you were gone, if not now. The raft was not sufficient to carry the mill across the channel, so we hauled it ashore and stored all in Chapman's house, which was much better. I opened all the cases found such rust but gave bearings, screws and everything not already painted a coat of lard and white lead no oil or white lead came to me.

This climate ruins whatever is susceptible of it under cover or not, I am very glad to have it here. The natives have been doubtful if we would do all we promised the arrival of this machinery answers many of their doubtful questions and will in time, if put in successful operation enable us to accomplish much we could not easily without it. Mr. Purdy thinks the man of whom we spoke now, at Klaskanon could be gotten and is a good man. Mr. Purdy wants lumber in the spring and prefers to have ours if we can have it in time.

The lumber you promise us will I hope be brought in here in October as we now expect the steamer with goods for the post in that month and to touch on its way up, if not till its return we hope to see you again. If the lumber must be brought here from Klaskanon, in raft or canoes the cost will be considerable and the risk something. I had made an arrangement with Mr. Purdy which would sufficiently duplicate what you left here to enable us to complete our temporary house sufficiently to be tenable. Mr. Purdy will not now need more rooms for a few months I am quite troubled about school room, I think the house in front of our lot can be had if we can fix it, could use it now if it were ready. Would it not be well if we had material to make school furniture, which will do for the new school house when we get it ready. The items sent from Sitka came down from Klaskanon in Purdy's whale boat. Thanks. Wife had a card from Miss Matthews containing the news embraced in your P.S. and expressing the hope that all would soon be well. I am in doubt if I will succeed in getting the natives to fix up a room or furnish wood without compensation until they get a little more light, and I have now no means of employing any considerable amount of labor.

Mr. Oakford had a Hannagh and his still carried on board the steamer for Portland, it created something of a sensation among the natives.

I may have more to write before an opportunity to send this occurs, one of our men thinks of going to Sitka next week.

A goodly number of native strangers are in town; they come to trade to see and many expect to come to live, especially the better class parties are just now talking of establishing a cannery mill etc. at Klaskanon which is somewhat dividing the attention of the natives. Neither the influence of the cannery nor the presence of a certain class of white men will be greatly beneficial to the natives at present.

"Carries" are high, they tell me. Men on the steamer gave twice as much as we offer and that Jo got $20 for Schootka's stick, which we could have gotten for $5.00 which reminds me that Mr. Chapman's liberality with the men who helped him off, caused every man who did twenty five cents worth of work that Sabbath evening to stand out persistently for $100. If you have the chart of Jackson and vicinity printed with Missionary names, I hope you will not forget the request to leave Gould out and pardon the request.

I believe that I have not told you the rumor that the Catholics propose to establish a Mission at Klinquan. This opens again the question of establishing our Mission there. Our, apparently, central position here, with the fact of having all eyes and expectations fixed on it for a year, is a strong arrangement pro a mill cannery. Store and Catholic Mission in prospect at Klinquan an argument pro. I sincerely wish it were possible for you to view the ground in person.

A change would "break the hearts" of some of our best friends here and just now some of our strongest native friends are here. The Lord direct us in this matter.

If we go to K. of course other parties would not to make a division.

Oct. 4th. I have visited Klinquan and encouraged Mr. Purdy to erect a salting house at the Sammon stream and men are now at work on it. So I think no one else will see anything worth the attention of two companies and if so a serious question is answered. Everything counted, this seems to me the better place for the Mission.

The boys came down in the night and got the bell and had it "Mamooked Sahilil" with a rope so they could hear its sound on Sunday. I have a boy who promises to stay with me for the winter if I take him into my house and furnish him as I do my own. He is learning and will soon be a good interpreter. Mr. Hill offered to make an arrangement with a girl at Klawack who speaks English, I appreciated his kindness but doubted the propriety of promising her pay without trial. She is a smart girl knowing how to make money. She promised to come down and help Mrs. Gould and I engaged to take her on trial and do what I could for her. Mr. Hill may think I don't want any one. I feel we were right in not bringing Mr. Sneath however gladly I would see him and receive his help, the arguments con are more than those pro.

Excuse this tax on your time, if you get this at Sitka, I will be pleased to hear from you before you leave the Territory.

Kindest regards to Brother Chapman tell him all is well the boys asking "when Mr. Chapman comes?"

Yours of the 6th inst received and I take pleasure in reporting to you that Reverend R.W.Hill of Salem, Oregon was accepted September 6th by the ladies Society of Huntington Valley, Pa. I have just written Mrs. Roberts the Secretary inclosing your letter to me, feeling sure it would add interest on the part of those engaged in work for himself and family. With best wishes for your success in all efforts in that far away portion of our land, in which our interest is ever increasing, and asking that you kindly remember me to all the dear workers there.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I hear the two gun boats are going to leave for Sitka tomorrow morning - so I thought you would be glad to get a letter, if it was only from Fort Wrangel; We were rejoiced to hear favorable news from Mrs. Willard - trust she is very much better ere this. We were very glad for several reasons; one was that I had concluded it would be impossible for me to let Miss Rankin go up to Chilcat for of course if she went it would be for the winter and I am sure I could not get along another winter alone. We have had quite a serious time since Miss Rankin came. Have had over twenty cases of measles in the house; 16 in bed at one time. They are all getting better now except little Bessie. She is still very sick. Miss R. has proved a valuable assistant and we like her better every day. Think she is just the person we want. Mr. Young's family have moved into the little house. Our schools both poened to-day having been postponed on account of measles. I had a very pleasant call to-day from Captain Merriman of the "Adams." He speaks very favorably of the Mission work; said if he could do anything for me at any time just to drop him a line.

As I am writing with Bessie in my arms, I will now stop. Remember me to all the friends. I hope you will not fail to send me a line if any opportunity offers as I am very anxious to hear from Mrs. Willard.

Very truly yours,
A.R. McFarland.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I wrote the enclosed letter to send to send by the Wachusetts. As they said their boat would be in to the wharf this morning they left for Sitka. But it did not come; therefore I did not get my letter off. We were rejoiced to hear such good news from Mrs. Willard. We hope by this time she is very much stronger. Our children are all up but some of them not very well yet. As I expect to see you so soon I will not write any more.

Yours,

A.R. McFarland.

Dear Sir:

Understanding that it is your intention to proceed to Washington very shortly in order to prosecute the good work in favor of Indian education in Alaska; and knowing that you were thoroughly familiar with the conduct and character of the present Collector of Customs, William G. Morris, especially in relation to myself, I therefore request that you would be kind enough to call on the Chief Signal Officer in Washington and represent the facts in reference to my removal from this station.

Your character and standing in the noble field of work which has prospered so well under your fostering care, would give proportionate weight to the presentation of the facts in regard to my unjust treatment. Whatever the result of your intermediation I shall always remain your grateful and obedient servant,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D. John J. McLean.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir and brother:

Perhaps you have heard from Mrs. C. L. Bailey, N. Front St., Harrisburg, Pa., that that Presbytery will raise (D.V.) $500. This year, and perhaps more, to do there what Providence may direct. Certainly no Missionary ought to go there unless comfortable food and living is assured - and the Board of Home Missions is positive on this subject - as would also be our Committee.

We are deeply anxious about Mrs. Willard - much earnest prayer has been offered for her. The comfort is that we know the Lord is able to raise her if according to His will - and knows what is best.

We want to have a list of the Boys in Sheldon Jackson Institute with both Indian and English names given, and those marked who have been taken for support by any society. We have an old list, but there have been changes. Any items of interest help us raise the money.

We often think of you - but are so very busy about coming synod meetings and other things. Mrs. Miller expects to begin work next Monday. Mrs. C. will be with the boys - ing me and will continue. I hope for a time longer.

Yours very truly,

F. J. Baines, Secretary

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Sitka, Alaska.

My dear Sir:

I am informed by our agent that there has been some difficulty between you and this Co., in regard to the payment of wharfage for material landed at Sitka for the erection of a Mission school. As a matter of principle this company must deny the right of the Government to require us to allow any goods or material to pass over the wharf at Sitka free of charge.

We have a lien upon that wharf and under an agreement with the Government are authorized until our lien is paid to collect wharfage upon all goods passing over the wharf. The Secretary of the Treasury, therefore, has no more right to ask us to pass our goods over that wharf free, than he would have to ask us to give our goods away. If the Government requires the material and goods for the Home Board of Missions to pass over the wharf free of charges, it should first pay off that lien.

While I shall always be glad to help the Home Board of Missions in their endeavors to civilize the Indians of Alaska I must in this case, insist upon payment of wharfage for the material that has passed over the wharf, as the waiving of that charge would weaken another claim I hold against the Government.

If you will pay the amount to me on your return, I shall refund it to you as a donation in behalf of this company to the Home Board of Missions. This donation I shall be very glad to make but I do not like to have the Government make donations at our expense, as that seems to be exactly what the Secretary of the Treasury proposed to do.

Very truly yours,

Paul Schaefer

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D., appointed "Business Manager" of the Presbyterian Home Missionary by the Board of Home Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

New York, N.Y., 1882.

Report of Special Committee of the Board.

"The Committee would respectfully recommend that the Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D., be commissioned as the Business Manager of the "Presbyterian Home Missionary," that the commission date from October 1, 1882, that his salary after January 1, 1883, be at the rate of $2,000.00 per annum and that the Woman's Executive Committee be requested to provide one-fourth of his salary."

Adopted.

Fort Wrangel, Alaska.
October 2, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

As Steve, a Sitka lad, is about to leave for Sitka by canoe, I will hurriedly pen a line. Everything is quietly prosperous here. The measles has gone the rounds of the Home girls and is now trying the bodies and tempers of my children. No fatal or extreme cases: Mr. Oakford captured a Klawack Indian in the act of making hoochenor and carried him machine and all to Portland, meaning to make a test case of it. I have to look after his office in his absence - a light task.

I have finished moving into the new house and we are getting fixed up. It is rather a tight squeeze we have had to leave our bulkiest furniture in store - but we are glad to save the rent.

One new girl in the Home - a Samaga. School in operation. Doctor McFarland has the boys in the old school room and his wife the girls in the Home school room.

We expect the Wachusettis to-day or tomorrow with news from you all.

Late news from Doctor Corlies and Louis Poul reports both well and Mission prospering. Doctor Corlies is about to remove to Siskiyewsky. Captain Sprague has sorely disappointed him as well as you and me.

Kindest regards to all the Missionaries at Sitka. We pray continually for Mrs. Willard's recovery.

I enclose a letter which arrived for you by canoe.

S. Hall Young.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

Yours of the 13th ult. to hand with check for 500 as advised for which we send you receipt. Immediately on receiving order I gave it to the mill. They supposed and so did I that "Idaho" would be here about Wednesday 4th to load. Saturday at 11 A.M. we received notice from O.R. Shea that "Idaho" would leave Santa Fe that evening at 2 o'clock and that all freight for her must be shipped that afternoon overland for Fort Townsend. We rushed to Mill to see about lumber and were told that it could not be had at any of all the mills in Portland for delivery. A large order for Northwest Territory Company was in the same condition. So you see my brother it is utterly impossible to send it this steamer. We hope you are having a good time. Hill came O.K. We are all well - Doctor Roberts of Board Home Missions was here last week. Has gone home overland.

Respectfully,
William Wadhams.

Anderson Bay, New Zealand.

My dear Brother Jackson:

Please receive draft in your favor for £4. 0. 0.
£3.10s for your Alaska Mission and 10s from my children for Gracie at Fort Wrangel.

I have read with much interest the Report on Home Missions and that on Church erection which you sent me.

Have just returned from Australia. Visited three of the colonies but spent most time in Queensland. It is a vast colony with a great future, I believe before it. Our church there is weak but is pushing its way with much energy. The cry there like the cry of your own church is "More laborers for the Lord's harvest."

I have just had a letter from Chalmers of New Guinea. He is now making collection for your Princeton cabinet. Shall I send it to Shearer's address at San Francisco?

The Lord bless you abundantly.

In haste,

Yours very sincerely,
Stuart Ross.

P.S. The gift for Gracie was intended to be applied to purchasing a Christmas gift for her, but I am afraid it will be too late. However Mrs. McFarland will know what to do with it.

BOARD OF HOME MISSIONS OF THE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.
New York, October 3, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:
Enclosed you will find check for $210 amount of collection for the day paid in by Mrs. Ham.
This includes $96, which was overlooked in the last account.
I came back about a week ago and have not been at all well. Trust you are having a good time.
Yours truly,
C. F. Davis.

Dear Mrs. Jackson:
I have returned from May Point where I have been "frosting" while* and I intend soon to get at the work in Alaska which Doctor Jackson is anxious I should proceed. I find in looking over the material he sent there is not nearly enough on the history and geography of the country to set the place so clearly in my mind that the work shall proceed successful. Will you kindly review that array of bookbacks bearing Alaska or in your husband's study and send me the names and no. of pages of those referring to the geography and history of that land and will you send me said names and inform me whether you would be quite willing to lend me by express at my charges, those books
I should need. I would return them in two weeks.
If you are not perfectly willing to let the books go from home, I can go to Montreal and copy out what notes I need but it would tire me a great deal and bore you. I hope the girls are enjoying their scholastic year and are quite well.
Very truly,
Julia McKim Wright.

Denver, Colorado.
October 12, 1882.

My dear Brother:
You are no doubt aware of the sale of our old church property in which you have so much personal interest and for which you did so much.
The sale was a good one and finally - $29,000. was the net realization. We purchased four lots corner of Lincoln and Capitol Avenue - right on the Capital Square - clearing 10 acres - and paid for the same $6,000.
We paid off the debt and old parsonage $4,500.
Our new church edifice, which will be an honor to our Denomination and of a style suited to the part of the town where we located will cost us $30000. about.

We are now short $10000. We must dedicate it free of debt. In fact the congregation voted to build only as we could raise the money.

But, as you know, our membership is small and poor, though willing.

The Baptists, the Christians and Brother Wells are all building and have for weeks been draining the city.

The interests of our Denomination and of our individual church require us to finish the building as soon as possible.

We have the best future of any church in town if we do not lose ground now. Our present membership will be decreased by the changes and new people will not be likely to come with us before we have a comfortable and attractive church building.

There are so many such in town. Now is the crisis. Can you not present our case in a quiet way to some liberal people, or Churches East.

A collection as donation however small will do us good.

Doctor Roberts knows the ground here in Denver, read him this letter and ask him to stir up some of the friends in the city.

You might induce John Hall to give us a collection. My acquaintance in New York is mainly with the Congregationalists. I have preached in Montclair and have several friends in the Presbyterian church. A word there might do good to us. I write to you because you know the past of this Church and can explain, and because such good works are in your line.

Yours sincerely,
R.E. Field.

WOMAN'S PRESBYTERIAN SOCIETY OF HOME MISSIONS.
Cincinnati, October 14, 1882.

Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Friend:

At our quarterly meeting, October 3, Miss Patterson of Glendale prepared a catechism of Home Missions. Many societies since have been asking for it. The President of one suggests we should have one published for use in our Societies.

We are convinced it would do great good. At the request of our President Mrs. Pyle, I write to ask you if you could not prepare such a catechism. My husband suggesting you were the best one to do it. That of Miss Patterson's would not do at all.

I enclose a copy of the one in the Foreign work. Hoping you may think favorably of the matter, I am

Sincerely yours,
Anna M. Folsom.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Brother:

1882 is nearly ended. Four plans submitted are largely ignored or are really forming for 1883 as a year plan for the Monthly Concert program. I suppose that too is largely developed but may I suggest that in your topics for 1883, the whole country be divided into parts, for consideration of the churches. Is not this whole land four distinct growth. Is not your spirit for land for Do not these Eastern fields need more attention at least more consideration. Are they not the feeders of the West, and will not the Western character be largely moulded by those who go from us here. This matter will have attention doubtless by Synods and the association but this might occur to be why not make the division by Synods. Therefore 23, 24, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 1882. January - Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, District of Columbia, Maryland, Southern States, August - Washington and Idaho, September - Montana and Dakota, October, Wyoming and Dakota, November, Arizona,
New Mexico, December - Indian Territory and Alaska.

In some way the different plans of work ought to be harmonized. Can it not be done, and if a division like the above were adopted might it not foster the work more ly in our own but in other churches. Might it not be wise to adopt such a division of our Home Field as could be followed by all churches and also by our Women's Missionary Societies. If for one month in each year the attention of all our different churches and associations could be concentrated on one field and each could learn what the other are doing, we might have a better understanding and more made. Would it not give us all encouragement in our work.

Trusting you will not be wearied with repeated communications from me I remain

Fraternally,

James A. Scott.

May I hear from you on this subject.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Portland, Oregon.

Dear Sir:

As you are aware of the interest I have taken in the question of missionary work in Alaska, I have taken the liberty of writing to you about the proposed Alaska Mission. I have known Mr. Mill, and also if you have looked into the proposition the transportation of goods from Alaska to the market, and the approximate cost per year for the mission. I have often sent from New York and the freight charges paid by the the proceeds of the sale of goods at the port of Seattle.

nation. If this is done at the ports of Portland and San Francisco much less capital is required than would otherwise be the case. I have asked these questions without any idea of troubling you to look around for the information but on the supposition that questions and many other things had claimed your attention at the time you first decided to plan the mill. I must confess I am still much interested in the idea of being a part mill proprietor and if from your further investigations, and practical experience, you would give advice and money which is put into the matter seriously you would gain a Missionary without the expense of supporting him.

A friend and myself could probably borrow four or five thousand dollars and with this for a beginning we might hope for a larger capital in the near future.

Hoping you are well and desiring that you should answer this only at your leisure, I am

Very respectfully yours,

Dear Sir:

I greatly regret the accident to your mill. Being unable to suit I secured a portion of my lumber elsewhere and have the house up and enclosed.

If you can supply me soon you may deliver to Mr. Alameda E. Austin, Nicksa.

10000 feet rough inch boards (if you can send good ones and close cedar at the same time I would prefer it).
5000 feet flooring tongue-and-grooved and planed.
1200 pieces 1 by 4 - 8 feet long or 600 pieces 1 by 4 10 feet for pickets.

You will please answer opposite the building and send the lumber ashore by raft, as we are a long distance from the wharf.

Send bill to me P.O. Box 1938, New York City, N.Y.

With kind regards to your family, I remain

Yours truly,

Edison Jackson.

When you get soiled you can fill orders promptly I will probably be ready to contract for another building at anytime.

Doctor Jackson,
Dear Sir:

Yours of September 8th just received. Our mail came 17th. Mr. Gould is here and the mail has gone. He is waiting until Mr. Young comes in November to form the Presbytery also looking after the home as Aunt has taken a flying visit up North. The school is in a prosperous condition; bids fair for good work this winter; the Indians are taking considerable interest at present. The powers of darkness are working hard but God's side is taking the lead I have been preaching some plain and practical truths from God's word and the truth seems to be hurting some of them, for instance I preached to the Parents on how to train their children and in the afternoon duty of children to Parents and at night some very close truths and you would scarcely believe if I should tell you who it hit the hardest. I know you will soon hear from it but don't be surprised for the Devil is hard at work here; for this has been one of his good quiet spots on earth. We are in the midst of a glorious revival and you know that is the time when he works the hardest; but thanks be unto our Dear Heavenly Father for his great love and mercy and kind protection or we would no doubt have been thrown down; but his word says if God be for us who can be against us. Very sorry to say that my dear Aunt is on the Devil's side. The opposite party tried to make me out crazy but my wife saw me in just such a time like this 6 years ago and it does not run in either side of my family to go that way. She went to Mr. Gould for protection. Was glad to see Mr. Chapman on his way to Moonah. Glad to hear that you are coming to Alaska for there are some things that need to be settled before Alaska can have a full outpouring of the Holy Spirit. Oh how I would like to see Mr. Young at home now so that I could give more time to our school. I teach singing every Monday night, that is I am teaching them the notes. Young men's prayer meeting Tuesday night, prayer meeting at the church Wednesday night, prayer meeting in one of the Indian houses in the Ranch Thursday night, young people's meeting Friday night, choir meeting Saturday evening. Held a Gospel meeting among the Chinese in the old cat in Frangel; about 40 more now waiting to go down on the steamer. My wife joins me in love to you and yours.

Very sincerely

Your brother in Christ,
John W. McFarland.

P.S. Hope you received the petition all right. Aunt had it in her possession one month before she told us. She said she kept it for consideration and had thought to say nothing about it until Mr. Gould wrote about receiving one like it and asked whether or not she was going to sign it.

SHELDON JACKSON INSTITUTE

Sitka, Alaska, October 26, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I shall have a chance to send this by the Corwin which is detained much longer than expected. Monday night the Favorite came in with Captain Vanderbilt and family. He reports that while the steam launch and whale boat were in the lagoon near Killisnoo, they shot at a whale the shell exploded prematurely killing an Indian doctor employed by the N.W.T. Co. who was in the boat. The other Indians who were fishing in the lagoon at the time seized the steam launch, whale boat, nets etc and made two white men prisoners. One of them wrote a note to Vanderbilt giving these facts and telling him that they wanted him to come there with the Favorite to settle the matter. They demanded two-hundred blankets for the doctor and the men who Captain Merriman was telling us about when he called on him. When once he thought he had settled removed his demand for 200 blankets with an additional 100 for interest. Captain Vanderbilt, fearing they wanted to capture the Favorite did not go to see them, but have sent them to Sitka. The Corwin Captain H., Captain Harrison (and the valiant collector of course) with a force of seventy marines and sailors started for the scene of the trouble; expect them back tomorrow or next day. The Russians employed on the Hons want an ten hours pay for eight hours work, so with the exception of two, Sherrigan and Chasoff, we let them go. Will keep the Valley boys, this week at the old rate, then let them go unless they will work at reduced rates. We have five Indians employed by the month. It has rained so hard that we have been greatly delayed in shingling. Some of the workmen, Walter among the number have been quite severely bruised by having the shingles blow in their faces. This will sound strange to anyone but yourself having had the pleasure of standing (on a run) from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M. on the ground in the wind and rain storm. We ran short of shingles and to-day have taken eighteen bundles (4500) belonging to Major Morris. Hope this will finish the roof. It will take one more clear day. Did you turn over the line to Messrs. Whitford etc? Did you have a barrel of yellow ochre? Did you have some paint brushes? Walter tells me that he heard you speak of the ochre and brushes. We do not find them. Will not have enough for paper and so we may get it sooner will order it through M. & S. We have that tree (six logs) at the saw mill. Had to tow it with our boat. Think I will get two trees more. The Russians have been gone for the Adams thirteen days and haven't a log in yet. We have a watch of the boys every night. Two of the boys were taken sick suddenly yesterday P.M. and Doctor Ayres of the Adams who had been visiting with us in the Hancha all the afternoon, would be a week after visiting then advising us to close the school until further notice. Think it must be something fever or small-pox. He has been visiting Mrs. Austin who is laid up with her eyes, is ordered to keep still, sit in a dark room and wear a shade bandage. He dry cups a side of her temple every day and gives her a poultice three times a day. Said he would not come to the house for a few days, which leads me think the children may have small-pox. Hope not, for it seems too bad to have to suspend the school for any length of time at this season of the year. While writing the other night October 24th, I had a sudden attack of feeling old, when it was announced that I was a grandfather. Mrs. Styles has a fine boy and she is doing well. Walter came and asked Mrs. Austin up, because the boy crossed twice. Did the Government instruct Doctor Teasdale to doctor the Indians free of cost? If not can you do anything to accomplish such a desirable result? If you can publish some notice of the kindness of Doctor Ayres and Curtis in doctoring the Indians and send them the paper containing the notice, I think it would be appreciated and do good in more ways than one.

October 30th. The Corwin has returned with Captain N. He revealed blunders from the Indians for taking the white men away from their work. They did not comply - said they would fight. He opened fire, destroying their houses and persons. This is a hard blow at one of their old customs and I think will do good. They say they are good Indians now and want a Missionary. Little Clara Willard is very sick with dysentery, a legacy of scarlet fever. Are putting up partitions on second floor, skimming finished except a portion of the Kind regards to all the family to you and yours.

Sincerely yours,
A.E. Austin.

Dear Sir:

I enclose herewith a check for $72.00 payable to the Treasury of the Presbyterian Home Mission Society, which I ask you to deliver to him, as his name has appeared from us. The money has been raised by the "Fragments" of my (Congregational) church in Rocky Hill, Conn., since last March. At that time I gave a little talk in Alaska from your book, and this money has been raised to support a pupil in the Methodist Home, Fort Gravel, Alaska. I am very glad to send this money from a Congregational Church, as it speaks of that good time when we shall look upon Mission work with less of denominational zeal and more of zeal for Christ. I am afraid the young people will be lack to another field next year, as notice has been served on them by the Women's Board that next year they must work for Congregational Missions. A children's society in East Hartford is raising money for the Home and I hope to send their contribution soon. I am very much interested in the "Home Missionary" and am glad that it leads to a new and I believe better way of presenting Missionary information. Please acknowledge this check, directing either here for a check or after that to Theological Seminary, Hartford, Connecticut.

My Dear Sir:

My wife became much interested in listening to your remarks on Alaska at Saratoga last summer and especially on her return home by meeting with an article having reference to the suffering of children in hospitals in that country, I believe.

Her death occurred in September and I have in hand from the sale of a finger ring of hers, fifty dollars which sum I should wish to be appropriated in the line of her preferences. Will you kindly take charge of the matter or direct me to the proper channel, thus oblige

Jackson (Sydney Mission), Alaska
November 6, 1882.

Dear Brother:

I left Wrangell on the following Monday after parting with you and arrived here safely after eight days travel. I delivered your message to Mr. Sprague and he said that it was impossible to fill your orders just now. But that he himself might send your father bill by the steamer. He was loading the Ocean Spray for Harrisburg and from there to San Francisco where she would remain until spring. They intend to keep the mill running until the water freezes. We hardly know what to do but think we will put up something the best that we can. Perhaps our prayers are sometimes answered before we are ready or prepared for them. I have obeyed your request in trying to make this a self-sustaining mission and have made myself many enemies by doing so. What would we do on earth without them? The prospects are favorable for a good winter's work here.

I hope you had a pleasant journey home. Remember us to those who are interested in us and keep us posted in things that are necessary.

Your brother in Christ,
J.R. Chapman.

P.S. The more I think about it the more I enjoy the idea of having a new Mission. I love pioneer Mission work.

Salem, Oregon.
November 8, 1912.

Dear Doctor Kendall:

Your letter of October 25, came yesterday and I hasten to reply to your questions. In regard to Byard, I have no doubt my last letter will be as full as you desire. The first was hurried and I thought I said it was to be followed by one much more in detail. I am glad Doctor Abernethy is back again safely. I was afraid staging through Southern Oregon would not prove a pleasant experience, but as he has got through safely, he will always have a source of comfort in the thought that he has escaped evil results - though sorely shaken up. Tell him he can sympathize with us in my 400 miles of staging to Boise City - even as I sympathized with him on that dark, stormy night I saw him off.

(1) As to Harlow - I fear he has made a mistake for at least two reasons. The climate is very unfavorable in Montana to say the least - that is our moist region.

(2) Helena cannot compare for a moment with Portland and the Second Church there will probably prove a hard and perplexing problem. From the way fine houses are going up in Omaha - in my judgment in two or three years it will be the best part of Portland - and the church there the strong church of the city. Of course, if he has gone we cannot get him - but whoever is in his ear, should be tire of 10 below zero we will give him a warm welcome in Oregon, especially if that $5000. comes with him.

(3) I said nothing about what was charged - but Presbytery refused his letter because of a direct charge made by a Methodist Minister. He charged P. with drinking, frequenting saloons and other bad places and consorting with the evil element in the town. Also with intending to establish an independent church. That truth there may be in the matter remains to be seen, but Presbytery thought the matter so serious that his letter was tabled and the charges sent to him for explanation. I am exceedingly sorry that anything of this sort should have occurred, but have no doubt Brother Pratt can satisfactorily explain everything. Because he labors under charges it is thought best for me to go there as soon as possible, spending some time with the vacant church at Boise, and as far as practicable exploring the field. Then in regard to going East. If I go at all I must spend some time from Idaho. The best time for me to go is when I can come to Boise from the Synod - and that is in January and February while travel is almost impossible and when the students are most approachable. I don't intend to double on my track, if I can go to the Seminaries but if the Board does not think the expenses justifiable, I then shall at once get back to headquarters on the Columbia. We need so many men, I fear we shall be left largely unsupplied if the Seminaries are not canvassed soon for Oregon is far off. (3) How many men will we need? You are right in saying more than we can get - but we must have new men for our fields. With some of them, it is now or never. Baker City, Boise City, La Grande, Moscow, Sprague, North Portland, Oakland, Coos Bay, Knappton, Seattle(?) Albina, Ilwaco, Union Ridge and six or seven other fields must be supplied and men must come from the East.

(4) Organized, November 5th, church at Oakland, Oregon, with 11 members, five(5) on confession of faith. Brother Smick assisted. (5) Lebanon wants Reverend Samuel Pettigrew and is well pleased with him. (6) Brother May will take Vancouver in place of Gardiner I think. He is on the way - and I have written to him suggesting Vancouver - at least for a time. How would he do for Seattle when Bird flits?

Regards to all in the office - Doctor H. H. Bates and Boyd and Doctor J.

Faithfully,
Robert W. Hill.

Salem, November 10, 1881.

Dear Brother Jackson:

I have been so hurried of late that I had almost forgotten my letter to you, but before getting away on my journey to Idaho, I must fulfill my promise. I have just been writing to Alaska, and that reminds me that Morris wrote a whole lot of stuff to Rehalise which made B. feel angry at me. For the sake of peace, I wrote a letter to Alaska embodying the substance of the counsel I gave to the brethren and that made him feel all right again. I can use him here, and for that reason I am willing to try and keep him in a good humor. So also we can make use of him in Alaska, and it is always better to have a man's friendship than his enmity. I am sure you are glad to get back to New York, and I wish I were there with you.

Those pictures of the old Institute, I sent back East to my wife and she is very much pleased with them. The Evangelist has been publishing my letters on Alaska and has also kindly sent me a little bill of $9.00 for three years subscription. I wish when you are around that way you will straighten the thing up. The paper ought to pay me a reasonable sum for my correspondence. You came near catching it in Synod, but I finally killed the matter. E. S. Condit said some think I am a Jackson man. I told him I intend to be one, as against Doctor Lindeley, whereat he was astonished. I hope to see you this winter in the East, if the Board will let me go to the seminaries.

Regards to all at 23 Centre Street.

Yours fraternally,
R.W.Hill.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

October steamer left our goods, mail and all at Klawock. Purdy is coming down at heavy expense and no little risk. Mr. Chapman is here. Captain Sprague could do nothing for him in the way of lumber and it is now too late for you to help us more this year. So it is better for us to go on with the plan for temporary house which, for one reason, may be better, affording an opportunity to take observations for a year may help decide the perplexing question of where to build. I have staked off part of our claim at Purdy's end of the town, at the other end is a position with some advantages and it may be well in time to cover both. School and church increase both in numbers and interest. We have had funerals, feasts and reconciliations since you were here, today peace and harmony reign but are about as certain as Alaska weather. Believe I wrote to you of the danger of a Catholic diversion in the direction of Klingsman and that I had encouraged Purdy to take charge of the salmon stream and erect buildings, which he is doing. Under the circumstances, I think it is important to us for the Northwest Territory Company to hold this post as their headquarters, to be here, another company might centre elsewhere. Suppose you met Captain Town who has talked of locating at Klingsman.

Mr. Purdy is anxious to get his wife here early in the Spring and we are also for his sake, her's and that of the Mission. She is not used to travel and we thought you might chance to know of someone crossing to San Francisco in February of March and know you would take pleasure in arranging company for her. (Mrs. F.A. Purdy, Southwick, Conn.)

She has one child two years old. The Northwest Trading Co. will likely send a steamer here in April, 83.

The "Bell" and the organ are on duty and help vastly.

A small blacksmith's forge with anvil and a few light tools could be made very useful to the Mission and the natives and $100 so invested would be a good Mission contribution for some one of means. Nothing better for these people than industry. They will become skillful; they will greatly need tools. A small smithshop would help very much in this direction.

All join in love and blessings for Doctor Jackson.

Yours for the Work,
J. Lewis Gould.

Mrs. Joseph White:

Dear Friend:

I presume you may think a little as to what has detained Mr. McKee from sending the contribution taken in our church as it may be possible that no one has written you.

First. There was a little taken by subscription and was not paid immediately. I also received some additions this week so that the whole will amount to over $25 I think.

Second. We thought as a session we should in the circumstances give the money into the hands of the Treasurer of our ladies M. Society as the meeting had been called by them. They have talked over the matter and desire to do what seemed most desirable in the circumstances. They have determined (and I think wisely) to write Mrs. Haines and learn whether the N.M.S. wish the contribution sent through Mrs. Boyd and to make sure if they do send it there that it shall reach you, or Doctor Jackson. If they are willing to send immediately to you the Treasurer of our Society will do so. But they will not send the money through Mr. H. unless they guarantee the money being given to proper object. So in due time all will be well - and be assured that they are not taking this course out of any want of confidence in you but simply out of a respect they deem due to the Board.

Hoping this may prove satisfactory and that you may meet with large success in your good work.

With kind regards, I am

Truly yours in Christ,
James P. Irwin.

U.S.S. Wachusette, Fort Wrangel
November 14, 1882.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

I have received your different notes in due course and am here at Wrangel in pursuance of my plan to visit all the Indian tribes at intervals. While at Sitka, I did all I could to assist Mr. Austin in the work he has in hand now and I hope successfully. I have done what was in my power to assist the Missionary teacher at Soonyah and shall do also do what I can at Chilkat which place I will soon visit in this ship. The work is a noble one and one in which my earnest man may well be proud to engage and it shall have all the support I can give it, consistently with my Naval duties.

Now as to affairs at this place, I find upon careful enquiry, that no necessity exists for the establishment of a permanent force on shore at this place and the employment of natives as policemen and especially in this the case as I intend to visit this place frequently during this winter in the Wachusette. This course will be, by far, the most effective in checking disorders. I am not inclined to, at once, put any system of compulsory education into effect at this place as my personal attention could not be given to it as was the case at Sitka, and I do not feel that such an authority is one I would like to delegate to another. At Sitka, I have been enabled to do this, to a certain extent only, and then simply because the system was established and conducted for a period long enough to establish its efficacy by myself. You will appreciate my position in this I am confident.

I must speak very frankly about one of your agents in the Territory, Mr. Young in this place. I came back to Alaska with no friendly feelings towards him as you know, but certainly intended to cooperate with him as far as possible. This I am not able to do and I think it simply just to you and the Board of Missions to say that I consider Mr. Young as in every way unfit for the position he holds and a possible source of injury to Missionary effort in Alaska. And this, not only from my personal observation but from the testimony of others. You will remember my position towards him in the scandalous attack that was made upon Miss Austin and that I expressed freely to you my opinion as I had come to himself. I supposed I would not again hear anything more from that matter, but I was scarcely in command, but I was scarcely in command of this vessel when I was shown by Mr. Austin a long letter from Mr. Young, which I advised him strongly not to answer but to send to you without comment.

It was in my opinion a tissue of hypothetical protestations veiling thinly a threat towards Mr. Austin and his family in exact keeping with the character of its author as I understand it.

Pardon my speaking so plainly of a member of your church and one engaged in the same work with which you are so nobly connected but I cannot do less than express my honest feelings of indignation at the utter meanness and unworthiness of this man.

Trusting to hear from freely at all times and assuring you of my earnest desire to assist in the noble work you have so successfully inaugurated in this Territory, I remain

Sincerely your friend,
Henry Glass.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Galesburg, Illinois.

P.S. I forgot to say that at Atoka, I called upon the Collector of Customs in reference to the formal transfer of the Hospital building to the Board of Missions. To my surprise and gratification he at once read me a letter he had just written to the Secretary of the Treasury urging its transfer at once as in the interests of the government and of this territory. As Mr. Herr, the special Agent of the Treasury in this District assured me he would do the same, I have no doubt our success and I congratulate you heartily upon it. As I had previously reported to the Navy Department all my connection with the Mission House, I have not considered it necessary to write directly to the Secretary of the Treasury. Besides official courtesy to another official of the government dictates this course.

Spencer Orphan School,
Becksville, I.T.
November 14, 1882.

Miss H.J. Harrison,
Dear Friend:

Yours of the 18th ult, came last week. I am not able to answer it now but will do so just as soon as possible. I have been very sick since I wrote last. I am now on the mend decidedly but I am still weak and confined to my room. My main trouble has been the chills and fever.

Early in October, I went to Galde and Atoka on business for the O. School and to get my own trunk and other things. I was sick at Atoka and Galde but kept a going and tried to get back to Spencer before I should give up. I only got to Brother Lloyd's. There I lay sick two weeks. As soon as I was able (sooner, I fear) I started for Spencer and was laid down again for two days after I reached here. I have been more sick here than at Brother Lloyd's. Indeed, I have been very sick. I am now undoubtedly better but still weak and confined to my room. I suppose my sickness is due to overwork. But you know that overwork is a necessity here. The new folks have been exceedingly kind to me. It is wonderful how kindly the Lord has cared for me.

You can refer Mr. Boyd to me. Your letter of dismission I will procure as soon as I can. I am not yet Pastor of Spencer myself. Doctor Hobbs is back. Brother Edwards and Clara are certainly coming. The day is surely dawning on the Choctaws.

The Freedmen's Board have adopted my school on Clear Creek. The Orphan School is in operation and so is Spencer Academy in its grand edifice. Far too grand for me; I don't like the plan of the building at all nor the location. I much prefer old Spencer. But I must stop or I may bring on a relapse. Write as soon as you get this and ask all the questions you can think of and I will do my best to answer them all.

Kindest regards to and family and also to your Aunt Ramsay. I don't think I have met with your Hohnsburg brother.

As ever,

Yours very truly,
Alexander Reed.

SHELDON JACKSON INSTITUTE.
Sitka, Alaska, Nov. 25, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

The steamer came in yesterday P.M. and commenced to discharge her freight this morning. She leaves to-morrow morning at 8 o'clock giving us no time to write.

 We have been working all day, and by moonlight tonight. It is so slippery in the street that we could not use the as we expected to but have packed some of it and carried some of it one boat. I went to see Captain Carroll on his arrival and he said he would let me have it in the scow.
 The first thing in the morning they commenced to throw our lumber on the wharf. Told them what the Captain said but the Captain could not be found and they would not wait. Mr.
 Sprague said we would have to pay wharfage and way. Had no money to pay freight and Mr. Sprague would not send the bill to the Board and wait for it, and it is going on seven months since I received any part of my salary. I ran around before breakfast until I had the sick-headache trying to arrange the matter. Mr. Downey the purser finally agreed to accept a sight draft on the Treasurer of the Board, although this makes him responsible to the steamship Co. for the amount. I have given him a sight draft on the Treasurer for $297.65 which I hope will be promptly paid, on Mr. Downey's account. Messrs Whitford and Brady had a large freight and scow at the wharf to receive it that it was landed on the wharf. Messrs Whitford and Brady were having a big row but I do not know how they settled the matter. Will try to carry out your instructions and suggestions as far as possible. I think I wrote to you by the Carvin that the Russians would not submit to a reduction of wages, where we had to work eight hours instead of ten on account of the short days and that I let them go. I have American and three Indians at present. We have the roof on and the windows in.
 Two porches are ready to shingle; the front one and the one on the end this way. Double partitions on all the rooms in front on both stories and the hall up stairs. Three of the chimneys up and we have fixed the beams on which the second floor will rest that were broken. Jake and all the larger boys have cut and towed in a raft of logs and they are now being sawed into boards at the mill here. You will see that the steamer is very late this month, so that it has not made a particle of difference, on account of the Russians leaving us. We are ready for the flooring and partitioned have done more of the work ourselves. Hope we shall be able to open our school the first of December closed by request of Doctor Ayres, on account of scarlet fever breaking out in W. Paley's family. Think it would be well to publish in our paper that we need larger and continuous supplies of bedding and clothing now, as we expect to greatly increase the number of scholars. The destruction of our house and the sickness among the Indians has greatly retarded the work and now that we have a new home provided for us by our friends, for which we can never thank them enough, we do hope we shall not be crippled for means to push the work vigorously. A thousand thanks from Mrs. Austin and myself for the nice let-of furniture. It was a great surprise. I shall need money to pay the men as soon as possible. Will keep bills from

V. and S. until I find the goods are all here.

Love to all, from all.

Your tired brother,
A.M. Austin.

P.S. The Doctor will not allow Mrs. Austin to read, write or go near the stove on account of her eyes.

My kindest regards to Mrs. Palmer. I have her letters but cannot answer tonight. Have thirty one letters and Mrs.
Austin has twenty-five by this mail which is impossible to answer. Have four large boxes for the home and a large sum bag of packages by mail, have not had time to open them.

Dear friends, love Pitty and Pauline.

Mrs. Willard and little ones are doing well.

O dear Helen, please put my name on the pay roll.

Glendale, Wis., December 18, 1892.

My dear Doctor Jackson:

Mrs. E. Palmer of Glendale writes me last week of your request for a copy of my Song Mission Catechism. It was so seemed impossible for me to find leisure to copy it - but I will try to do so as soon as possible. When it will be at your service. Hope to do so by middle of next week if that time will answer and send to you

Yours very respectfully,
Alice C. Patterson.

Pima Agency, Casa Grande, P.O.
Arizona, Nov. 28, 1892

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

I do not know whether you are aware that Agent Wheeler absconded September 24, and that a new Agent, a Mr. Jackson of Nebraska is now with us. Mr. and Mrs.
Terry are faithful teachers and have been a help to us.
They also have the respect and confidence of the Indians.

The enclosed letter will inform you of what I wish to call to your attention. Having been treated similarly, I can sympathize with them. Mr. Terry has been informed by the new Agent that he could not stay longer than December 10th and that there were no charges against him.

I think we owe it to the Indians and to our work to endeavor to have them retained and I thought, if you consider it best, you might send the enclosed letter, with a few lines additional, it might have the desired effect.

The 1st Presbyterian Church of Elmore has sent us a very valuable box of clothing, etc., surprising us greatly. Our work is in very good shape at present and I will write to you more before long.

My wife joins me in best regards to you and Sister Jackson.

Respectfully,

E.F. Cook.

Our new agent and clerk are not Christians. The Agent claims Methodist parentage.

Holmesburg, Philadelphia.

November 22, 1883.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear brother:

Many, many thanks for yours and Mrs. Jackson's kind invitations to visit you, which was received this morning via Rockbridge Bridge, Va.

I should be delighted to see you both and perhaps it may be in my power to do so soon. I will enclose a letter from Mr. Reid at old S.A. received this morning. Hope it will make up for lack of interest in mine.

Feeling confident of of his opinion of myself as a recent worker in the Mission (as well as of older time) I referred the ladies (Mrs. D.E. James and Mrs. L.E. V. James who had written me on the subject to Reverend A. Reid but seems the Committee disregard the opinion of my fellow and the secretary whom I labored under for the last nine years. Mr. Reid had not been there quite a year when I left the Station but he very well knows the mind of the people and my associates in the work, in regard to myself every way, and who could be better authority.

But it is all right if the Master has any more work for me in this line. He will open the door and make the way plain.

Did you see my letter to Mrs. James in answer to hers for testimonials and references.

Their reply was "There is no position which we can offer you at present as we have no situation for a matron now." Saying at the close "I trust some way may be opened for you at some future time."

Much love to Mrs. Jackson. I should love to hear from you and from her.

Yours with sincere regard and interest in your work which I love to hear more of.

Affectionately,

E.F. Morrison.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson
Dear Sir:

This evening our Sabbath School had Thanks giving service in the Church at the close of which we took collection which amounted to $12.00.

It was taken for Missionary work in Alaska and for the Boat-project for Reverend Mr. and Mrs. Willard. Will you please see that this small contribution on the part of our children will go to its proper destination. We would like you to give credit to us for it at Board of Home Missions, Sunday School of the Presbyterian Church of Eldersburg, Erie Presbytery, Pa.

Will you please send us receipt on the receipt of this money so that the Superintendent can tell the Sunday School December 10, 1882.

Yours ec/.,
R.O. Williams (Pastor).

CUSTOM HOUSE

Collector's Office, Sitka.
November 26, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I have just returned from Sitka, where I read the instructions received by Morris from the Treasury Department relating to the charges made by Lieutenant Benson and others. From the tenor of these despatches, I judge that Morris' retention in office is contingent upon his making a satisfactory defence and this he has failed to do in his reply. He has also committed a most serious blunder in bringing upon Captain Herriman the destruction of the Indian village at Killisnoe if that transaction comes to be officially investigated, it will be shown that the Indians had given no sufficient provocation for the severe punishment that was inflicted upon them. The family of the man who was killed had a fair claim for compensation which would have been awarded to them by any court in the United States. If the case had been referred to me, I should have insisted upon the company paying the Indians a reasonable sum and they say (the Indians) they would have been satisfied with $100.

I examined one of the two men who were detained by the Indians; he assured me that the Indians used no violence and threatened none. They simply told them that they would not be permitted to return to the works or to take the steam launch back until some compensation should be made, the steam launch was run upon the beach and returned uninjured.

The wanton destruction of the Indian houses and canoes is condemned by everyone here, except by that class of white men whose creed is summed in the words "That Indians have no rights which a white man is bound to respect."

The Indians of Southwest Alaska, particularly the Indians of Wrangel were beginning to have faith in the justice and equity of the better class of the white residents, particularly of the Missionaries and I think I am justified of the official representation of the Government at this place and this violent action of savagism is such an unprovoked and unwise departure from the policy which has been attended with such solid and good results at Wrangel that I am sure its effects upon the Indians will be the reverse of salutary.

If you shall find by inquiry that Harris' removal is determined upon, I hope you will kindly present my claim for appointment to the vacated office. I am willing to rest there upon my encouragement of this office, in which I believe I may venture to say I have carried the respect of the Indians, and of those white residents whose good opinion is worth possessing.

Believe me, dear Doctor,

Very truly yours,

I. B. Sanford.

Mrs. M. E. Boyd, Treasurer,

Dear Madam:

I enclose check for seventy-five dollars being salary for fourth quarter of 1882, for Mrs. Style our Missionary in Alaska. Please acknowledge receipt. Although we have paid three hundred dollars during the year for account of Mrs. Style, we have never received a single written word from her nor anyone about the field of labor. I am not sure that the Teachers will be willing to continue this arrangement for 1883.

Dear Sir:

I want to say to you that if anything had been omitted or misstated or any little addition was needed, in that manuscript that I could be glad if you should let me know and by sending me the page that needed alteration I could set it right. I want it a fair strong statement, just to all and calculated to arouse interest in Home Missions and especially in your favorite field. I would like a little dedication to you as the prime Alaska worker on the first page, if they will put it in.

Very truly,

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Sir:

Yours at hand, I will read proof and send to you if I know where to catch you, and they will hold proof so long. I saw Doctor by accident yesterday but did not enter into conversation about the book. I like him, but you know I told you if it went to the P.R.P., I could have nothing to do with the business arrangements as I did not like some of their ways. You know I said I could only take it up on being assured it would be issued and at not less than $250. I told Doctor B. yesterday that it was your judgment I relied on as to a Home Mission book as I thought you knew that field better than others. Mrs. Newkirk hopes you will be in Philadelphia and preach and call and see her. If you could preach in Mr. Newkirk's church I could hear you; it is not far from here. I did not think perhaps to mention that I have been obliged to come to town on account of my health, and shall be here I suppose unless obliged to go farther South. Regards to your family.

Very truly,
Julia McFair Wright.

Newcastle, Pa.
December 1, 1881.

Mrs. F. M. H. Haines,
Dear Friend:

Your kind letter received to-day. It is indeed true that a lovely and loving daughter, almost eighteen has been called from our home, but we sorrow not as those who have no hope. Having made a profession of her faith in the Saviour at the age of eleven, she has gradually been growing in conformity to His image and likeness for the better world.

From the effect of rheumatism of the heart, some years ago, she was not strong yet was very bright and enjoyed life and was hopeful of the future. At the Master's call, she gave up all without a murmur and a week of patient suffering the warm embrace, the goodnight kiss and leaving a message of love for the absent ones, she closed her eyes and calmly awaited the approach of the messenger with whom, after fifteen minutes perfect rest, she departed without the moving of a muscle. Thanks be to God, we were able to say "Thy will be done."

We had a letter from Mr. Willard two weeks ago saying little Carrie had Crick's disease of the kidneys. Two physicians from the vessels were in attendance, her case being very critical. Another cork almost lungs over them. We wait impatiently the next report.

From a few addresses is a letter received from Mrs. Bryan of Allegheny, I have been led to fear there might exist some misunderstanding in regard to the part Doctor Jackson has taken in the boat enterprise and for this reason, hope you will bear with me while I try to explain.

The appeal, was made to me individually, by my children because, as they said, they could not ask the Board, in its already overburdened condition, to provide this for them. The money was to be sent to Mr. Willard, as he used by him, according to his judgment and wisdom. After pledging $100 I appealed to "Mission Lovers," through the papers, for aid in raising six hundred dollars - the sum thought requisite and believing Doctor Jackson to have the confidence of the people, requested the money to be sent to him and a report to me, of the amount. One report of $500 has been received while many were varying from $100 to 50 cents and aggregating $136.55 not including $25. from Duluth sent to the Board and $250. in the hands of others, subject to order when needed. Mr. Willard has expressed his willingness to have Doctor Jackson act as agent in the matter of purchase the opinion of the latter being that it will take from 1500 to 2000 unless the Government launch can be had, since writing you before, the sum advanced has been more than made up.

All the churches in which I have been invited to talk have been very liberal although it was expressly stated that for the present, no credit would be given by the Board.

I hope you will be satisfied that no blame can be attached to Doctor Jackson for acting in an individual capacity. We are all working for the same great end and all will be well in the end.

yours in Christian love,
Mrs. Joseph White.

Newcastle, Pa.
December 1, 1882.

Doctor Sheldon Jackson:
Dear Brother:

Your welcome letter was duly received. Absence from home, together with sickness, prevented a prompt reply. Mrs. Willard's letters have also been received.

Our daughter, Mrs. McClintock, Cary Ave., Chelsea, Boston was at home when your letter came and seeing that my time was so much occupied in working for the Boat and Home, she very kindly proposed to assume the work of answering the letters. Our son, Joseph P., who is spending this year in Howard University will assist. Three weeks ago last night, a loving and lovely daughter (Ada) whose hand and pen were my helpers - was removed from our circle - as we believe to the higher and holier enjoyment and employments on high. She was almost eighteen, the counterpart, in many respects of Mrs. Willard.

A letter from Mr. Willard two weeks ago, brought the sad news that little Connie was very sick having Bright's disease of the kidneys. Two physicians were in attendance from the steamer, one of them having been in attendance five times at the time of writing. Another dark cloud was hanging over them.

The boat enterprise is gaining in interest among the churches. I have been asked to address four meetings on the subject, including the Allegheny and Pitt Presbyterian Society. The amount received and reported aggregate $637.45 with prospects of considerable more.

In order to carry out the first suggestion of Mr. Willard this matter - as you are aware - has been carried on entirely independently of the Board and all contributions have been made with that understanding. Mrs. Crawford having been invited to accompany me to Poland, previously corresponded with Mrs. Haines in regard to the collection to be taken for the Boat and publicly and privately exerted her influence to have it go to the Board, and succeeded in creating a division in Church, some wishing to adhere to their first purpose and others to act in accordance with her instructions. To settle the difficulty, I have advised sending it to the Board, subject to your orders, which I suppose will be done. I have no objection to this mode in any case, and no personal interest in doing otherwise - as the money advanced is more than made up - but until I hear from Mr. Willard, do not feel free to act in that way, of course, the Board will in the end have the credit, as well as the advantage, and perhaps own and control as well. Of the amount solicited, Mrs. Ham, of Brooklyn, reports $100 and Mrs. Kate Bryson, Allegheny $175., which will be held subject to order when needed, as well as the amount in my hand. Please let me know how you regard the arrangement and give your advice as well as opinion.

Do hope you will be able to get the steam launch spoken of, and also hope that your action as Agent in the matter will not be misunderstood by the members of the Board of Home Mission, in the whole matter, while it has been managed independently, is one of the necessities in the maintenance of the Mission.

I shall be glad to hear from you at any time. In reference to the letters you will please confer with our daughter.

Yours in Christian love

Dear Sir:

To relieve my mother from the task of writing my Sister's - Mrs. Willard's - letters, I brought them home with me and would like to ask a few instructions from you.

1st. Shall I include any of Mr. Willard's?

2d. Shall I rewrite any of those already published in leaflet form.

3rd. Shall I include any part referring to the T.W.T. Company or Mrs. D. especially.

4th. When would you like to have them sent in to you?

Sincerely yours,

Mrs. A. B. Peckintock.

Please give me as full advice as you can. I will be greatly obliged.

Chelsea, Mass., December 2, 1882

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

Your favors of the 4th instant are with me and prove to be part of the needed ones.

What shall I do with the selected matter when I am through the work. If I am favored as to time, the coming week as I have been the past. I hope to finish them.

My aim has been to remove, as far as I could judge, objectionable parts, and to arrange the dates in order. In doing this, I have altered the construction of some sentences but not the idea, and corrected some words.

I have no doubt there is much more could be done by more competent. As it is, many pages are a sight to behold. I almost hesitate about letting them go out of my hands so, and would not do so if I could have the time to re-write them.

I will be so glad to see you here and hope you will not hesitate to offer me all hints you may see necessary.

I received a letter from my mother yesterday, regretting that she will not be able to come to us this winter.

Hoping to see you before long and thanking you for your kindness, I am

Reverend Sheldon Jackson:
My dear friends:

I was glad to see by the Presbyterian of last week that you had returned from Alaska. I hope you are well as also your dear family, to whom remember me most affectionately. Tell Mrs. Jackson she has Nellie's warmest sympathy during your absence. She had a delightful letter from Mrs. Voorhees written just before your return in which she said she contemplated a visit to "Mont Carlo" I presume she yet get there. At the next meeting of our Presbyterian Society which comes off next Thursday the 14th the proposition will be made to take up a child and support her. I write to ask you if you think there is any other object to which in your judgment we had better give our money. You have been on the ground so recently that you might possibly think it would be better to aid some other object. Please let me hear from you as early as possible and send something in your letter to invite the interest of the ladies. I tell you, Denver, it is a hill work to push our Society along.

Yours to hear from you soon, I remain in great haste

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
My dear Brother:

The manuscript on Alaska has just reached me, and I am glad to get it, for we want books on the Home Mission field and work. I trust the work will prove available for use by us.

Your monthly "Home Missionary" looks and reads remarkably well.

With kind regards,
John F. Dallen.

Doctor Jackson:

My dear Sir:

I herewith enclose a draft for $47.00 payable to your Treasurer, Mr. E. A. Eaton, for the McFarland Home in Alaska.

$40.00 of the amount was raised by the "Merry gleaners of Hockanum, Ct., to whose Treasurer (Miss Lettie F. Strong of Hockanum) you will please send a receipt for that amount and any note of recognition, such as your time allows.

The sum is the fruit of your book as I repeated it to them, and of hard labor on their part. The other $7.00 was raised among the students of the academy. Can you still send the letter you spoke of, to Mrs. C. E. Buckland, of Rocky Hill, Ct. (President of the Society which recently sent you $90.00 for Alaska.)

Very truly yours,
Robert F. Jervick.

Dear Sir:

Referring to our conversation with you before you proceeded to Washington, we would be pleased to hear from you whether or not you presented our case to the Post Office Department and if so, with what success and any other particulars that may be of interest.

Yours truly,

PAIDMASTER'S OFFICE.
Washington, D.C., Dec. 16, 1902.

Reverend Doctor Jackson:
Dear Sir:

I have remitted this day through H. Newhall to the Treasurer, Board of Home Missions, the sum of seventy-five dollars which sum is for use in the schools of Alaska. It comes from the St. Math School Missionary Society of the Assembly Presbyterian Church, Washington, D.C. and they are anxious to have it applied to some school in such manner that they may have from it and learn of the school's further needs. They also desire that sending it through the Board shall not operate to diminish the amount you would otherwise receive from that source. We are all much interested in your account of the Alaska field when you were here and hope you will find time to write us concerning your labors there.

We find that having some definite object in view and to accomplish double the amount of work. Labor and self-denial is the basis on which the society is organized and thus far it has worked handsomely, but we need the additional stimulus of some specific object to work for. Whether that object shall be some object in Alaska will depend on the action of the Society after having heard from you. Let us then hope to be favored with a reply at your earliest convenience.

In haste, F.F. Willis, Secretary.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

To say that I was not disappointed, or did not regret having so little time with you, would be far from correct. I had so many things to ask concerning my sister and some I should like to have inquired about, touching the work my mother has devoted so much of her time and strength upon but I only thought you had been hindered beyond your control, and am glad to be confirmed in it by your kind explanation.

Many thanks for the enclosed letters, also pamphlets. The enclosed one I return, as I already have it copied.

I have written home requesting a photo to be forwarded to you. Wishing you success in all your efforts in the Father's service.

I am

Sincerely yours,
Eva S. McFlinstock.

THE AMERICAN BAPTIST HOME MISSION SOCIETY.
New York, December 20, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,
23 Centre Street,

My dear Brother:

I wrote Messrs. Dodd, Mead some time ago asking if they would favor our Home Missionary Monthly with two or three electrodes of views in Alaska as published in your book. I have not heard from him and take the liberty of asking if you cannot arrange the matter for us. Of course we should pay the expense of electrotyping and make a proper acknowledgment and notice of your book.

We have an article on Alaska for the January Monthly by Doctor Brackett, noting the success of your school work in the Territory.

Hoping to hear from you soon,

Yours very truly,
H.L. Marshman.

Las Vegas, December 21, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson,
Dear Brother:

I am just returning from visiting some of our churches and schools on the other side of the range.

I passed through Santa Fe on my return. Doctor Thomas there told me that the Government was going to change the Agency of the Pueblo of New Mexico and give it to a Roman Catholic.

He mentioned that you were going to Washington to oppose the change. If so, it seems to me that my brother Hon. Wm.A. Phillips of Kansas can be of service to you, and I have written to him that if you call on him to do me the favor to aid you in all he can.

I earnestly hope that no such change will be made.

Yours fraternally,
Maxwell Phillips.

Boston, December 21, 1882.

Dear Brother Jackson:

Enclosed is a list of subscribers from my church. Would that they were more! The collection of $101.00 will be forwarded in a day or two. The ladies of my church are preparing for active Mission work. The meeting for January 21st is to be pushed. I hope that you will preach for me in the evening on the work upon the Mormons. Again let me thank you for your great kindness in coming to us and for the good that you did us.

With kind regards to Mrs. Jackson,

Yours sincerely,

Rev. Amos A. Phelps, Jr.

ALBUQUERQUE INDIAN SCHOOL,
Albuquerque, New Mexico,
December 22, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

My dear Sir:

Your letter of the 15th inst received received yesterday. I am very much obliged to you for your trouble.

Our affairs in Washington are as I understand in this condition: The money was appropriated in bulk for Indian schools and Secretary Teller has not yet divided it.

Now of course I want as much money as possible expended here and any influence you can bring to bear I certainly hope that you will exercise it. I think we should have accommodations for 300 children. There are 10000 children among the Indians of Arizona and New Mexico and I feel pretty sure that I could have 300 of them if I had a place for them. In order that the money may go as far as possible I would suggest that two story porch buildings be erected, the walls finished alike on both sides as well as to have plastering and also give time. I think there should be at least 4 distinct buildings a school house, a girl's dormitory, a boys dormitory and a dining room with kitchen, storeroom, laundry and bakery attached. If you think it advisable I will draw out a plan exhibiting my ideas of the needs of the school. I think the dormitories should be two stories the 1st story to be divided into teachers' rooms, storerooms sitting rooms, hall-rooms and work-shops - the second story into small bed-rooms suitable for 2 or 4 boys each, they should be at least 10 feet deep and 8 feet wide. The school room should contain a room larger enough for all the pupils to have desk room and connected with it should be at least 8 class rooms.

The dining room is an important building - there should be plenty of room for the kitchen and the laundry; a portion of this building should be two stories to provide sleeping accommodations for the kitchen help.

If the Government is in earnest in this matter of Indian education they can show it in no better way than by putting in a good deal of money in this school. We have the position here and the opportunity to make a good school and we simply ask for the proper tools to work it.

I am also afraid that some architect connected with the Department will try his hand at a building for us and give us as bad a job as they are wrestling with at the Navajo agency. Perhaps a special appropriation could be obtained - we could spend at least $100,000 to good advantage.

Yours very truly,
A.B.V. Bryan.

Portland, Oregon.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Brother:

Inclosed please find statement of account which you will doubtless understand. If not plain to you let us know.

I received letter from Mr. Gilbert last month saying his report from Washington would not allow him to sell the steam launch of which we spoke, when you were here. I send you copy of letter from Men. F. G. Stevens, of Seattle about a small steamer there. I fear price $1800. will be too much and I fear steamer is larger than needed.

I have written him asking if he will take $1500. Have also written Mr. Gilbert to examine her and report to me his conclusions as to her fitness and worth. I am busy as usual.

Respectfully yours,

William Wadsworth.

Boulder, Colorado.

December 16, 1882.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

I write to know if you have found those articles of incorporation of the "University of Colorado" or whatever it was then named. If you can lay your hands on those papers, please send them to me as soon as possible. We shall want to use them at the time of the Session of the Legislature in January.

As to passes over the D. & R. G. Ry, you spoke of my finding some one in Washington who had influence with General Palmer. I do not know any one. Could you do anything at Washington when next your work takes you there? Possibly you might do more than any one else. Can I ask you to try the next time you are in Washington? I have written to Mrs. Belford, and gotten Mrs. Van-Doren of Boulder, an intimate friend of us both, to do the same regarding those stage passes.

I have been stirring up the churches of Colorado about their subscriptions to Presbyterian Home Missions and shall continue to do so, till the list is somewhat larger. I have written personally to nearly every church on the matter. I hope it will result well.

With thanks to you for your past suggestions as to the better conduct of my work, and with kindest regards especially at this joyous season of the year to you and yours, I am

Very truly yours,

John C. Reid.

Doctor Jackson:

Dear Sir:

We find considerable difficulty in collecting the letters which have been loaned for publication to different papers. Two I know are missing, since I remember having read them. The first written at Ricks, the other containing the account of some ride, on their first tour, hailing the water out etc. Was this second the first published in the Presbyterian Home Missionist?

I am sorry to trouble you about them, but do not know what better I can do.

The enclosed letter I return as I have a duplicate; the other takes the place of one we could not recover in the original.

If I knew about the date of your visit East, I would see if we could not have Father's and mother's visit coincide with yours. I know they would be very much pleased to see you in their own home but if that is doubtful, this might be the next best plan. I have just finished reading a home letter from Sister Carrie dated November 25th - they have not yet received word of dear Sister Addie's death.

Again thanking you for your kindness, I am

Sincerely,

Eva D.M. Westcott.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR.

Santa Fe, December 28, 1882.

Charles Jackson, D.D.,

Dear Friend:

Yours of the 14th inst was received. If that bill of mine has got to make trouble to any one, please let it rest. Thanks for the copies of Delgado Lugo's letter. I suppose the short one will be published if either and it is best so, because the first part of the other depends upon a former letter somewhat for its point.

I wrote Doctor Randall the other day about the prospects of this Agency going entirely to Catholics. Secretary Teller intimates that he may have to transfer me and appoint a Catholic Agent would be disastrous to the Pueblos and to our church work. Political considerations have evidently induced the Secretary to believe it would be more satisfactory to the Department to have a Catholic Agent here. Personally I would rather remain here and continue the fight so that all that has been done may not be lost than to accept promotion and peace. I expect to press the matter - to as early a conclusion as possible, and if you of the Board propose to contest the matter in any way it might be well for me to know what you are going to do so that we can work in harmony. The matter will have to be worked carefully and through political influences principally I should think, without letting Mr. Teller know that you have any positive information of his intentions from any source.

Mrs. Thomas and the son are well and both are growing. The boy is a success. All send kind regards to you and Mrs. Jackson.

Yours etc.,
T.M. Thomas.

69 Dearborn St., Chicago.
December 29, 1892.

Dear Doctor Jackson:

You know our last General Assembly abolished District Superintendents of Missionary work of Board of Publication. After 25 years of service on salaries ranging from $800 to $1000, I go out on lay work without money, with ability as clerk and reading work.

Of course I have been promised a place in a Depository here, and so have not looked beyond it for work. I have, all summer supposed those promises were made to be kept. The Depository here will after all, be only a private book-store owned and run by a man selling the Board's publications on Commission. All these promises mean a clerkship in such a bookstore and one from which I should be discharged whenever the proprietor concluded I had made him acquainted with a sufficient number of Presbyterians to enable him to get along without me. Of course such a position would under all the circumstances, be a humiliation which it seems to me, I ought not to be called upon to endure unless every other door is closed against me - especially as I square my accounts with the Board and pay the balance due it to the uttermost farthing.

It is now a question whether my frail wife shall largely support me by opening a boarding house if she can borrow money enough to furnish it or whether I, able and willing to work, can find suitable work - that is, work that I can do from which to support her.

I have tried in vain to find such work here and I can't after so long an absence from it, and without money resume a profession which I was a fool for leaving.

So you know what I want and what I am about to ask on the score of a long and personal friendship.

Is there any place for me with the Board of Foreign Missions on the paper or elsewhere in which I can find good, square work for a moderate but decent compensation.

Or can you personally or through friends get me work with the American Bible Society? or somewhere else?

You know, I hope, how willingly and promptly I would try to do all this for you were our positions reversed.

Wife joins me in kindest regards to Mrs. Jackson and your self.

Yours fraternally,

C. D. Waters.

This was written some weeks ago and laid aside to await the final action of the Board - which is the offer of an appointment or Commission as Collector in Colorado. I decline it - my wife can't go there and I couldn't do that work if she could go. Pay $23.13 for every 30 days work.

ALBUQUERQUE INDIAN SCHOOL.

Albuquerque, New Mexico.

December 29, 1882.

Reverend Sheldon Jackson, D.D.

My dear Sir:

A letter recently received from Doctor Thomas encloses a copy of a letter from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs informing me that an architect is now at work upon plans for our new building. Mr. Price asked for suggestions from both Doctor Thomas and myself and I at once prepared a plan a copy of which is enclosed. As I understand the architect is at present trying to set up a plan in order to display his ability he will insist upon making one large building. If objections to that are that it will be almost impossible to enlarge the accommodations without destroying the appearance of the building and that no such building can be devised without having a large number of rooms facing the north with not a chance for a single ray of sunshine to enter.

You will see by my plans that there is room for indefinite enlargement and that every bedroom gets some sun.

I think I have made the dining-room a little small.

The Board of Trade here will pass resolutions and send them to Hon. Tranquilla Lane, our delegate in Congress, asking him to interest himself in the matter and either to secure from Secretary Teller a larger appropriation of the fund than we would otherwise receive or to secure a special appropriation. By a rough calculation I estimate that the buildings can be put up and partly furnished for $75,000. You will do us a great service if you will in some way secure for us that amount of money.

Yours very truly,
H. C. D. Bryan.

Mrs. M. E. Boyd, Treasurer:

Dear Madam:

I enclose check for seventy-five dollars being salary for fourth quarter of 1882, for Mrs. Styles our Missionary in Alaska. Please acknowledge receipt. Although we have paid three hundred dollars during this year for account of Mrs. Styles we have never received a single written word from her nor anyone about the field of labor. I am not sure that the teachers will be willing to continue this arrangement for 1883.

Very truly yours,
